NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 160, entitled

An Act concerning counties and county officers and revising amending consolidating and changing the law relating thereto.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, May I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill county, Mr. Whitehouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Yes, sir.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will proceed.

Mr. EDMONDS. I should like to ask whether House Bill No. 160, which is what I understand is called the County Code, is merely a codification of the existing laws, or does it change the existing law in any way?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. It is really a codification with very few changes.

Mr. EDMONDS. Are these changes in the line of increasing or decreasing the expenses of government?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. In some instances decreasing, and in three instances increasing.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman also whether he will explain whether it is the intent that this bill should apply to counties of the first class?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. It is.

Mr. EDMONDS. Does it affect all the county officers in counties of the first class?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Not those that are affected by special legislation.

Mr. EDMONDS. Such as what?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. I suppose you are just as well acquainted with them as I am.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman if he will tell us just what are the antecedents of this bill and by whom it was framed?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, this bill is the creature of the County Commissioner's Association and the actual work was done by the Legislature Reference Bureau. It has taken two years to complete. It has been in the committee of Judiciary General for the past two months and the sub-committee has worked faithfully on it for the last two months.

Mr. EDMONDS. Thank you very much. Let me say, Mr. Speaker, that I have some doubt in trying to work out the relationship of this county code to the city of Philadelphia, but I realize that a very hard and earnest piece of work has been done by a very large number of gentlemen, those being mentioned by the gentleman, and personally I am going to vote for the bill on faith, although I confess that it seems to me that a special provision should have been put in there in reference to the counties of the first class, which are not always harmonious; and it seems to me it would be well if those who are interested in this legislation would convey to those who have doubt of it, this opportunity to have them clarified in the Senate.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, some few years ago, there was a desire on the part of the Administration to clarify the Statutes, and in so doing, they took up several subjects and codified the same. Now, we have passed several codes in previous sessions, and we have several considered at this session, but on previous sessions, there was an understanding when a bill was prepared in the shape of a code, there would be nothing incorporated in that bill except those of live acts or acts that are in force, and the repeal of conflicting acts and obsolete acts, and an understanding was made so that the members of the House would go along with this proposition without necessitating a long and tedious and careful study of the bill. Now, this bill, known as the county code, does more than that. It has injected into the several amendments which does not carry with it good faith on the part of those who have attempted to codify the acts relative to counties. I will refer to a clause or a section on page 73, section 245, which attempts to change the salary of the County Commissioners of the counties of the fifth class, and those are the counties which I represent. It makes an increase of $500.00 per year for each commissioner. It also makes a provision for the increase of deputy district attorneys of from one to two. Now, I think that this is not the right way to introduce legislation in this House. We like to have faith in all pieces of legislation, or at least when the sponsor says that there is not new matter injected into a bill as large as this, that has over five hundred pages. It is almost inexhaustive, and it is beyond reason to expect any member of this Legislature to carefully read and digest and act intelligently upon a bill of this character if it is going to carry with it a lot of amendments, and I think it is not the proper way to enact legislation at this time. It is more in the form of a blanket bill, attempting to make certain amendments, that ought to appear before this House in separate bills, and therefore I will be obliged to vote against this bill.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to talk much on this bill, because it would take two weeks to go through this and explain it, but I do say that it repeals close onto four hundred fifty Acts of Assembly, and if for no other reason, it ought to pass. The gentleman had two months to make an objection on his $500.00 raise and he had his second hearing to make it on, and now he comes at this late date with it, and in fairness to the people back of the bill I am going to ask you to vote for it. If there are amendments to be made to the bill, let them be made in the Senate.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I question whether there is a member in the House that has read this entire bill, and as I have already stated, I believed that this code had nothing foreign injected into it from that which is already on the statute books, therefore, I had taken this bill in good faith, and I was apprised of the fact of these amendments being there, and therefore I object to the passage of this bill on that account.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Gorham.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 485 (Senate Bill No. 159), entitled:

An Act to amend section one hundred of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the same bill that was on third reading calendar a few evenings ago, at which time when it was called up, I called your attention to a few of its provisions, and the sponsor agreed to postpone it, or a member of the House requested that the bill be postponed, because of the fact that it was a Senate bill. I am very sorry to have to take this position on this bill. I was advised that the member of the Senate, or the Senator who introduced the bill by request, and those who are interested in the measure would make some provision for taking care of the unfortunate situation which this bill will create if it is enacted into law. As I say, unfortunately, nothing along this line has been done. It was put on the postponed list, and is now called up for final passage. This bill amends section 100 of the county code. Section 100 as originally approved provides that no person shall be eligible to an office in any township of the first class unless he is an elector of the township for which he is chosen. Now, that provision, ladies and gentlemen, is all right, but this amendment that is added to it provides, "No person shall be eligible to any office in any township of the first class unless he is an elector of the township for which he is chosen, nor shall any employee of the township or any officer or employee of the school district of such township be eligible to the office of township commissioner." I hope you will bear in mind and get the distinction of the things that this bill provides, for it is very important when we have a mere fifty first class townships in this State, if this bill is enacted into law it will make it impossible for any member of a school board in any first class township, or any man who may be employed in the minor position of janitor, or principal of schools, or anything of that kind in connection with that school district in that township from serving as a township commissioner. All over this state we have these various municipalities, or divisions of municipalities, interlocking. We will have a township commissioner who is serving on the school board of the first class township and there is absolutely no reason under the sun that he should not be qualified to do that. I am betraying no confidence when I say that this bill was introduced by request, and I say to you further that this bill is special legislation, passed for the purpose of meeting one situation in the state, and there is no reason why almost all of the fifty first class townships should have their municipal affairs disorganized in order to remedy a supposed situation in one county, and disarrange the municipal affairs of 46 other townships in this state. In my mind, if this bill is passed it will rip out of office some of the men who are serving in one position as an employee of the school board, and serving at the same time as township commissioner on the township board of commissioners. These offices are absolutely distinct and separate municipal positions; do not interlock in any way that they should be incompatible. For that reason I ask you to not support this bill because of the bad effect that it has on the 46 other first class townships throughout this state.

On the question, recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 928, entitled

An Act providing for and regulating the public printing and binding the editing for publication and the distribution of all documents reports bulletins and other publications for the use of the Commonwealth the several departments boards commissions and other agencies engaged in the legislative judicial and administrative work of the State government the sale of waste paper the appointment of a Director and other employes and repealing inconsistent and conflicting legislation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, with your permission, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Long, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LONG. Yes, sir.

Mr. GOSS. Will the gentleman please tell to the members of the House what change this bill makes from those conditions now in existence.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill would seek to repeal an antedeluvian act which has caused the State to expend a vast amount of money in excess of actual printing costs, which has caused a great deal of useless matter to have been printed and to have cluttered up your waste basket and which only as recently as today has practically exhausted your patience. Under the old act there are but two printing contracts, one for the Legislative Journal, which is a relatively small bit of work; the other for every bit of printing and binding in connection with the Commonwealth. The manner in which this printing and binding is let is such that practically all of it would have to go either to a printer living in Harrisburg or to a man who would move here and establish a printing plant. At present the one printer has both contracts. The bidding on this printing under the act, which we hope to repeal, is simply a gamble. A certain maximum price is fixed from which price the man who receives the contract as State Printer bids a certain percentage of. These prices having been made some years ago are relatively low, yet at the same time makes it possible for the state printer to put in a very large part of the printing as special and charge for that at rates which he pleases. The printing of the Commonwealth, and that means the printing and binding alone, because the state buys its own paper, cost during the biennium, I am told, $1,400,000. Under the new act which would create what is believed to be an up-to-date business method of handling this work. It provides for the Director of Publications, who shall have five years experience in editorial work, and who shall be a practical printer. A Board consisting of this Director, the Governor of the State, the State Treasurer and the Auditor General, shall have charge of all of these schedules, and the alloting of the contract. Instead of the contract simply going to one printer, and where it must go now to a printer living in the city of Harrisburg, or who will move to the city of Harrisburg. With the exception of printing the calendar which is emergency matter like the Legislative Journal, and a few other miscellaneous items, this printing can go to any establishment in the state. The doors are thrown wide open for competitive bidding. Your fine printing establishments in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, and even in the smaller cities of the State have an opportunity to bid for this printing. The schedules must be prepared by this Board and advertised in the newspapers of Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, and in five other newspapers in the state. You can readily see with competition that under these conditions you will get what is a fair rate for this work. I am told by the present Superintendent of Public Printing that, in his opinion, this will save at least one-half a million dollars in a biennium, and one half million dollars is not to be ignored in this present effort toward economy.

Insofar as the Departments are concerned, instead of a Department simply going ahead and printing whatever it may please, and you know the tremenduous amount of useless matter that has cluttered up your mails, the Director of Publications and the Governor must pass judgment before this matter is printed.

So far as the House is concerned, the officers of the House, the Director of Publications and the Governor will be the Board. In the Senate, their officers, the Director and the Governor will be the Board, and so in the Supreme Court.

Every effort is made to eliminate wasteful and useless printing.

So far as I can find the only opposition to this bill lies in the fact that we have a strike at the present time in the state printery which has lasted about 22 months, and which resulted in the Legislative Journal not appearing for nearly one year after the session of 1921 had ended, and which was the cause of this House practically doing no work last Wednesday. While I believe that union labor will have to be considered, union labor will have ample opportunity to secure this work instead of it all going to one shop. It will go to union shops and to open shops, and I see no reason why this bill should be sniped at for this cause. The new bill makes the salary of the Director of Publications, $7000. The salary of the present Superintendent of Public Printing is $5000, but the present job of the Superintendent of Public Printing is simply that of a rubber stamp clerk. As director of this new department he must be an editor of five years experience, and he must be a practical printer, and he will have a business field as large as that of the average metropolitan newspaper. You will readily agree with me that the man who occupies the position of an editor and business manager of such a newspaper as this man is both, could not be obtained for twice the salary, consequently I feel that this is not a salary raiser, it is a new department. To you gentlemen who are opposing the bill, believing that you are opposed to the Administration code on general principles, I want to say that this bill has nothing whatever to do with the code. It will merge with the code or it will stand alone without the code. It is a bill, which in my opinion, as a newspaper editor and publisher for over twenty-five years, would cover the situation as thoroughly as it could be covered. It is not a perfect bill, but it is as nearly perfect as can be had, and I am absolutely confident and I am sure after reading and looking over all its provisions you will agree that it will save the State a great amount of money. We will have our printing diversified so that we can never get into the snarl that we have been in this past year or more due to a printer's strike, and I hope you will vote for the bill—not as an administration bill, but as a straight out-and-out business proposition.

Mr. GOSS. Will you explain to the members of the House the necessity of passing this bill at this particular session, when the present contract with the State Printer does not expire until June 30, 1925, after the 1925 session adjourns.

Mr. LONG. I will do that with pleasure. It is true that the present contract does not expire until July 1, 1925, but under this old law, which we would repeal, it is provided specifically that the schedules must be prepared and let in February preceding that July, and I leave it to you gentlemen if it would not be a physical impossibility to prepare and pass a bill of that kind in February, this session practically starting the latter part of January. Futhermore, the contract, the present contract, could be terminated for cause, and we have really had in a very recent few weeks a good reason for terminating it. If this bill should pass, it might be entirely possible to terminate this contract and get back to a business basis, but aside from that, which I don't think it is likely to occur, it would be physically impossible for the Legislature of 1925 to prepare and pass a bill early in February by which time the law says a bill must be passed and the matter must be advertised to take effect on July 1, 1925.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Long, will you kindly inform the members of the House what the salary was that was received by the Superintendent of Printing in 1919?

Mr. LONG. I was not a member of this House in 1919. I do not know. I know that the present salary is $5,000.00.

Mr. GOSS. This bill calls for an increase of $2000.00.

Mr. LONG. I say it is not an increase; it is an entirely new and different department, creating a man's-sized business job, instead of a rubber stamp job where a man has no authority whatsoever, or we wouldn't be in the condition we are at present.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Long, do you think as a publisher that it is good business policy to disregard the schedules as now existing in the present law to place it in the hands of the director of this particular department?

Mr. LONG. The schedules are not placed in the hands of this particular department. The schedules are placed in the hands of the director, the State Treasurer, the Auditor General and the Governor, and I think that is good business.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, and members of this House, I don't desire to be placed in a position of being one of the members as being beligerent, but if ever there was a bill presented to this House for your serious consideration that is in a blanket form, unbusinesslike and with absolutely no merit, the bill that you have under consideration is that one bill. In the first place, it is absolutely a salary raiser of $2000.00. When you take into consideration that previous to 1917, the Superintendent of Printing received $3000.00 in the session of 1919, he was raised to $5000, and in the session of 1923 they come into this House and ask the members of this House to raise the salary to $7000.00. The reason I consider that this bill has been introduced at this session is nothing more than to give Mr. Detrich an increased salary of 2,000.00, which takes effect thirty days after the passage of this bill, providing it meets with your approval. The other portion of this bill does not take effect until June or July, 1925, so you can see the inconsistency of the bill. I have no personal grudge against Mr. Detrich. He accepted the position tendered to him by the Governor of this State in January, and four months after he comes here and makes application for a $2000.00 increase. The other objectionable features to this bill that I have in mind, a particularly obnoxious feature of this bill that I have in mind at this particular time, is doing away with the safeguard of the schedule fixed by the law at the present time and placing it into the hand of the director. If Mr. Detrich, or whoever framed this bill were sincere, absolutely sincere, and thoroughly understood his business as a printer, as a business man, he would have had those schedules incorporated into this bill in order to give us some idea as to what he desires. The third feature, or rather, I want to say, in connection with this schedule proposition, it will be one of the greatest weapons for collusion and dishonesty that you have ever anticipated.

The third provision of this bill, particularly in section four, which permits the printing, binding and various classifications of this bill. This portion of the bill, ladies and gentlemen is one of a very serious nature. It is placing in the hands of the master printers not only of the city of Harrisburg, but the adjacent territory, absolute control of the work to be done by the State Government. There is nothing to prevent the master printers from coming to a gentlemen's understanding, sit around a round table, and by this classification, John will take that portion of it, Bill the other portion, Harry the other portion, and the consequence is, no printer could absolutely compete with them when it comes down to specializing under certain classes of work and there is nothing under this bill that will prevent it, and that in itself is a very serious objection, in my mind.

The fourth objection that I have is that it gives the power to the directors,—of course, the balance of this board, as my friend, Mr. Long, referred to, the Governor, the Treasurer, and the Auditor General will be advised, no doubt, by the director of this particular department. This bill, ladies and gentlemen of this House, gives this particular individual absolute authority to appoint as many employees as he desires. It not only does that, but it gives him absolute authority to place the amount of money that they are to receive in compensation for performing this duty. It is creating a political situation that is worse than any that ever existed in this State, and if we came here as members of this House to clean up a mess and a department head of the Administration will introduce such a bill as that, I want to tell you and go on record very emphatically that you are getting into a worse mess than we are trying to extricate ourselves from at the present time.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Long, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LONG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHITEMAN. I should like to ask the sponsor of the bill, that while it may be true that the schedules run until 1925, if it is not also true that by this bill the State Printing Department will be given authority whereby the department can restrict the publication of many useless pamphlets and documents now being gotten out, and therefore, saving to the state a great amount of money now being practically wasted?

Mr. LONG. The gentleman from Westmoreland is absolutely correct in that matter. Under the present helter skelter method of printing, the license department of the automobile division printed in pamphlet form, which is sent out to every member of this House, every justice of the peace and practically every man of consequence in the state, a big book several times a month containing the license numbers which was used entirely for commercial purposes; for advertisers to write to people who had automobiles and attempting to sell them all kind of accessories, and that pamphlet was always so frightfully late that it was of no use whatsoever for the purpose for which it was printed, which was to take care of the violators of the law. This is only one instance; there are hundreds of instances of this kind, and it will save a tremendous amount of money.

Mr. WHITEMAN. I feel certain, Mr. Speaker, that if the members of this House could have been present at the hearing before the Committee on Appropriations when the Superintendent of Printing appeared before us, and when he frankly told to that committee many of the abuses which had crept into the Department, many of the ways in which the law as it now stands fails to meet the situation as the present day demands it, I am sure that they would all be glad that the State Superintendent of Printing has gone ahead and introduced this bill. He has prepared it with care, and it has been prepared by a practical man of experience in the printing business. It has received the endorsement of those who know something about printing. It meets the needs, as he explained to the Appropriations Committee, and it seems to me that we all ought to be for this bill because we all know of our own knowledge that in hundreds of cases the state is paying for waste printing, printing which eventually finds its way into the waste basket and which in the interim serves no good purpose. As a practical printer and publisher, I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that the schedules under which the printing department is operating at the present time constitutes a mere gamble and nothing more. Hundreds of legitimate bidders would not attempt to bid under the schedules as they now exist, and that is the situation that the State Superintendent of Printing wishes to abolish and the sooner we can abolish that the better it will be for the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, as a general proposition, I concur in what the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goss, has said, but I would like to point out specifically one item in this bill, and that is section 3 which is especially obnoxious. I would like to see any act to improve the printing situation, but it seems to me that this bill has gone a considerable distance in so far as section 3 is concerned, where it provides that the Governor and the Director of Publications can hire any number of men that they see fit, and they can set the salaries at any amount that they may desire. It seems to me that that is going too far, in giving power to a director, with the approval of the Governor, in the creation of new offices, and it certainly is an office creator and a salary raiser in my opinion. And then if you will turn to section 15, you will see that the qualifications are so termed that undoubtedly they are for some particular individual possibly the gentleman who has prepared this bill, and therefore, I say as it now stands it should be defeated.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goss, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOSS. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LONG. Is the gentleman from Allegheny a practical printer?

Mr. GOSS. Yes, I am.

Mr. LONG. Does the gentleman from Allegheny have charge of a printing shop?

Mr. GOSS. Yes sir, I do.

Mr. LONG. Is the gentleman from Allegheny also an editor?

Mr. GOSS. I have been in years gone by, yes.

Mr. LONG. Didn't the gentleman from Allegheny raise to me, as one of his objections to this bill, that if the bill eliminated the qualification that a man be an editor he would be for the bill?

Mr. GOSS. I told you also, Mr. Long, that I did'nt think it was fair, if you understood me correctly, I didn't think it was fair for Mr. Detrich or anyone else to put in this bill such qualifiactions as that, for it has been my experience for the past 35 years that a qualified or competent printer will never accept editorial work for the simple reason that the competent printer is an exceptionally good proof reader, and a good editor in most respects, and receives from five to twenty dollars a week more than the editorial writers, or those employed in the editorial rooms, and as a consequence I gave my conclusion that this man Detrich, or whoever may be his successor, tried to protect themselves in this certain position and made it obligatory in this bill to have a gentleman with editorial experience for five years and disregarded the ability of one who can read proof and also do a little editing.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the gentleman from Allegheny with a great deal of careful attention because ordinarily what he says carries weight, but I am bound to say that now it does not do so for two or three reasons. The first is that Mr. Detrich appeared before the Committee on Appropriations, and I think I am safe in saying that there was not a member of that Committee who did not feel that the past conducting of this department constituted one of the abuses that ought to be corrected Mr. Detrich presented to us at that time some clear cut reasons for the new plan which is embodied in this legislation. What were the abuses in the past? First, a tremendous lot of printing which is simply wasted, that is to say lots of this printing, which was small reports, was so late that by the time the printer was done with it the use for it was passed, and then after a few years they are just sold for waste paper; that is one abuse. And what is the second abuse? The method of letting bids for the printing which is required by existing legislation, whereby there is just one bid for one style and forms of printing, some of which printing may be in the form of a brief report, some may be in form of a book, some may be illustrated, some may be plain, and all kinds of work. It is the kind of work that requires an appeal to the resources of different plants, and that cannot be done under existing legislation. Now, to my mind it is a good thing to have as the head of the department a man who is both an editor and a printer, for the duties that are put on him by the law are first of all the duty of preparing and editing the reports, and then secondly, to see that the printing is done. To my mind, it is a good thing also that the head of the department is under the supervision of the elective officials, the State Treasurer and the Auditor General, and that he should have the right to divide that work into as many contracts as seems expedient, and at the same time to bring in the resources of a number of plants. To my mind it is a very good thing that there should be some supervision over the great quantity of reports that are issued.

Now, Mr. Speaker, this is the first of the bills that have come before this House that have for their object the reduction or the minimizing of expenditures of the State Government. We have been told in the Appropriations Committee that it would be possible to save $300,000 in this department if this elasticity was given in the form of the bids. I ask you, Mr. Speaker, when we have this proposition put before us by experienced men, that by a change in our legislation we can save this money for the people of the State, with what good grace can we ourselves appeal to our constituents when we refuse to save the money? To my mind it is perfectly clear that when we have a department that is abused at the present time, when we have evils that we know exist, it is the duty of those who desire the government of Pennsylvania to be established on a sound business-like basis, it is their duty to support legislation that will give us a chance to put these economies into operation.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the argument for and against the bill. While the parties in favor of this bill are telling us that it is a revenue saver, at the same time, the bill calls for additional salary, and I cannot see the consistency. They are talking about cleaning up the mess. If we listen to a half dozen members in this House, who would make us believe that every member of this House is dishonest but themselves, we will never get anywhere, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Whitehouse, Heyburn, Alexander, Craig, Edmonds, Fratt, Orr, Conner, Jefferson W. Smith, Burns, Colville, Fields, Weamer, Horne, Long, McCurdy, Holcombe, Diehm and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Albert,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 920, as follows:

An Act to amend Section one of the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and sixty-nine) entitled "An act making it unlawful to trespass upon land posted as private property and providing the penalty therefor"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and sixty-nine) entitled "An Act making it unlawful to trespass upon land posted as private property and providing the penalty therefor" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That from and after the passage of this it shall be unlawful for any person wilfully to enter upon any land within the limits of this Commonwealth where the owner or owners of said land has caused to be prominently posted upon said land printed notices that the said land is private property and warning all persons from trespassing thereon under the penalties provided in this act Provided That the provisions of this act shall be contrued to include State institutions and land apurtenant thereto

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Gorham,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 984, entitled:

An Act providing for the taxation modification remission and collection of all fees received by the several prothonotaries and the several clerks of the courts of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bluett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to expain the purpose of the bill.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of this bill is simply to permit the courts of the Commonwealth, upon cause being shown, to have the power to remit or modify the costs in cases involving not more than one hundred dollars. The primary purpose of it is so that in the city of Philadelphia, particularly, and I presume it might apply to other counties as well, especially to the county of Allegheny, we have a number of small cases that are brought before the court, especially before our municipal courts, involving less than one hundred dollars, and it means in many cases that people have to pay the regular amount of costs, especially where there are poor people, and it is the thought of this bill that the court, upon cause being shown, may modify the costs. In other words, it gives the court the right to reduce the costs, the regular costs of suits, or to remove them altogether, if proper cause is shown to the court. There is nothing obligatory on the court and I venture to say in very few instances will it be acted upon, that is a reduction of the cost by the court, because it is my experience that the court wants all the costs it can get. It is the thought that we should have a poor man's court in the city of Philadelphia, as well as anywhere else that they might want to apply it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Does the municipal court of Philadelphia have original jurisdiction in sums of less than one hundred dollars?

Mr. BLUETT. It does now.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, you don't start your suits for one hundred dollars before a magistrate.

Mr. BLUETT. No.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, you can very readily see from this bill that it applies to no court except the municipal court and the county court of Allegheny and Philadelphia. Outside of that, the original jurisdiction is in the justice of the peace office, as suits of one hundred dollars or less are not brought within the Common Pleas Court throughout the country. I cannot see for the life of me any reason for a bill of this kind. If a man appeals from the justice of the peace, he goes into court, and there should be no reason why there should be any less cost or why a litigant that loses should not pay the full costs. I do not see why we should encumber our statute books with Acts of Assembly of this kind.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I only want to reiterate again that there are many instances in Philadelphia, especially, where it would be advantageous to have an act of this kind where it would give the judge a right, upon proper cause being shown to him, to either modify the fee or remove them altogether. It is true in outside counties that suits of this character, especially suits in action of trespass or assumpsit are brought before the justice of the peace, but we will find in Philadelphia, and I think you no doubt find it in Allegheny and other places, that it is not very advantageous to proceed before a magistrate for the collection of claims, and so, by reason of the fact that our municipal courts have original jurisdiction in actions involving these small sums, it is with that idea that the court may fix their court charges different from those in other cases.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the bill before you is the bill known as the bill creating the poor man's court in Philadelphia. For ten years past our municipal co judges have endeavored to establish a poor man's court small claim collections. If a laborer is employed and his wages amount to from ten to twelve dollars a week, he gets a lawyer or a magistrate and it costs him $3.50 for a summons, and then if he takes a transcript, he pays 75 cem for that and 75 cents for filing it, and then a docket fee of $3.00, and so all along the line, so, in Philadelphia, where we have poor men who have small caims from $10.00 to $15.00 or $20.00, they really get no justice, they cannot go to any court to collect it. Judge Brown is endeavoring to establish a small claims court. He has a clerk who listens to the claimants, writes up their claims without cost, and then the summons goes out. The prothonotary charges $2.25, the sheriff $2.30 or $2.50, and if the man has not got work, he goes without the opportunity to collect his wages. The thought of Judge Brown in this bill is to enable a man to pay as low as 25 cents for a summons, if that is all he has got. The thought in back of the bill is to enable these men to get justice, and I would ask you to vote on the bill and help Judge Brown along in this laudable cause.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Kennedy,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 745 (Senate Bill No. 98), entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight (Pamphlet Laws seventy-three) entitled " A supplement to an act relating to counties and townships and county and township officers approved April fifteenth one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four relating to public buildings"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if there is anyone in the House who can explain this bill.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the question of the gentleman from Delaware I would say that the purpose of the bill is to repeal the act of April 8th, 1868, P. L. 73; the reason for the repeal is that the Supreme Court in Wayne County Commissioners Appeal, 4 W. N. C. 414, held that it was not repealed by the General Act of 1874. By the terms of the act of 1868, where a county builds a new courthouse or erects an addition to an existing courthouse and there is not sufficient money in the treasury to pay for the improvement, then the county can borrow sufficient money to make the improvement, but they can only issue bonds payable in ten years. Short terms bonds will not sell nearly so well as long term bonds. Every security required by the act of 1868 is completely given by the act of 1874, and it should therefore be repealed. This bill was introduced by Senator Craig, and in his county, which is also my own county, Beaver county, they are building an addition to the courthouse which will entail a bond issue of possibly $100,000. Because of this particular act we cannot sell these bonds for a longer period than ten years, and it will mean a great loss to the county. There is no reason why they should not sold under the same terms and conditions as other bonds. For that reason I would ask you to support this bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1143 (Senate Bill No. 292), entitled:

An Act to amend section ten of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, (P. L. 403), entitled "An Act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over, prescribing his duties, and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call your attention to the fact that this bill is practically the same as the House Bill which was defeated in this House about a week ago. It changes contracts from one hundred to three hundred dollars. In other words the old law provides that commissioners making expenditures exceeding one hundred dollars shall have it in writing. This raises it to three hundred dollars. As was said before the best advice any lawyer can give anybody, whether it be a corporation or an individual, is to have all contracts in writing I cannot understand why these contracts cannot all be in writing especially when it is for the protection of the public, the protection of the county, and the protection of the commissioners even themselves. All that is needed is a letter making a bid and an answer back accepting that bid, that is your contract in writing. Why they want to change it I cannot understand. As I say, this bill in the House was defeated about a week ago and now it comes over from the Senate.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I understand this measure, it simply provides that the county commissioners shall not be obliged to advertise for anything less than three hundred dollars. It seems to be a rather small question to compel the commissioners to advertise when the cost is as little as one hundred dollars. We certainly ought to have sufficient confidence in our commissioners to permit them to buy something for the sm ll sum of one hundred dollars or two hundred and fifty dollars without being obliged to advertise it. I think this bill has merit on its face.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would like to call the attention of the House to what the gentleman has said, to the fact that while it is true that the latter part of this act does relieve from advertising, they have also stuck into the bill that was defeated in this House not long ago, that is, that a contract for less than three hundred dollars need not be in writing. That part of the bill we defeated, but now they have connected that with a bill covering advertising. The advertising might be proper but to say that they don't have to have in writing a contract I don't think is proper.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, in order that this bill may be given a little further consideration I move that it be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1151, (Senate Bill No. 411), entitled:

An act to amend part of section one of the act approved the tenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and forty-nine) entitled "An act to fix the number of Senators in the General Assembly of the State to apportion the State into senatorial districts as provided by the Constitution and to regulate the election of and the terms of office of the present and future elected Senators"

NAYS—1.

Behney,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 612, as follows:

An Act authorizing the election of a solicitor of townships by supervisors of second class townships in county convention assembled defining the duties of said solicitor of townships regulating the salary and the manner of payment thereof to the solicitor of townships

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in every county in this Commonwealth the township supervisors of second class townships at any annual convention held in accordance with existing law may elect by a vote of a majority of the supervisors present one person learned in the law who shall be styled the solicitor of townships and who shall serve for the term of two years from the date of his election.

Section 2 The law matters of the various townships shall be under the superintendence discretion and control of the solicitor of townships He shall whenever required furnish the supervisors of any township within the county with his opinion in writing upon any question of law which may be submitted by any of them in their official capacities

Section 3 The annual salary of the solicitor of townships elected under the provisions of this act shall be not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars per annum and shall be paid in all cases by the townships in such proportions among them as the majority of the supervisors in convention assembled may decide The salary of the solicitor of townships shall be paid every six months

Section 4 All laws or parts of law inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, this bill provides for new jobs in second-class townships or counties of the second class, the supervisors are empowered to elect a solicitor known as a solicitor of townships of second class counties. The salary, the minimum is placed at $500.00 per annum, and the maximum at $2,000.00. The solicitor is elected for two years. It is true the bill provides that the solicitor shall be learned in the law, but unfortunately, the men who are well learned in the law rarely seek these positions. It seems to be unethical for good lawyers, or any lawyer for that matter, to make application for a position of that kind. Therefore, in most cases, instead of the best talent securing these positions it is those of mediocre or, in many cases, very inferior talent that are selected as solicitors for boroughs, and in many cases even for counties. Now, suppose that a man is selected who is incompetent, and the townships, one or more of them, may have litigation on their hands that requires the best legal talent, these townships are compelled to employ this inferior lawyer, or in the event that they have no faith in his ability that he can carry their troubles through to a successful conclusion, then they must, in sheer self-defense, employ a lawyer of reputation to conduct or to be the chief in that litigation, so that instead of paying $500.00 or $1,000.00, or $2,000.00, they may pay a much greater sum than that, and in the event that there is no litigation of any kind, the townships generally get along pretty well together, the retaining fee would be no less than $500.00, and as I said before, not more than $2,000.00, and what is to prevent the tax-payers of those townships in that particular county from being compelled to pay $2,000.00 for services not rendered? Fellow members, I don't believe in creating any useless jobs. We have too many of them now. The people are already burdened with a load of taxation, and why saddle more on them? Why provide some lawyer with a soft snap?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the first place, this bill does not mean a job. This bill simply points out the way by which supervisors in second-class townships in annual convention assembled may, if they so desire,—there is nothing mandatory in it,—they may, if they so desire, by a majority vote elect a person as solicitor of townships, joining together as solicitors of townships at a salary of not less than $500.00 nor more than $2,000.00. That is all there is to it. No lawyer is seeking a job. As a matter of fact, I have introduced this bill at the request of supervisors of the second-class townships of the county of Lycoming, from which I come. The supervisors of second-class townships under law, are authorized to meet in annual convention at the county seat. That is only permissible. It is not mandatory. In most of the counties, throughout the Commonwealth, they avail themselves of that opportunity. They come together in annual convention, and discuss matters pertaining to the welfare of the duties of their office, and have men there, usually, from the Highway Department with a number of subjects pertaining to road building, and it is in that convention that these supervisors, if they so desire, may join together and elect a solicitor who will represent them in legal matters as a number of townships instead of as individual townships. The thought back of the whole bill is this: Almost every township at some time or other during the year necessarily must get some solicitor anyway, get some legal advice on some questions pertaining to the duties of their office. It so happens that the smaller townships, the ones who can ill afford to pay a lawyer for those services, have the most work for a lawyer to do; and this would enable these smaller townships and these poorer townships to join with the richer townships and hire a man at a salary that is worth while, that he could give them plenty of time, and they will get in that way the opinion and the services of a man who is more or less expert on matters pertaining to those annual duties of the county supervisors.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I can't see the necessity for the passage of this bill. Can the townships, as the law stands now, employ their solicitors and pay them whatever salary they want to pay them?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. The townships can, that is true, but not in annual conventions, and this simply clarifies the method by which the solicitor may be appointed by majority votes of the supervisors in annual convention assembled.

Mr. BREWSTER. Well, I can't see anything that will prevent of the townships from employing a solicitor as the law stands now. I can't see the reason of an act of Assembly, whether it is in convention or whether it is done as a township.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 — 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRIBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, ARPIL 11, 1923. No. 38.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1923.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Rev. L. D. Thomas, a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, we come before Thee at this time in the attitude of dutiful children. We recognize our need of Thy help, and we know that our infirmities and our failures are obvious and apparent unto Thee. We know our needs are just this this morning, that unless we can be conscious of Thy presence, we will not be able to do that that will be for the best interests of our State. Help us, then, Lord, to remember Thee and Thy willingness to help and grant that everything we do may redound to Thy honor and to the glory of Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Miss MARTHA G. THOMAS, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time. This bill was given to me to present and refers to the tipstaves and court criers. It was discovered, after the bill was sent to the Governor, that the power to fix the salary was not included anywhere, and for that reason the bill, as passed, was defective. There was a resolution introduced to recall the bill from the Governor, but the Governor had already signed the bill. In order to correct that error, I would ask unanimous consent to introduce at this time the identical bill, but with that correction in it.

The SPEAKER. Are there objections?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have already made an explanation to the House about this bill. As I said, it was introduced by me by request. It increases the salaries of the tipstaves in counties having between ninety and one hundred fifty thousand population, from $65.00 to $75.00 a month, provided the court shall give its consent. In other words, the salary shall not be in excess of $75.00 a month. Now, that bill was passed by the House and Senate, and it was then found that there had been an omission, namely, that there was no power in the court or for the county commissioners to pay that salary. If this bill does not pass, it will leave the law with respect to the salaries of the tipstaves in a very anomalous position. This bill is merely to correct that error. We passed a resolution to recall the bill from the Governor, but at that time, the Governor had already signed the bill. It is not a new piece of legislation in any sense of the word, and I would ask the person who made the objection that it be withdrawn so that the present law can be properly clarified.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, after the explanation of the gentleman from York, I am willing to withdraw my objection.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection, and the bill will be received.

By Mr. SPANGLER. HOUSE BILL No. 1411.

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, eighty-six), entitled "An Act regulating the compensation of court criers and tipstaves in counties containing more than ninety thousand and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants providing for the payment of the same by the particular county limiting the number of tipstaves to be appointed; and repealing an act of Assembly entitled 'An Act to regulate the fees of court criers and tipstaves of the courts in judicial districts containing more than ninety thousand and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants' approved the twenty-ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine" as amended.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. FLYNN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 846, file folio 3953.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 846, as follows:

An Act to amend (e) and (f) of section three hundred and six and clause seven of section three hundred and seven of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended and providing when the same shall become effective

General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That clause (e) of section three hundred and six of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" which was amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) entitled "An act to amend an act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' and providing when the same shall become effective" is hereby further amended to read as follows

From the time the disability begins the employer shall furnish reasonable hospital care medicines and supplies when and as needed unless the employee refuses to allow them to be furnished by the employer Compensation for such hospital care medicines and supplies shall in no case exceed the prevailing charge in any community in which the services are rendered and like hospital care medicines and supplies to other individuals in like circumstances Compensation to the hospital shall not include the services of a medical doctor or surgeon but compensation for such services must be paid directly to any medical doctor or surgeon furnishing such medical and surgical services

Resident internes serving in hospitals are denied the right to collect fees for services rendered injured employees under this act

Any medical doctor surgeon hospital or institution treating an injured employee under the Workmen's Compensation Act shall within one week after the beginning of such treatment furnish the employer or his insurance carrier a certificate stating that such medical surgical or hospital service is being rendered

If the employee shall refuse reasonable surgical medical and hospital services medicines and supplies tendered to him by his employer he shall forfeit all right to compensation for any injury or any increase in his incapacity shown to have resulted from such refusal

Any medical doctor or surgeon hospital or institution incorporated or otherwise shall be and have the right of party in interest in any proceedings had or begun under the provisions of this act and shall have the right originally to file a petition for compensation for any such services medicines and supplies furnished under the provisions thereof

Wherever the conditions are such that the employer is unable to furnish medical and surgical services medicines and supplies hospital or institutional care medicines and supplies and the treatment care and supplies be furnished in an emergency wherein the absence of the employer or the condition of the employee make it impossible for such employer to provide such services medicines and supplies or for the employee to procure them for himself said services treatment care medicines and supplies shall be paid for by the employer to the medical doctor or surgeon for such medical treatment and supplies and to the hospital or other institution for such care and supplies at the usual rates in the community for such emergency service

Section 2 That clause (f) of section three hundred and six of said act is hereby further amended to read as follows

(f) Should the employee die as a result of the injury the period during which compensation shall be payable to his dependents under section three hundred and seven of this article shall be reduced by the period during which compensation was paid to him in his lifetime under this section of this article No reduction shall be made for the amount which may have been paid for medical and surgical services and medicines nor for the expenses of the last sickness and burial Compensation for medical and surgical services medicines and supplies also hospital care medicines and supplies shall be paid for as hereinbefore required under the act irrespective of whether the employee dies within the ten day period or not Should the employee die from some other cause than the injury the liability for compensation shall cease That the first paragraph of clause seven of section three hundred and seven of said act is hereby further amended to read as follows

Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid the reasonable expenses of the last sickness and burial (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses) payable to the dependents or if there be no dependents then to the personal representatives of the deceased

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Strike out on page 6 lines four to thirteen inclusive.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 73, as follows:

An Act to amend section one article six chapter seven of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "Providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one article six chapter seven of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" which was as amended by an act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred and seventy-one) entitled "An act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled 'An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs'" is hereby further amended to read as follows

"Section 1 Appointed officers of the borough shall receive such compensation for their services as the council shall prescribe and the compensation for the secretary and police shall be by annual salary the amount of which shall be fixed at the time of appointment and shall be in lieu of all and any other compensation whatsoever

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr Speaker and members of the House, I call your attention to this bill, and to some of the facts in it. The borough code provides for a budget system; it provides that at the beginning of each year the borough authorities shall provide a budget, setting out therein all their expenditures; it provides also for the employment of counsel, or a solicitor to represent the borough during the year; it provides that the authorities shall at that time fix his salary and it also provides what the attorney's or the solicitor's duties shall be. The fees of many attorneys representing boroughs and municipalities were many times extravagant and large. For instance, I know of one small township in our county in which the township solicitor received before the code of the townships went into effect, for very little work, pretty nearly two thousand dollars. The code was provided just for that purpose. You may think prehaps it is strange that I am attackng this bill, having been a solicitor for a number of boroughs and a number of townships, but in order to protect those townships and those boroughs against that very feature the budget system was provided for, and the appointment of a solicitor was provided for, and it is provided that his fee shall be fixed at that time, and that he can charge no more no matter how much work he would do. Now, how is the borough going to fix this budget if they are going to leave the question of the attorney's fee open. Why should a borough leave this question of attorney's fees open any more than a township, or any more than anybody else who employes counsel. They know practically what the amount of work of the township or the borough is going to be, and while some of us perhaps think a solicitor had a little more work to do the year before, year in and year out it takes care of itself. I find no hardship, as solicitor, that the fee has been fixed, they have generally been fair, and it surely prevents a borough counsel from running away on the matter of fees, and helps the borough authorities fix its budget at a fixed amount. It seems to me that the borough code as it exists, relative to attorney's fees, is fair for both the borough and the solicitor. I say that because I represent a number of boroughs and a number of townships in the County of Delaware.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I introduced this bill by request. I don't represent personally any boroughs in my county or in any other county, and I rather regret that some of the members of the legal profession who do represent boroughs did not introduce this piece of legislation. However, I am aware of this fact, that in a great many boroughs the borough solicitor's salary is exceedingly. One borough, for instance, that I have in mind I think pays its borough solicitor twenty-five dollars a year. A lawyer is not expected to do very much work for twenty-five dollars a year, yet under the borough code as it exists the borough solicitor would not be able to charge any additional fee for services, for instance, in the matter of issuing bonds for the borough, or for defending, for example, a large law suit that might be lodged against the borough for damages. The purpose was to amend this bill in such a way as to provide that the borough counsel might be permitted to charge additional fees for services rendered, where extraordinary services were rendered, but it was found that such a provision would conflict with the borough law. The result was that the bill was changed to its present form. Now, there is nothing to prevent, under the provisions of this bill the boroughs from fixing the salary of the borough solicitors as they do at the present time, but it will permit the borough to pay that counsel fee or a salary, commensurate with the legal work performed for the borough which they cannot do at the present time. The result is that when a borough solicitor has a large case to try he is required to employ outside counsel, additional counsel, for the reason that he does not feel justified in performing the extraordinary services he might be called upon to perform, for the annual retainer. This bill does just that, it permits the borough to employ its own counsel at a commensurate salary for the services that are to be performed, and only that and nothing more. For that reason I can personally see no objection to this bill.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, now being able to hear the argument very well, and the bill being printed in the way it is, I would like to ask what the meaning of it is—it is underlined and also includes brackets.

Mr. SPANGLER. The gentleman will note in line sixteen the words beginning with "provided" are stricken out, and the word "solicitor" is stricken out, so that now the borough can fix the compensation of the solicitor at such figure as it sees fit, and is not prevented from paying a solicitor for extra services, where those extra services are performed in the knowledge of the boroughs and to its satisfaction.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 751 (Senate Bill No. 40), entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the prothonotary in counties of the eighth class and providing for the payment of all fees and commissions into the county treasury

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 746, (Senate Bill No. 100), as follows:

An Act to amend section ten of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section ten of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 10 That from and after the passage of this act all contracts made by the commissioners of said county involving an expenditure exceeding three hundred dollars shall be in writing and shall immediately after their execution be filed with the controller but no contract shall be made nor the payment thereof certified by the controller for over three hundred dollars unless when made with the lowest and best bidder after due notice to be published by the controller when directed by the commissioners if he approve the purpose of the proposals invited all bids to be received by the controller under seal and to be in his presence opened by the commissioners and the contracts awarded of which awards the controller shall keep a record and he shall certify no warrants for contracts not made agreeably thereto Provided however That in counties of the fourth class the provisions of this section shall apply to all contracts involving expenditures exceeding one hundred dollars

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, this bill, Senate Bill No. 100, attempts to amend the same section of the Act as Senate Bill No. 292, which was yesterday postponed. I would therefore, move that it be placed in the same position as Senate Bill No. 292, so we can consider them together. It relates to the same subject matter.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean that this bill is identical with bill No. 292.

Mr. KUNKLE. Except that it makes some different provisions, and they are not consistent, one with the other.

Mr. STEEDLE. For what does the other bill provide, does it raise it to $500, or what?

Mr. KUNKLE. It makes the same provision of $300, but this bill exempts fourth class counties, and the provisions are not identical. Both bills ought not to pass, and there should be an amendment, to my mind. They ought to be taken up at the same time.

Mr. STEEDLE. This bill exempts fourth class counties, and only affects counties with one hundred fifty thousand inhabtants and over.

Mr. KUNKLE. One bill exempts fourth class counties, and the other does not exempt them.

Mr. STEEDLE. I can see no reason why we should not take action on this bill at the present time, because it only relates to Allegheny county and counties above one hundred fifty thousand in population

Mr. KUNKLE. It also affects Westmoreland County. I think they ought to be taken up together, and if necessary, make them consistent.

Mr. STEEDLE. Is Bill No. 292 on the postponed calendar?

Mr. KUNKLE. Yes.

Mr. STEEDLE. Why can't we take action on this bill and follow it up with action on the bill that is on the postponed calendar?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I beleive that both of these bills, Senate Bill No. 292, and Senate Bill No. 100, should be recommitted to the Committee for amendment, and I make that motion.

Mr. GEORGE A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman for Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny if he is familiar with the provisions of the bill and to what class of counties it applies outside of fourth class counties. This is taking out one class of counties in the middle of the classification and saying that it shall not apply to it.

Mr. STEEDLE. This bill only applies to those counties containing one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants or over.

Mr. EDMONDS. On the second page, you have this proviso, that in counties of the fourth class, the provisions of this section shall apply to all contracts involving expenditures exceeding $100. If it is a good thing for counties of the fourth class, why is it not a good thing for counties of the other classes?

Mr. STEEDLE. I can only answer you by saying that, possibly, that particular class of counties did not want it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I think maybe, I can explain the provisions of this act. A week ago, when this bill was before the House,—I thought it was defeated and last night I so stated, but found that it was on the postponed calendar,—the representatives of fourth class counties were objecting to it, and the sponsor of the bill has evidently cut out of it counties of the fourth class. In further answer to Mr. Edmonds query as to what counties it relates, it relates, as shown, to all counties having a county comptroller, excepting the fourth class counties, which are exempted in this bill. Of course, it is up to the other counties other than the fourth class counties whether they want to accept it. The fourth class counties do not want that exception and want the bills or contracts to be in writing, no matter if it is only five cents.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill, it is different from the one we had under consideration last evening and placed on the postponed calendar, in that this bill permits any county having over one hundred and fifty thousand population, with the exception of the fourth class counties, which desires to purchase something for less than $300 can do so without advertising. The bill under consideration last evening made the county comptroller a party to the contract, so the other bill is very much different from this one. I beleive this bill should pass. We should permit our county commissioners to purchase anything for less than $300 without advertising.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, this bill was on the third reading calendar last week, and at the request of some of the members representing fourth class counties, the bill was sent back to committee for amendment, so that fourth class counties could be excepted from the provisions of the bill. That was the reason for this exemption. It was at the request of representatives of the fourth class counties. The bill was on third reading and was sent back to committee for that purpose, and now it comes out again. We have lots of time to consider this matter, and it only exempts fourth class counties at the request of the members representing those counties.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand, the object of this bill is to prevent advertising for small contracts under three hundred dollars, with which I am in sympathy. At the end of the bill there is a proviso which prevents contracts under three hundred dollars from being in writing, with which I have no sympathy. It seems to me that the reason for excepting counties of the fourth class applies to all other classes so far as making a contract in writing is concerned. Would it not be possible to have the bill amended so as to strike out the writing provision, so that the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Gibbon, could get what he wants, the elimination of advertising.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreebly to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. KUNKLE.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1143 (Senate Bill No. 292), entitled:

An Act to amend section ten of the act approved the twenty seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled 'An act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Strike out entire Title and insert instead the following: To regulate the sales of caustic acids, caustic alkalies and preparations thereof, and mineral or chemical salts, intended for household and agricultural uses and providing penalties for the violating thereof.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 708, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two, five, seven and sixteen of an act approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, (P. L. 507), entitled, "An Act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes;" by requiring personal property returns and tax receipts to indicate and identify each mortgage included, or upon which the tax is paid; requiring the production of such receipt before entering satisfaction on any such mortgage in the recorder's office; and authorizing the recorder of deeds to receive such taxes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 708, file folio 1789, be recommited to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 932, entitled:

An Act requiring the insurance of motor vehicles against liability for damages to persons or property due to the negligent operation thereof

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. MARCUS. I will.

Mr. GELDER. I would like to ask the gentleman to kindly explain to the members of the House the purpose of the bill, and if he will also give us, if he can, what expenses will be put on the automobile owners of the state.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House the real purpose of this bill is to make some attempt to protect pedestrians on the public highway. In the last five or six years by reason of the fact that there have been an enormous number of automobiles on the public highway, and by reason of the great number of accidents that have happened, and also when those accidents have happened, in some cases, it appeared that the owner of the automobile when called upon to settle claims for personal injuries either carried no automobile insurance, or if verdicts were recovered against them, in order to relieve themselves of the verdicts they adopted tactics of going into bandruptcy and thereby evading payment. Many cases have occurred where the person injured has been put to great additional expense, and the purpose of this bill it to compel every owner of an automobile to carry insurance to the extent of $5000, with this proviso, that if the owner of the automobile can render a financial statement to the state highway department of financial responsibility, they be relieved from carrying any insurance, and in the event the highway department discovers that the financial responsibility of the automobilist is not what he purports it to have been at the time he made his statement, that the highway department can call upon him to carry insurance. As to the information requested by the gentleman from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, as to the prorata share of expenses, I believe that can be best explained, and I have been so informed by men who are engaged in the insurance business, that the premium on the insurance would be guided by the population and by the particular locality in which the applicant made application for a license. In the state of New York, by reason of its population, the premium would be exceedingly high; Chicago would be exceedingly high, and in Pennsylvania, when you get into our own state, the premium in Philadelphia would be higher than it is in Pittsburgh and in Pittsburgh it might be higher than it is in Scranton, and in other cities it would be less than Pittsburgh, but I would say that the average rate of premium in proportion to the population, and in proportion to the locality would average anywhere from eighteen to fifty dollars a year to carry insurance on $5000.

With the further indulgence of the House I will read what the Literary Digest of March 24, 1923, states:

"Too many judgments are being secured against drivers who cannot be made to pay for the damage they have caused, to protect pedestrians and other motorists from the car driver who has no means of paying a judgment for damages, or to make settlement for injuries caused by his car, all cars should be covered." Then, it proceeds and goes on and relates instances where great hardships have occurred, and it was my purpose in the introduction of this bill to first protect the pedestrians. I think the members of this House should place this bill on the statute books, because I think it is a piece of legislation that is sadly needed, and in the line of progressive legislation. I ask for your support.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of this bill in my mind is very good, but on account of the importance of the bill, on account of the great number of people involved, and on account of the expense that would incur to the average individual, I think we should give it more consideration than we could give to this bill if we voted on it at this time. My suggesion, therefore, is that it be placed on the postponed calendar or be recommitted for a public hearing in order that we may go into the matter in detail. There are several bills, as I understand, involving this same subject matter, and by this means we could get them together and give them consideration at the same time.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 932, file folio 2841, be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, 146 members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HEFFERNAN.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 440, entitled:

An Act to provide for the licensing of transient retail merchants in cities boroughs and townships and providing a penaltiy for the failure to obtain such license

On the queston,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is simply for the purpose of eliminating transient merchants who come into town and rent a storeroom for a half a day or a day or a couple of days, and put out a flag with "Fire Sale" or some other sort of a sign, and sell a lot of goods to the people of the town. Very often the goods are not of very good quality, and they do not pay a single cent of license to do that. This is not fair to the merchants of the town who are there three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, that these people should be allowed to come in there and transact their business for a day or two, and go away without paying any license. That is the only reason why this bill is on the calendar and it is the only explanation I can make regarding it.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Mack,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the quesion was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House at this time to call up out of order House Bill No. 890, (Senate Bill No. 240), on page 27 of today's calendar. I call it up at this time for the purpose of having it recommitted for a hearing.

The SPEAKER. Are there obpjections? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 890 (Senate Bill No. 240), entitled:

An Act to amend section six of an act approved June 20, 1917 (P. L. 618), entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class; providing for and regulating examinations, the manner of appointments, and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department; and providing a method for fixing compensation," as amended.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, after having an arrangement with Senator Mansfield concerning this bill, I move that it be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 962, entitled:

An Act to amend sections twenty forty and forty-seven of an act entiled "An Act relating to Warehouse Receipts approved the eleventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine"

On the question,
Will the House agre to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like to say just a word to the members of the House with reference to House bill No. 962. This is one of the bills introduced by the Commission on Uniform State Laws. As is well known to the members of the House, we have three commissioners who sit with a similar number of commissioners from the other states, to try to frame uniform laws on the quesions so there may be a uniform practice relating particularly to interstate business. Our commissioners are Judge Hargest, Judge Stockey, and Mr. Walter George Smtih. In 1909 that commission recommended the warehouse bill, which was enacted into law. They now come with this bill, which is an amendment to meet the decision of a Massachusetts Court which says that where a warehouse receipt is given by an agent, of the warehouse, it is not binding on the warehouse owner even if it is shown that the agent is acting within the ostensible scope of his authority, a point that is not covered by the earlier law. In order to meet this situation they are recommending in this bill certain amendments to the original act of 1909.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 892 (Senate Bill No. 303), entitled:

An Act to amend section three and section four of an act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and seventy-four), entitled "An Act providing for the licensing and regulation of corporations, co-partnerships, associations and individuals engaged in the business of receiving payments or contributions to be held or used in any plan of accumulation or investment or of issuing negotiating offering for sale or selling any certificates, securities, contracts or other choses in action evidenced by writing on the partial payment or instalment plan or of assuming fixed obligations or issuing in connection therewith a contract based upon payments being made upon instalments or single payments under which all or part of the total amount received is to be repaid some future time with or without profits, and imposing penalties."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill which is now before us for final passage is Senate Bill No. 303, file folio 635 of the Senate, is identical with the bill which we in the House three weeks ago passed finally and sent to the Senate, a bill which was introduced by me to meet a condition where under the request from the Banking Commissioner, it appeared that there were certain people doing business on the co-operative basis in the state of Pennsylvania, who had put up a deposit of $100,000, and the Banking Commissioner wants to protect the Pennsylvania creditors, by preventing a non-resident co-operative association in the event of financial or other difficulties from taking that fund of $100,000 from this state, and not giving Pennsylvania creditors the first priority, as they would have in the case of a local administration of a foreign decedent's estate. That question was before us, and I believe we passed the bill without a single negative vote. The same time that I introduced the bill here, a similar bill was introduced by Senator Barr in the Senate, and their bill reaches us first, our bill is lost somewhere in committee over there. We passed it here, and I therefore ask you to reaffirm the action of the House taken some weeks ago, by voting affirmatively on this bill. It is the desire of the Banking Department, it is thoroughly meritorious, and protects the Pennsylvania creditors of non-resident co-operative associations. It is merely an amendment to the existing act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—4

Malie,	Mangan,	McCann,	Wettach,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, we have arrived at the point in our effort to obtain new revenues in the State of Pennsylvania where it is becoming extremely tense, and I feel, as chairman of the committee that has this work in charge, that I should make a statement to the House this afternoon.

Three months ago I came to Harrisburg with my face hard set against new tax levies. Nothing has developed to change my attitude. I yield to no one in my ardent desire to save public money, and if possible lift tax burdens.

I have thought this thing through and come straight to these conclusions:

First;—In our honest attempt to avoid State revenue burdens let us be careful lest we ignore the undeniable fact that we are simply shifting these burdens to the local taxpayer.

Second;—Let us honestly note the sole purpose for suggested new tax levies now is alone for the relief of the folks back home from their local tax burdens.

Third;—Do we not know that actually eighty per cent. of all of the revenues we raise in this State are for strictly local uses such as schools, roads, hospitals, courts and so on, and that actually over eight dollars out of every ten dollars we spend out of the State Treasury goes out into the localities thruout the State.

Fourth;—Now before we go before the people with a plea of needed income we must show them that we are saving public money to the uttermost in all state activities. Economies already assured mean a saving of $20,000,000 in the next biennium.

Fifth;—Our new revenue needs of less than $20,000,000 are solely emergency. Were it not for existing liabilities of $29,000,000 the present income would meet all needs with some to spare. Therefore new taxes must be self-repealing in two years.

Sixth;—All agree the State should pay its debts and speedily prepare to pay-as-we-go.

Seventh;—The State must not default on any promise or pledge made with the people, on roads or schools.

Eighth;—Let us cut school and road program costs to a minimum but we must either add to local taxes or obtain needed revenues, unless we reduce salaries 25% in every part of the school system. The Administrative branch has accepted a cut of 25%.

Ninth;—We are not adding new burdens or increasing jobs or salaries but in actual increases for the same purposes, we are preparing to pay $20,431,892 more for roads and schools in 1923-25 than was paid out of the general fund in 1921-23.

Tenth;—Our per capita tax burden for schools, in Pennsylvania, is lower than that of 28 other states in the Union.

Eleventh;—Our per capita tax burden for all state and local purposes is lower than that of 39 other states in the Union.

Twelfth;—Of our total per capita tax of $78, we pay $45 to the federal government, $27 for county, city, borough, township and school purposes, and only $6 for all State purposes.

Our Revenue Needs.

We have arrived at the point in analysis of our fiscal problems where we know for a certainly, if the people back home are to be relieved of a part of their local tax burdens for roads and schools, that our revenue needs, in excess of the $115,000,000 estimated from present sources can be placed at not less than $20,000,000.

These Twenty Millions are not wanted or needed for state purposes. Every cent will be distributed to the localities of the State.

If we do not raise these revenues, we merely compel the townships to tax themselves to pay all their road improvement costs and compel the school districts to raise their millage to meet expenses the State has been helping pay. Can they stand the burden? Is it best to ask them to?

Our other alternative is to save Eighteen Millions by taking it from the school personnel throughout the whole system, and if we do this, we are taking a backward step.

Make a Start on Saving.

The governor's buget figures are unchanged. We have simply to adopt the buget and the reorganization code to bring about the saving of millions through a strong, safe and effective agency to stop waste, and lost motion, cut out overlapping, useless jobs and non-essentials and place the activities of the state government on a basis of the utmost efficiency and good business status.

We thus start with means by which every dollar of public money may be made to go as far as possible in getting actual results for the people.

And not until every taxpayer has reason to feel that honest ends are being attained, through equally honest means, in every department and service of the state, may we with perfect confidence go before the people with the plea for more revenue.

Then we may say, "We have set the house in order, stopped the leaks and made sure of getting the best results with the money we have through revenues now coming in. We are going to pay off a liability of Twenty Nine Millions and run the entire government for two years with these revenues, excepting payments to the school districts of $17,803,000, higher education needs of $550,000 and help for township roads of two millions. Will you, the people of this state, back the raising of these revenues, or shall we deny the local school district the subsidy on teachers' salaries and deny help on roads and compel the localities to pay their own way in education and highway improvement?"

Not a few people believe a smoke screen has been thrown about the school and road situation.

Let us see.

Our task is to pay out of the funds of the 1923-25 biennium a grand total for teachers' subsidies under the Edmonds Act and for roads of $20,431,892 more than was paid for similar purposes in the 1921-23 biennium. This is actually more than our revenue shortage now and it is easily seen that should we have only the problem of duplicating the furnishing of school and road revenues paid out the last biennium in the coming two years we would have no revenue task whatever at this time.

Problems as to Schools.

Analysis of the common school needs of $38,803,000, or an amount of $17,803,000 in excess of what the governor found to set aside for the purpose in the budget, shows that this is $12,883,000 more than was drawn out of the 1921-23 revenues for the same purpose. We are compelled to take care of four payment periods instead of three, and besides we are paying on the basis of $9,120,000 for each of the four payment periods and giving a total of $2,323,000 to the weaker districts under the valuation per teacher plan suggested by the governor. At the same time the Edmonds Act will function, for the state's share were the four payment period unit not selected, to the amount of $39,560,000 and the grand total (three million to be taken care of by the districts) will be over $41,884,000.

Problems as to roads.

In the 1923-25 biennium, should we be able to carry out the buget plans, we shall set aside and actually pay, out of the general fund, for roads, $12,980,940. This, with the exception of the $1,000,000 allowed in the buget, represents unexpended appropriations, $5,745,329 of which is from the 1919-1921 biennium and $6,235,611 from the 1921-23 biennium.

The fact of supreme interest is that we shall be able to pay, from the general fund in 1923-25, $7,528,892 more than was paid from this fund the last biennium. But the payments out of the general fund for roads in 1919-21 will not be equalled. The amount for these two years was $20,215,805 and at the end of this same biennium only $2,654,899 of the appropriations made for those two years remained unused.

From the point of appropriation totals we are giving less for roads from one general fund for the coming two years than was given in 1919 but more than was given in 1921. The totals are:

Appropriated by the 1919 Assembly,	$14,663,718
Appropriated by the 1921 Assembly,	12,120,000
Probable Appro- by 1923 Assembly,	12,980,940

But while there were large sums appropriated both in 1919 and 1921 the actual payments from the general funds for the appropriation period covered by each appropriation was less by $2,763,310 in 1919-21 and less by $7,528,892 in 1921-23 than we are planning to pay in the 1923-25 biennium.

Fortunately we shall be able to obtain from motor license fees, for the highway department nearly twice as much as was received in the 1919-21 biennium, when the total was $13,408,450.16. We expect at least $28,000,000 in the 1923-25 biennium. Add to this $13,000,000 from the general fund and the federal aid of $5,000,000 and we have $48,000,000.

The budget allowance for roads takes no account of a deficit of nearly a million and a half in applications on file for the payment of rewards to townships on road work. To take care of this and carry the fund for the next two years it will require more than $2,000,000. Hence, road appropriations should be $14,980,940 instead of $12,980,940.

The need is plainly emergency.

It is clear that our needs of revenues present not a permanent status, but distinctly an emergency status.

Governor Pinchot, at the very opening of this session, in a masterly presentation, of our fiscal problems, fixed $90,000,000 as the amount required for all government activities and semi-public needs, save the amount called for over $21,000,000 for common schools and higher education. He has not varied this amount to any extent to date.

Now, adding to the Budget figures the $29,000,000 in deficit and appropriation liability as of June 1, 1923, we have a total of $119,000,000 which is about the figure the fiscal officers expect will be the revenues for the next biennium.

Therefore, for the next two years, 1923-25, with the usual increment in revenues provided no taxes are laid, the income will be sufficient and the only reason for adding new revenue sources now is to take care of The Deficit and appropriation liability inherited from the last biennium.

Those who stagger at the proposal to raise $139,000,000 in revenues now (for this is the total of the budget, the liability and the needed new revenues) forget that had the Assembly in 1921 taken a grip on the situation and insisted on placing the State on a pay-as-you-go basis at that time, it would have required an income, for the general fund in 1921-23, of more than $141,000,000. Then, too, we must figure that the coming biennium, as I have stated herein, must arrange to pay for teachers' subsidies and roads, nearly $21,000,000 more than was paid out of the general fund for the same purposes in 1921-23. Add this to the $141,000,000 and we have a total of $162,000,000 that would have been needed in the last two years had these two years borne the same school and road burden we are now arranging for.

How many millions we shall save the taxpapers of this state through the economy and efficiency program of the governor is hard to estimate. But it will not be less than $20,000,000.

Purposes of the added revenues.

Our aim should be to see that Pennsylvania has the best government and the best schools and the best roads at the least possible cost, instead of the best government, the best schools and the best roads at any cost.

In 1920 the total educational expenses in this state were 10.86 per capita. Twenty-eight other states paid more than this.

The same year our educational state expense, the amount we gave out of the general fund, was $1.86 per capita, or 37th in the entire union.

Our bonded debt, for schools, the same year, was $6.94 per capita, or less than that of twenty-seven states in the union.

In total state and local expense of schools and all county, city, township and borough governments, we had a per capita of but $32.48 in 1920, or less than 40 other states. New York's total was $58.56, Ohio $57.18 and Illinois $39.98. The only states having less cost per capita for running the government and the schools were eight south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Now, as the state tax. We feel that we are paying a fair amount. And we are. But in 1920 our capita state tax was $5.85 as against $10.41 in New York, $9.47 in New Jersey, $10.22 in Massachusetts, $10.94 in Delaware and $5.93 in Maryland.

As indicating what through reorganization of the State department will do in reducing state expense, Ohio, where they adopted a real reorganization plan, has a per capita state tax of $3.47. Only four states have a less per capita.

It must be noted that few states give for education as large a percentage of its total state revenues as does Pennsylvania. In New York they give forty millions a year for education but their total budget is over $140,000,000 a year, as against out $120,000,000 in two years.

If we allow to schools what the budget and the teachers' subsidy act calls for, we shall give nearly forty-five per cent of our state income to schools.

Revenues for local uses.

Turn to page 1225 of your 1922 Smull's. Study the purposes of appropriations as of 1921-23. Note that nearly ninety per cent. of the expenditures go right back to the people at home in one way or another.

Our revenues are largely, then, for uses not at Harrisburg but in the localities.

A large part of the expense of the departments of agriculture, armories, charities, fisheries, forestry, health, labor and industry, workman's compensation, mercantile appraisers, mines and mining, state police, all state institutions, semi-state institutions, penitentiaries and reformatories, commissions, and nearly all of the expense in the educational and highway and judiciary departments.

This embraces practically every state department except the executive and legislative, which may even, in part, be classed as local.

I submit to this House that when the Ways and Means Committee brings before it tax measures, revenue raising measures, that have been considered we ask from you a fair consideration in view of the absolute necessity of at least $20,000,000 of revenue to carry on the State government as it should be carried on in the next two years. I want to say to you that the prospects are very favorable that next week you shall have for your consideration some real method by which this $20,000,000 can be raised. It may not satisfy all of you, it doubtless will not come out of the Ways and Means Committee by anything like a unanimous vote, but when it does come, let us get back of it and put it across, for the State of Pennsylvania is too big to have it said of it that it did not raise enough money to pay its honest to goodness debts.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 275, as follows:

An Act providing for the recovery and collection of taxes assessed on either real or personal property by action of assumpsit against the owner or owners of the real or personal property upon which or against the owner of which the said taxes have been assessed

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in addition to the other remedies provided by law that all counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships school district and poor districts may proceed for the collection of any taxes lawfully imposed and assessed on either real or personal property of any nature or character including stocks bonds mortgages and money at interest or assessed against the owner or owners of such real or personal property by action of assumpsit against the owner or owners thereof such action to be brought before any Magistrate Justice of the Peace or Court of Record of competent jurisdiction depending on the amount involved with similar rights of appeal as in other actions of assumpsit Judgments obtained in such actions of assumpsit to collect any of the taxes aforesaid shall include interest and penalties as provided by law and shall have the same effect to all intents and purposes as judgments in other cases Upon such judgments a writ of execution may be issued as in other actions of assumpsit for the collection thereof together with costs of suit without any stay of execution and no defendant in any such judgment shall have the right to any exemption of property levied upon to collect the same The provisions of this act shall extend to and include all taxes whereon a tax claim has been heretofore or may be hereafter entered against the property assessed as a lien of record "as well as taxes for which no such claim has been or may be entered" Provided further That this act shall also extend to and include all taxes real or personal heretofore assessed which became due and payable at any time not exceeding six (6) years prior to the passage of this act

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts and all laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend sec. 7, page 1, line 6, by striking out the word "district" and inserting in lieu thereof "districts"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 18, by striking out the quotation marks before the word"as"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 19, by striking out the quotation marks after the word "entered"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 9, by inserting after the word "eases" the following: "Provided, however, that the lien of any judgment obtained for taxes assessed against real estate shall be limited and confined to the particular real estate against which said taxes are assessed, and no execution upon such a judgment shall issue against any other property."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 45, as follows:

Section 11 Such ballot or ballots and envelopes shall then be securely sealed in the third envelope which the voter shall send by registered mail to the prothonotary or county commissioners in sufficient time to reach its destination on or before the day such election is held In case the ballot was voted at a general or municipal election it shall be sent to the prothonotary if voted at a primary election it shall be sent to the county commissioners of the county in which such voter is a resident The postage and cost necessary to transmit and register such envelopes shall be paid by the voter

Section 12 The prothonotary or county commissioners upon receipt of such registered letter shall safely keep and preserve the same unopened in their office until the return board canvasses the vote according to law at which time the said return board shall open such registered letter and after examining the certificate of qualification and the affidavit and jurat shall compare the signature of said absent voter as written on the affidavit with the signature of such voter on the application blank given to the county commissioners If the return board is satisfied that the signatures correspond and that the affidavit and jurat are sufficient they shall announce the name of the voter of such absent voter's ballot and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge the same in like manner and for the same causes as such voter could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to cast his ballot If there are no challenges they shall open the second envelope in such manner as not to destroy the certificate of qualification and the affidavit and jurat as printed thereon which envelope shall be kept in the prothonotary's or commissioner's office for a period of one year thereafter All envelopes on which are printed the words "Absent Voter's Ballot" and containing the ballots shall be put into one depository at one time and said depository well shaken and the envelopes containing the ballots mixed before any ballot is taken therefrom The return board shall then break the seals of such envelopes and record the said ballots in the same manner as the election officers record votes and in so canvassing said votes the return board shall count the votes of all absent voters taken as herein provided and add the same to the total result of the election in the county district precinct or ward accordingly as designated on each ballot

of the prothonotary or the county commissioners as the case may be for the period of one year and in case of a contested election the same may be opened and counted as in other cases

Section 14 Any voter who has received an absent voter's ballot and who shall return to his properly designated election district on or before the day for holding the election for which such ballot was issued shall be permitted to vote upon presenting himself at his regular polling place in the same manner as he could have voted had he not received such absent voter's ballot Provided however That in any such case such voter shall surrender to the judge of election of such district his absent voter's ballot or ballots unmarked and the envelopes in which they were contained before being permitted to vote Such fact shall be noted by the judge of election on the back thereof and the ballot or ballots and envelopes shall be returned to the county commissioners

Section 15 If any person voting an absent voter's ballot shall wilfully swear falsely to the affidavit herein provided for or shall vote any ballot other than one properly issued to him or vote or attempt to more than once at any such election or who shall violate any other provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding two years or both at the discretion of the court

If any official authorized to administer oaths within this Commonwealth prothonotary county commissioners or member of a return board shall neglect or refuse to perform any of the duties prescribed by this act or shall reveal or divulge any of the details of any ballot casting in accordance with the provisions of this act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term of one year or both at the discretion of the court.

Section 16 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LITTLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 388, as follows:

An Act providing that the negligence of a servant or employe of any municipality shall under the rule of respondeat superior be attributable to the municipality responsible for his compensation or wages

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That where injury is caused to any person or property by the negligence of any servant or employe of any municipality in the performance of his or her duty such negligence under the rule of respondeat superior shall be attributable to the municipality employing such servant or employe and which is liable for the payment of his or her wages or other compensation Provided That this act shall not apply to the servants or employees of the Police and Fire Departments

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SOWERS. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Will you kindly explain to the House the purpose and effect of this particular act?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, this act or this bill, like all bills, has at its bottom some inspiration. If my friend had been a reader of the Philadelphia Inquirer, he would have learned the reason for the bill, but as he is a reader of the Record, he overlooked the reason for the bill. If he had given careful study to the history of legislation in the last four or five years, a mere casual reading of the bill would have told him the reason for it. Sometime ago a lot of reformers came to this House from Philadelphia and they said to the people of Pennsylvania that the Vare contractors of Philadelphia ought not to carry on the street cleaning of Philadelphia; that the city of Philadelphia ought to engage in the business of street cleaning, and this Legislature said to Philadelphia in a new charter bill, "You shall engage in street cleaning;" and Philadelphia, under its present administration, did engage in that business, and every accident and every injury that has been suffered either by visitors to Philadelphia or by the inhabitants of Philadelphia at the hands of that street cleaning department, have not been compensated for. In other words, if you, at any time, come to Philadelphia and are run over by the mayor's ash carts or by the water wagon or something of that kind, and you went to court and said, "Why, I have been injured by Philadelphia being in business, I haven't been negligent or careless in any way whatever, but I have suffered damages by reason of the city engaging in that business," the court would say to you, "That is a governmental function and you are entitled to nothing." Under the old system the contractor had to pay for his negligence, the contractor had to pay for his negligence suits. Why, under the new system should not the citizens have the same revenue? When I see my friend who reads the Record and I see him in close association with others and then I think of the mayor of Philadelphia, then running through my mind is this, and I must tell it to the House: Our mayor has said to the people of Phliadelphia, "Oh I have saved you a half a million dollars", but to every person injured he never paid a cent, and that is how he saved the money."

Mr. RHODES. I am delighted to find out who the City of Philadelphia is from the gentleman but it has not quite answered my question. He may have told us that the City of Philadelphia is run by the Vares, but that is as far as he got.

Mr. SOWERS. You are wrong there, I help to run it.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that this bill deviates from the established principle of our municipal governments, and just because it may be enacted, or presented to the House, to take care of one local situation, it would impose a great burden and hardship upon the average municipality.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this bill was on the second reading calendar, a number of the members came to me and called to my attention the fact that it included the police and fire departments, and they thought Pennsylvania ought not to change its policies with reference to the police and fire departments. Still, it seems to me the true policy is that any municipality that causes an injury to a man should pay for that injury. However, to please those who objected to the police and fire departments being included in it, I amended the bill to except the police and fire so that the bill in effect today only relates to or affects those municipalities which engage in business for themselves and if the municipality wants to engage in business, it should take on the responsibilities of business and pay its debts and pay its liabilities to those that it injured, and I ask you members of this House to put on the statute books of Pennsylvania the principle that a municipality should perform its duty to its citizens and stand ready to compensate those that it injures.

On the question recurring,

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bll 678, file folio 1467, entitled,

"An act to amend clause 3, section 2, article 2, of chapter 7, of the Act approved the 14th day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, (P. L. 312), entitled, 'An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs,' " was defeated on final passage on April 3rd be reconsidered.

Mr. BRENNEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was under consideration I, for one, voted under a misconception of its provisions. It seems that under the present statutes, a burgess has the right to sentence to jail, to impose a jail sentence. Now, this act merely extends that power to include a workhouse sentence, and I believe it is a proper regulation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion,

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call you attention to this bill which we are about to vote on—the bill at the top of page 17, file folio 3903. At the present time when children are taken before the Juvenile Courts, if they have any reason to complain they can appeal. The only thing I can see in this act is that it provides that not only they, but whoever presents the petition perhaps, if the child is not sent away to a house of detention and they don't think the judge performed his duty, as they see it, an appeal may be taken by the petitioner, or whoever it is who has tried to send that child to a detention house or some other kind of a home. For instance, I take this, somebody brings a child for some offense before the Juvenile Court, and the judge instead of sending him to a detention home sends him back; this gives the Commonwealth a right to appeal. I have always been opposed to these cases, giving the Commonwealth the right to appeal because if there is any time when the humane side of the court, and his discretion in a humane way is exercised, it is when this child is before him. And many a time his care for that child, coupled with the hope that the future may be better for the child, puts him in the hands of some one else rather than in a house of detention. This bill gives some person, who thinks the child should be sent away, the right to take an appeal to the Superior Court. I am only calling your attention to that because I do not think it seems to be the right thing to vote for a bill like this

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I was asked to present this bill by the Child's Welfare Association of Pittsburgh. I agree with my learned friend from Delaware county, Mr. Alexander, that the question does present itself as to whether it is advisable to give the Commonwealth the right to appeal in cases of this kind. Now what is wanted, as I understand it, is this: The Child's Welfare Association sends about thirty-one per cent of the juvenile cases into the juvenile Courts of Allegheny county. Sometimes they are not satisfied with the judgment of the Juvenile Court and when this occurs, under the present law, they have no redress. The question is, should they have any redress? They want now to have the right to take an appeal to the Superior Court from the judgement of the Juvenile Court, and the question is, should they have that right.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Albert,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 532, entitled:

An Act to provide for the registration and protection of artificial assumed trade or association names titles or designations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words concerning this bill, which is now upon the calendar as House Bill No. 532, file folio 2933.

If a corporation of the second class is authorized by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth keeps a list of the names then no other corporation can use the same, or a similar name, but if a corporation of the first class is authorized by the Courts of the County there is no such protection given to the use of their name, and unincorporated associations such as fraternities, brotherhoods and benefit associations although they may have been in existence for many years have no such protection given by the law to their name, at the present time. Now, the idea of this bill is to allow corporations of the first class, and those unincorporated associations, to register their names with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and then no other association can come along and make use of the name. It is simply in the interest of fair play, and in order that the good will which one association has formed cannot be disturbed by some other association which has a name so similar that people get them confused in their own minds. It is merely to protect them in their names that this bill is introduced.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 830, as follows:

An Act amending section one of an act entitled "An further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expense thereof' approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven constituting the said court the juvenile court of said county and prescribing its organization jurisdiction and powers therein and otherwise" approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 5) by providing that the said county court sitting as a juvenile court shall have sole jurisdiction in all proceedings for the custody of dependent neglected incorrigible and delinquent children

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expense thereof" approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven constituting the said court the juvenile court of said county and prescribing its organization jurisdiction and powers therein and otherwise approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That in all proceedings concerning dependent delinquent incorrigible or neglected children under the age of sixteen years as defined by existing laws relating thereto the county court of Allegheny county shall have exclusively all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in and exercised by the court of quarter sessions of the peace of said county sitting as a juvenile court or of any judge of said court sitting as a juvenile court judge and all laws relating to such jurisdiction and powers of the court of quarter sessions are hereby made applicable to the said county court Said county court shall also have jurisdiction in all proceedings for the custody of children where the court has acquired jurisdiction in matters relating to their maintenance Provided however That if said children are dependent neglected incorrigible or delinquent the said court sitting as a juvenile court shall have sole jurisdiction The judges of said county court shall be ex officio justices of the peace

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill which at first glance might seem useless, but I desire to impress upon you that it is not so. It is presented on behalf of both the bar association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, and on the part of all of the child welfare associations and is to correct a practice that has grown up regarding the disposition of juvenile delinquents and dependents. The county court which administers the law in Allegheny county in both desertion and non-support cases, and in juvenile cases has been in the habit, and I cannot express it in any other way, of disposing of juvenile cases which arise in conection with desertion and non-support cases. That is to say, where a couple who are in court in desertion and non-suport proceedings have children who incidentally are brought into that court the cases of those children are usually erroneously disposed of by the desertion and non-support court acting as such. It is usurpation of jurisdiction by that court and a practice that we all think should be frowned upon. The child welfare associations all believe, and with good reason, that the cases of these children are not disposed of without considering certain issues with adversely affect its decisions, and that the condition of the children will be much better taken care of if taken in the ordinary manner alone, that is, each case standing on its own merits in the juvenile courts. Therefore I earnestly ask you to support this bill.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 295, entitled:

An Act making a burial permit issued at the place of death valid throughout the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill that we have in this House practically every session. It is of little importance to any one except the municipalities or the townships that happen to have cemeteries in their township or borough. We all recognize of course, the fact that the dead must be buried; we all recognize the fact that certain municipalities, perhaps, must have these cemeteries in their midst, but it is no more than right, however, that those municipalities and those townships should have the supervision over the burial of those bodies, should know that they are properly buried, should know if there are any bodies brought into its jurisdiction that die of certain diseases, that had not been properly cared for. I understand there is a motion to be made to put the bill on the postponed calendar, so I will yield.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EARLY. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of House Bill No. 295, file folio 2969, I move that it be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1256, as follows:

An Act imposing a State tax on Liquid Fuels "including all liquids ordinarily practically and commercially useable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power and all distillates of and condensates from petroleum natural gas coal coal tar and vegetable ferments" to be paid by distributors as herein defined providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of the revenues derived therefrom providing for the filing of certificates and reports of the sale of such liquid fuels and the collection of such tax and fixing penalties

Section 3 In addition to the taxes now provided for by law each and every distributor as defined in this act who is now engaged or may hereafter engage in his on name or in the name of others in the sale of liquid fuels as herein defined in this State shall pay a tax of one per cent per gallon on all liquid fuels sold within the State and every such distributor as defined in this act liable to pay the tax herein defined shall state the amount of such tax separately from the price of the liquid fuels as herein defined and for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of the tax it shall be the duty of every such distributor to transmit to the Auditor General upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by him a statement or return under oath or affirmation of the business conducted by such distributor during the preceding three months ending the last days of March June September and December of each year which statement or return shall be filed with the Auditor General on the last days of January April July and October of each year and shall show the number of gallons of such liquid fuels that was sold within the State during the said periods from the respective places of business of such distributors and such further information as the Auditor General shall prescribe If any such distributor shall neglect or refuse to make said statement or return as herein required and provided an addition of ten per centum of the amount of tax shall be added and collected on an account settled as hereinafter provided Provided however That in all cases where any taxes imposed by this act have accrued on credit sales which taxes have been prepaid by the taxpayer and subsequently prove uncollectible such taxes shall be deducted in the next return of the tax payer after such taxes become uncollectible

Section 4 The Auditor General shall settle all accounts for taxes due under the provisions of this act and upon the settlement of each account he shall transmit to the taxpayer a certified copy thereof showing the amount of the tax as found to be due by him he shall also certify to the State Treasurer the amount of the tax as found to be due by him from the several distributors made taxable by the act Every distributor liable to pay the tax imposed by this act shall pay the same to the State Treasurer within sixty (60) days from the date of the settlement of the account by the Auditor General When any tax is settled by the Auditor General as provided herein it shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from sitxy days after the date of the settlement of the account by the Auditor General In the event however of a resettlement of any account by the Auditor General interest shall be charged at the rate of twelve per centum per annum upon the amount found to be due from sixty (60) days after the date of the original settlement

Section 5 The Auditor General or any agent appointed in writing by him is hereby authorized to examine the books and papers of any distributor pertaining to the business made taxable by this act to verify the accuracy of any statement or return made under the provisions of this act but any information gained by the Auditor General or any other person as a result of the reports investigations or verifications herein required to be made shall be confidential and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or to undergo imprisonment of not more than one year or both

Section 6 If the Auditor General is not satisfied with the statement or return made by any distributor under the provisions of this act he is hereby authorized and empowered to settle an account against such distributor based upon the facts contained in the statement or return or upon any information within his possession or that shall come into his possession with the right to the distributor dissatisfied with the settlement so made against him to appeal therefrom in the manner now provided by law If any such distibutor shall neglect or refuse to make the statement or return as required by this act the Auditor General may estimate an assessment against such distributor and settle an account for taxes penalty and interest thereon from which settlement there shall be no right of appeal

Section 7 Any distributor or distributors who shall fail neglect or refuse to make the statements or returns and pay tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit Auditor General or any agent appointed by him in writing to examine the books or papers of any such distributor pertaining to the business made taxable by this act or who makes any incomplete false or fraudulent statement or return hereunder or who does or who attempts to do anything whatsoever to avoid a full disclosure of the amount of business done or to avoid the payment of the whole or any part of the tax due shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or in the case of an individual to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six months or both

Such penalty shall be in addition to the penalty imposed by any other section of the act

Section 8 Fifty per centum of all taxes collected under the provisions of this act shall be credited to the several counties in the same ratio to the total amount of taxes collected in the State for this purpose as the amount paid to each of the respective counties for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two bore to the total amount collected for this purpose in the State during said year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two and shall be used only for the purpose of the construction reconstruction maintenance and repair of roads and highways and for the payment of the interest on county bonds issued for road purposes and shall be paid over to the counties semi-annually on the first day of April and October of each year

Section 9 It is the purpose of this act to centralize the collection of the tax herein authorized in the hands of those who originally dispose of the liquid fuels as herein described for distribution or consumption within the State but in no case shall there be a duplication of the collection of the tax authorized

Section 10 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not effect or impair any of the remaining provisions of the act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 11 That an act approved the twentieth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twenty-one) entitled "An Act imposing a State tax on gasoline and on all other liquids containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas produced prepared or compounded or usuable for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion and sold in this Commonwealth except for the purpose of resale providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of revenues derived therefrom making an appropriation and fixing penalties" is hereby repealed Provided however That nothing contained shall be taken or construed to relieve any person or persons co-partnership association company or corporation whatsoever from the payment of any tax interest or penalty due or owing to the Comonwealth under any law in force at the time this act becomes effective

Section 12 This act shall become effective on the first day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred twenty-three

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HENDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1256, file folio 3943, be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. BURCHINAL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the sponsor whether this bill increases or decreases the cost?

Mr. ANDERSON. It decreases.

Mr. EDMONDS. In other words by abolishing fees and substituting a fixed salary?

Mr. ANDERSON. In our county it saves from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars a year for the county.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1286, entitled

An Act to amend chapter six of the act approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, (P. L. 840), entitled, "An act concerning townships; and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto," regulating the appointment, suspension and discharge of police officers in boroughs and townships.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, in absence of the sponsor of House Bill No. 1286, file folio 3007, I move that it be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 957, as follows:

An Act to provide for the laying out altering and vacating roads lying partly in one county and partly in an adjoining county forming or intended to form a continuous highway from one county to another and providing for the location construction of a joint county bridge on said road

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That roads forming or intended to form a continuous highway from one county to another may be laid out or altered or vacated in the manner provided in the case of other roads except that the court of quarter sessions of each county shall appoint three viewers and that a report as aforesaid shall be made to each court respectively and that each court shall otherwise have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction therein

Section 2 Whenever roads are laid out altered or vacated as referred to in section one of this act over a river creek or rivulet and in such laying out altering or vacating of said road it becomes necessary to vacate an existing bridge and construct a joint county bridge on a different site the same viewers who view the laying out altering or vacating of said road shall at the same time have the authority to locate a new joint county bridge on the route of the road as laid out altered or vacated and the report on the road and the joint county bridge shall be made in the same report and shall be returned to each of the courts as soon as said report is completed Provided also however That in the petition for the view of the road there is contained a request for relocation of said joint county bridge provided that before any such road and joint county bridge shall be finally confirmed by the court the same shall be approved by a grand jury in each of the respective counties and after the approval of such road and joint county bridge by said grand juries the report shall be confirmed "nisi" by the courts of each county which report shall become absolute in ten days unless exceptions thereto be filed in the manner provided by law If exceptions be filed the said courts shall hear said exceptions and make a final decree either confirming said report or setting it aside as is now provided by law in similar cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill and the fact that I am of the opinion at the present time that there is already a law covering just what this law proposes to cover, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. COLDSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 139, entitled

An Act to amend section ten of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 468) entitled, "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendent of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriation to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith, and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, this is one of a number of bills that we have had no apportunity to examine on account of the fact that last week printed copies of these bills could not be gotten. I don't want to be understood as opposing them, but I don't think that we, any of us, ought to vote on these bills with the little consideration that we have been able to give them. This bill seems to involve quite an extensive amendment to this act, and therefore, I would ask the sponsor to explain what the amendment is.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the only purpose of this bill is to make a state highway continuous in quality and kind from start to finish. State highways as they are now constructed stop at the borough and become a borough street with no jurisdiction on the part of the state over this street, and have been starting again at the other side of a borough, becoming a state highway. The boroughs as they are now financially situated are unable to make the repairs necessary to make a continuous good highway through the borough of the same kind and quality as the state highway which stops at the borough and then begins at the other side of the borough. By this bill it is proposed to make it mandatory upon the state highway department to build this state highway as a continuous road through the borough and to make the repairs upon this state highway through the borough of the same kind and quality of highway as is in the township adjoining the borough, and also making it mandatory upon the borough to pay only ten per cent of the maintenance but nothing for the original cost. This bill was taken up with the highway department and no objection was made. It was presented and shown to the law committee of the boroughs associations of the state of Pennsylvania who made some comment and direction, and it is here in a measure that has the approval of all the people, who, so far as I know had or could have any objection. Those of you who have passed through boroughs will know what the condition of the borough roads was through those boroughs. You are apt to lose your religion, and under some circumstances your teeth. It is for the purpose of preventing such a bad condition of roadway, and fixing definitely the authority and the obligations, so far as possible, as to who shall do the building of the streets and the road, and who shall do the repairing of the roads and how it shall be done. It has been a very confusing proposition up to this time and it is for the purpose of relieving the highway department, the borough and the public that this bill is offered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Evans.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Evans, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker,

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would like to ask the gentleman if it is confined through the borough, or limited to any width?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, yes, I think I explained that by saying that it is proposed that the state highway which goes through the borough is to be of the same kind and quality as the state highway which adjoins the borough in the township. That is to say the average width at a certain point where it joins the borough may be eighteen feet, then that width will be maintained through the borough. It does not obligate the state highway department to do any additional work, it is merely the highway work which it is obligated to do.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Then a borough, for instance, like York, where the street is something like one hundred feet wide and the roadway is twenty or thirty-five feet, the borough would have to take care of the difference through the borough?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. It would under this act. It does not compel the state highway department to do any brick paving, and it does not affect, and does not change that part of the original act, the present law, which applies to the brick paving in boroughs.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Isn't it a fact that the reason that the highway department heretofore has refused to assume this duty is because they cannot control the gutters or the curbs in the borough?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. No, sir, it is not.

Mr. ALEXANDER. They don't have any control of the curbs and gutters in the boroughs, do they?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Up to the present time they have not the control of anything in the borough, that is what we want to fix.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Does this act give them any control over the curbs and gutters?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. It does not, so far I know.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Then that objection, if they have any objection before the passage of this act, would still exist?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. If it did exist, but I don't think that it did. I am of the opinion that it didn't.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Can you give us an opinion how many miles of roadway in the state of Pennsylvania this will add to the road system?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. I don't know.

Mr. ALEXANDER. It is a fact at the present time under the present system that the highway department may contract with the boroughs to do paving at the present time, isn't it?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. It is to remove that very objection, that is the purpose of this bill. At the present time it is necessary for the highway department and the boroughs to enter into contracts which are for the purpose of doing the very thing that now under this act, if it becomes a law, will be fixed as to the authority of the parties at interest.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I don't think you quiet understood my question. My question was, is it a fact at the present time that the state highway department may enter into contracts with the boroughs to do certain portions of the paving in the borough on the state highway?

Mr BURD P. EVANS. They may.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, in many instances, where there are trolley tracks, for instance on the road, under agreement with the borough, the trolley road does certain work, the trolley does one third and the borough one third and the state one third, that is true?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. I am not sure that it is true as to the percentage that it does.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is no one county in the State, in proportion to the mileage of State highways, that have more of State highways, a larger proportion of them going through boroughs, than Delaware county does. It has been the policy of the State Highway Department up until this present time to object to the paving of the highways through boroughs, and that was for three or four reasons. One of these reasons was that in the first place they do not have money at the present time to pave the roads that are on the State plan and those roads which are through localities like poor townships that can't afford to do it. Therefore, they thought that if anybody would be left off the State plan, it would be better for the boroughs to be left off because they are better able to take care of their paving themselves. Another reason was that many boroughs have the same width of street that the road is on either side. For instance they would have a 30 foot road and a 50 foot street. Another thing was that they had no control of the gutter or the curb on either side, and a more important reason for it was that a great many of the boroughs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, have going through and over the State highways, trolley lines, and there are contracts existing at the present time with these trolley lines and with boroughs whereby the trolley companies are to pay for the paving of these streets. There are some exceptions and I can very readily see how the gentleman from Montgomery County would favor a bill of this kind, and I am sorry that I cannot, but I object to it at this present time particularly for the reason that there are so many hundreds of miles at the present time in the State of Pennsylvania running through poor townships and poor districts that cannot afford to keep up those roads, and the Highway Department at this present time does not have the money to help them build new roads. There are at the present time 57 bills, as I understand, before the Public Roads Committee asking for short roads, some longer of course, to be placed on the State plan.

The objection is being made by the Highway Department, because they have too much or their plan now, that they can't build them nor take care of them. Therefore would it not be better at the present time while the highway department is in the position it is financially, and while these country districts that cannot afford as well as the borough to take care of their roads are in their present condition, would it not be better to leave the law as it is, because a great many of them have done it before and a large proporation of the boroughs have already built these roads, and therefore, while they have built them at their expense, those boroughs who have neglected their roads up to the present time would get the benefit of this act of assembly, Therefore, I say would it not be better to postpone this act until the Highway Department gets into a position financially so that they can take care of the system, and especially take care of that part of the system in the poorer districts, that cannot afford as well as the boroughs to take care of them.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 139, file folio 3085, be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. ORR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1290, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws ninety-four), entitled "An Act requiring the county commissioners, in all counties of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class of this Commonwealth, to provide an office at the county-seat for the district attorney and his assistants, if, any, and to furnish supplies, postage, telephone, fuel and light required for his and their use;" extending the provisions of the act to counties of the fourth class.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 316, as follows:

An Act to amend section three hundred and seven of an act aproved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three hundred and seven of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by an act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty-two) entitled "An act to amend an act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' and providing when the same shall become effective is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 307 In case of death compensation shall be computed on the following basis and distributed to the following persons

1 To the child or children if there be no widow nor widower entitled to compensation thirty per centum of wages of deceased with ten per centum additional for each child in excess of two with a maximum of sixty per centum to be paid to their guardian

2 To the widow or widower if there be no children forty per centum of wages

3 To the widow or widower if there be one child fifty per centum of wages

4 To the widow or widower if there be two or more children sixty per centum of wages

5 If there be neither widow or widower nor children entitled to compensation then to the father or mother if dependent to any extent upon the employe at the time of the accident twenty per centum of wages Provided however That in the case of a minor child who has been contributing to his parents the dependence of said parents shall be presumed And provided further That if the father or mother was totally dependent upon the deceased employe at the time of the accident the compensation payable to such father or mother shall be forty per centum of wages

6 If there be neither widow widower children nor dependent parents entitled to compensation then to the brothers and sisters if actually dependent to any extend upon the decedent for support at the time of his death fifteen per centum of wages for one brother or sister and five per centum additional for each additional brother or sister with a maximum of twenty-five per centum such compensation to be paid to their guardian

7 Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid the reasonable expense of burial not exceeding one hundred dollars which shall be paid by the employer or insurer directly to the undertaker (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses)

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child brother or sister only if and while such child brother and sister is under the age of sixteen No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support The terms "child" and "children" shall include stepchildren and adopted children and children to whom he stood in loco parentis if members of decedent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or remarry or should the widower become capable of self-support the right of such dependent or widower to compensation under this section shall cease Provided however That upon the remarriage of any widow other than a nonresident alien widow the employer shall pay to such widow the then value of the compensation payable to her during one-third of the period during which compensation then remains payable but not exceeding one hundred weeks calculated in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and sixteen of this article If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed twenty dollars per week nor be less than ten dollars per week

This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of three hundred weeks until such child reaches the age of sixteen at the rate of fifteen per centum of wages if there be but one child with ten per centum additional for each additional child with a maximum of fifty per centum The board may if the best interest of a child or children shall so require at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a widow or widower on account of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as hereinafter provided may direct If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe or dependent on whose account compensation is payable the amount payable on account of such minor dependent or insane employe or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other person as the board may order and direct and the board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependent to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure the proper application of the moneys received by such person" is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 307 In case of death compensation shall be computed on the following basis and distributed to the following persons

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Sample, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SAMPLE. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I wish the sponsor of this bill would explain its purpose.

Mr. SAMPLE. In our line of procedure with our clients, they very seldom interrogate us. This bill was given to me and it is offering this amendment to a law passed on the second day of June, 1915 regulating the compensation that is paid to families where an accidental death might occur. In most of the compensation laws of the smaller insurance companies there is a clause in the contract designating the payment of one hundred dollars for the funeral expenses but none of them state to whom that shall be paid. This designates that it shall be paid to the undertakers. In most cases the money is settled on the family, and in most of those cases the undertaker is neglected, and he has no recourse to come back on. In most of these cases in the smaller companies the money goes to the family, generally foreigners and they leave the town and go to some other place as soon as they get the money. All we ask in this bill is that it shall be paid to the undertaker.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SAMPLE. Yes, sir.

Mr. OGLE. Does this not increase the amount from one hundred dollars to three hundred dollars?

Mr. SAMPLE. No. sir, it asks for the amount stated in all of these policies. In most of the smaller policies one hundred dollars is set aside for funeral expense, but it is not designated to whom it shall be paid. This amendment merely asks that it shall be paid to the undertaker. It does not change the amount in any way at all.

Mr. OGLE. The undertaker maintains his reputation of taking all that is left, either one hundred dollars or three hundred dollars?

Mr. SAMPLE. He will take it if he can.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SAMPLE. Yes, sir.

Mr. SOWERS. I did not quite hear what you said. You said something about an undertaker and something about a funeral. Where did you say the bill was to be buried?

Mr SAMPLE. What is it that is to be buried?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MISS GALLAHER IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1033, entitled:

An Act providing that any person who was engaged in the military or naval service of the United States during any war in which the United States was engaged, and having an honorable discharge therefrom, shall receive credit for the experience and training derived from such service, in civil service examinations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1033, file folio 3047, be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 674, entitled:

An Act to promote the public health and safety by providing for the examination and licensure of those who desire to engage in the occupation of barbering; providing for the appointment by the Governor of an examination board; defining the powers and duties of such board; regulating barber shops, barber schools and barber colleges and apprentices and students therein, and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PATTERSON. Yes, sir.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain its purpose.

Mr. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether this question was asked in all fairness or not, but I am willing to explain the provisions of the bill. We have here a bill that I have been asked to sponsor, and I will be glad enough and hope to have the full support of the House on it. A similar bill, but not as good a bill as mine, has been presented here for several years, but this bill being a good bill, I hope that it will get away from that reference made to it as the usual barber bill, for it is an unusual bill. We have a bill here which in all seriousness I think ought to be passed. It is a bill the main purpose of which is to require health requirements, so we can go into a barber shop and have some assurance that we are going to get a shave or a haircut or whatever we would get, say a massage, and so forth, and not have it at the hands of some tubercular barber or a man suffering from worse than tuberculosis, some diseases of the blood which I do not need to name, which will be passed on if he nicks you and uses his hands in massaging your face. The bill provides for one thing for a board of five to control it. We have got to have some control over conditions. This board will be made up of experienced barbers who have practiced for ten years; they shall be appointed by the Governor for given terms, and under their supervision the candidates will be examined four times a year in various cities of the Commonwealth designated in the bill. This bill provides that these men will have served the proper apprenticeship, so when we go into a barber shop we know that we are getting into the hands of a competent barber, and not the graduate of a barber college, or so-called barber college, who at the end of six or eight weeks can drop into a shop after practicing on those men who patronize barber schools and colleges and who go in there and for one cent get a shave and for five cents a haircut. You know the kind of riff-raff they are working on. Then they come right out of there and work on you, if you drop into one of these shops. This bill provides that these men shall furnish all barbers—the present barbers, it is not going to effect them or put them out of business or anything of that kind. They simply furnish an affidavit as to the length of time they have been in service, also as to their health and their position. Then it goes on and says that they must pay one dollar a year. All of this money is turned into the treasury, there will be more than enough to sustain it, so it will always pay. we are not claiming it is a revenue raiser, but in the twenty-two states in which barbers are licensed they have been revenue raisers, or at least always self-supporting. There are twenty-two states in the Union where we have these bills and they are working out very well. Last year in the State of Illinois, which compares favorably with our own State in population, had a surplus of twenty thousand dollars. So the men patronizing barber shops will be sure that they are not going into an unhealthy and unsanitary barber shop, but will be going into barber shops coming under perfect sanitary requirements. They won't go into places where they wash their twels in the sink and all that kind of thing, as is done at the present time. From the matter of health and sanitation it is a measure we should all stand for, and hope to have the support of the House.

Mr. SOWERS. Madam Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PATTERSON. I will.

Mr. SOWERS. Does this bill prohibit the use of safety razors? Are you still permitted to shave yourself under the provisions of this bill?

Mr. PATTERSON. Yes you are, if you are able.

Mr. SOWERS. In what part of Pennsylvania is the College to be erected for the education of barbers?

Mr. PATTERSON. Well now, you have four of them in Philadelphia, and there are three in Pittsburgh.

Mr. SOWERS. Do any of these graduates shave you?

Mr. PATTERSON. No sir.

Mr. SOWERS. You never take a chance on them?

Mr. PATTERSON. No sir.

Mr. WONER. Madam Speaker, since I am satisfied that this bill does not prohibit the use of safety razors, and since it is a revenue raiser, I am heartly in favor of it.

Mr. OGLE. Madam Speaker, This bill I believe in its general effect will be wholesome for the State. I doubt very much whether it is sufficiently broad, however, to meet all the requirements that should be met. My experience in the barber shops is to the effect that you never know when you are done. The bill should be framed to meet the condition of the man who went into a barber shop and said "I want a shave". And he sat down in the barber's chair. "Now, I don't want a hair cut, and I don't want my face massaged, I don't want a shampoo, I don't want a manicure, nor do I want my boots blacked I want a shave Do you understand me"? "Yes, sir," replied the barber. "Do you want lather on your face?"

It is proverbial that the most loquatious men in the state generally are these graduates of the Barber's colleges, located in Philadelphia. If there could be some sort of a machine invented, or some sort of methods embraced in a bill of this kind to regulate the conduct of barbers in barber shops, gentlemen might go into them to have a shave without being solicited to have their boots blacked, or to be massaged or shampooed, or get a manicure from the lady sitting at the table at the side. He might come out after having paid the cashier and tipping the barber, and having to give to the boy who tends the rack where the coats are hung in order to buy back his hat and coat before he gets out alive. We have to put our lives and our fortunes and our sacred honor in the hands of these graduates of the Barber college when you get into their barber shops because they have in their hands most deadly weapons, and when we ask them to shave us we place our necks at their disposal. And if we get out alive we are very fortunate.

I am glad that the gentleman from Allegheny has presented this measure as it is a step in the right direction, and if we don't get all we are really entitled to, we will at least get a portion to start with. I am in favor of the bill.

Mr. STONER. Madam Speaker, I am not going to contribute any to the humor of this occasion, but to call the attention of the sponsor of the bill to section 17, which provides a college course for barbers of three years. Now, if I understand that section correctly, I might suggest that in all parts of the Commonwealth, outside of Philadelphia, the ordinary student would learn the trade in less than three years and I do not know but what it might make us just a little ridiculous to have that clause in the bill.

Mr. PATTERSON. It does not provide only for barber colleges. I think there will be very few of them that will come up from the so-called barber colleges. It provides that apprentices shall serve under the barbers as they now do, and learn their trade properly and puts in his time. It says that no barbershop shall have more than one apprentice authorized to two barbers. The men that go to the barber colleges and want to learn their trade that way can go, but they will have to put in the same time as apprentices there as they would as apprentices under the barbers in the shop. The men who run barber shops tell me that it takes that long for a man to properly learn the trade and become efficient. On this question of apprentices, their length of time in service, sometimes it is longer, but the majority of the barbers who advocate this bill and sponsored it claim that to be the time. We all know that when a man first goes in all he does is lather the man, if he takes lather as our friend says, washes his face. When he is through serving as an apprentice in that way he is permitted to shave and after a service for that length of time graduates if he is able to pass this board. I say that it does not want to provide for barber colleges, they are only taken care of in that way that they shall have the apprenticeship, but it does not knock out barber colleges. If anybody wants to run a barber college in Philadelphia or Pittsburgh why, let them run it, but they have got to have their apprentices service that time the same as they would if they worked in a shop.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SPEAKER GOODNOUGH IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HORNE asked and obtained permission to call up House Bill No. 1229, file folio 2931, placed on the postponed calendar, for the purpose of amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Horne.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1229, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten as amended, of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled, "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Page 5, line 8, after the word "education" strike out the words "shall fix" and insert at the end of said line 8 after the word "on" the words "the basis of".

Page 11, line 8, strike out the word "rule" and insert in lieu the word "rules."

Page 12, line 15, after the word "pay" insert the following: "for the biennium beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and ending on May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and each biennium thereafter."

Page 12, line 15, strike out the word "district" and insert in lieu thereof the word "districts."

Page 12, line 16, strike out the word "complies" and insert in lieu thereof the word "comply."

Page 12, line 18, after the first word "in" in said line, insert the following: "as shown by the certificate herein required to be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction in the November immediately preceding any such biennium."

Page 16, at the end of line 24, add the following: "Provided, That the amount paid to any school district within any biennium shall in no case exceed an amount computed on the data and information contained in the certificate required to be filed in the November immediately preceding such biennium."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1271, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful for the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to make, fix, alter, change or modify rates, fares, charges or other considerations set forth in any contract heretofore or hereafter made between a public service corporation and a municipality.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with reference to the pending bill, No. 1271, ordinarily it is a very great pleasure to me to support the legislation presented by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, but I cannot help but think that this bill embodies a dangerous proposition. We have already committed the question of rates to the Public Service Commission, and now this bill proposes to amend that where a rate has been established in the past by a contract between a utilities company and a municipal corporation so that the public service commission would have no jurisdiction over that contract. Now the effect of this, as I see it, that if a gas or an electric line was running along a particular stretch of highway, ten or fifteen miles and had a contract here with one borough and one here with another borough it would be obliged to charge at the contract rates in these boroughs and if it happened to be supplying power or gas, or whatever it might be it would demand a special rate and they would have to arrange a rate in between in order to equalize the loss which it was having under these contracts. I appreciate the fact that during the past two or three years we have had an era of high costs, and the rates have necessarily gone up, but by the same token when the period of low costs comes the rates will go down, and then if you have a contract with a municipality and this contract is exempt for the jurisdiction of the Commission, the rates will be kept at those high figures, whereas naturally there might be a reduction.

It seems to me to be fair to do just what we have been doing—submit the whole question of rates to the Public Service Commission and let then work out what is just and equitable. But to give them all the rates except this one sort of contract and to say they shall not have this one would be to my mind striking a vital blow at the whole system.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker. The Pennsylvania League of Boroughs at its recent session in Harrisburg unanimously agreed upon the terms of this bill and, at its request, I have sponsored it. They beleive that a contract between a municipality and a public service company should have the same sanctity as a contract between two individuals, but without discussing the merits of the bill, the House being light, I move that further action on the bill be postponed.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1174, entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 198), entitled "An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny, and prescribing its powers and duties; regulating the procedure therein, and providing for the expenses thereof;" by providing that said court shall consist of six judges.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there seems to be a prevailing impression that by this bill we are trying to increase the number of judges in the county courts of Allegheny County, while, in fact, we are trying to do just the opposite. The present number of judges in the county court is six. Under the law creating the county court, the number automatically increases with the increase in population, so we get a new judge in that court with every increase of one hundred fifty thousand population in the county. We got a new one only last year in that way. We now propose to amend the act by striking down the provisions for that increase and keep the number of judges as it now is. If you will kindly support me on this act, I will not bother you with the county court again at this session.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmatoive, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 977, as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and ninety-four) entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and fifty) entitled 'An Act authorizing the several counties incorporated towns and boroughs to appropriate annually sums of money to each camp of the United Spanish War Veterans and of the Army of the Philippines and to each post of the American Veterans of Foreign Service in the respective counties boroughs and towns to aid in defraying the expenses of Memorial Day' by authorizing appropriations to each post of the American Legion Veterans of Foreign Wars and to each Naval Association and each post of the Grand Army of the Republic" to include authorization of appropriations to each organization of ex-service men incorporated under the act of April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House or Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and ninety-four) entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and fifty) entitled 'An Act authorizing the several counties incorporated towns and boroughs to appropriate annually sums of money to each camp of the United Spanish War Veterans and of the Army of the Philippines and to each post of the American Veterans of Foreign Service in the respective counties boroughs and towns to aid in defraying the expenses of Memorial Day' by authorizing appropriations to each post of the American Legion Veterans of Foreign Wars and to each Naval Association and each post of the Grand Army of the Republic" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That the respective authorities of the several counties and incorporated towns of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized to appropriate annually to each camp of the United Spanish War Veterans and to each post of the American Legion and to each post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and to each Naval Association and to each post of the Grand Army of the Republic and to each organization of ex-service men incorporated under the act of April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto in the respective counties or towns a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars to aid in defraying the expenses of Memorial Day

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state at this time what this bill stands for. It is an amendment to the act of June 25, 1913 and also to the Act of May 17, 1921, which gives to every one of the organization of ex-service men who are incorporated under charter by the State an annual contribution for Memorial Day, and this one is the only one not specifically specified, and is mentioned in lines 3, 4 and 5 on page 3 of this bill "and to each organization of ex-service men incorporated under the Act of April 29, 1874, and the supplements thereto." We have a condition in our county that is not alone. The Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish American War Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, they are all chartered separately, and this organization is chartered separately, and we are only asking that it may be given the same legal status as the other organization.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1360, as follows:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred anl eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convits instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries"

Section 1 be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section six of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead or imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 6 Whenever any person convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary shall be sentenced to imprisonment therefor in any penitentiary or other institution of (the) this State or in any county or municipal institution the court instead of pronouncing upon such convict a definite or fixed term of imprisonment shall pronounce upon such convict a sentence of imprisonment for an indefinite term stating in such sentence the miuimum and maximum limits thereof and the maximum limit shall never exceed the maximum time now or hereafter prescribed as a penalty for such offense and the minimum limit shall never exceed one-fourth of the maximum sentence prescribed by any court

Provided That if it appear that any person so convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime other than murder has never before been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary no minimum limit shall be fixed and the maximum shall not exceed the longest period fixed by law as the maximum penalty for the offense of which such person has been convicted

And provided further That any convict in any penitentiary or other institution of this Commonwealth or in any county or municipal institution who is now serving under any sentence or sentences imposed after the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven may when he or she shall have served one-fourth of such maximum sentence or sentences or being a person convicted of any crime other than murder who has never before been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary at any time after his commitment be eligible for parole under the provisions and subject to the conditions of the act to which this is an amendment

Provided further That nothing herein contained shall be construed to derogate from the power of the judges of the courts of quarter sessions and of the courts of oyer and terminer or other court of record having jurisdiction of the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth after due injury to release on parole any convict confined in the county jail or workhouse or their respective districts as provided in section one of an act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-nine) entitled "An act extending the powers of judges of courts of quarter sessions and of oyer and terminer in relation to releasing prisoners in jails and workhouses on parole" and

Provided further That no person sentenced for an indeterminate term shall be enntitled to any benefits under the act entitled "An act providing for the commutation of sentences for good behavior of convicts in prisons penitentiaries workhouses and county jails in this State and regulations governing the same" approved the eleventh day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, Page 3, line 25, by inserting after the word "jail" the words "house of correction"

Also, page 4, line 3, after the word "parole" insert the words "its amendments and supplements"

Amend Section 6, page 3, line 24, by striking out the word "injury" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "inquiry"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1259, entitled:

An Act providing that certain election to take under or against the will of decedents heretofore required to be filed by surviving husbands or wives shall be presumed to have been made to take under said will

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be some mistake in the printing of the file folio of House Bill No. 1259, and for that reason I ask that the bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 333, entitled:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1305, as follows:

An Act to confer upon the Courts Sessions of the severeal Counties of the Commonwealth jurisdiction and power to authorize the removal of the remains of the dead from private burial grounds which have or shall become unsightly and unsuitable places for interment

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any private burial ground by reason of the drilling of oil wells or the opening of mines or quarries in the vicinity thereof or from any other cause has become or shall hereafter become unsightly and an unsuitable place for the repose of the dead the Court of Quarter Sessions of the County in which such burial ground is situated on petition of the trustee or trustees having charge thereof or of any person having a relative buried therein shall have jurisdiction and power to authorize and direct the removal of the remains of all dead from such private burial ground to such other suitable ground as shall be provided by the petitioner or petitioners for the reinterment of the bodies Notice of the presentation of a petition for any such order or removal and reinterment shall be given by advertisement once a week for a period of three (3) weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the County and in such other manner as the Court may direct

The second section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 Such removal and reinterment shall be made by the petitioners in a careful manner at their own expense to another suitable burial ground provided by them or if desired by the relatives or friends of such dead to some properly regulated burial ground or cemetery in the immediate vicinity and said Court may enforce by proper process orders and decrees made under this act Provided however That before the removal of the remains of the dead notice of such removal shall be given by advertisement once a week for two successive weeks in two daily newspapers of the County wherein such burial ground is situated And provided further That relatives and friends of such dead shall have the right to remove the remains at their own expense at any time during the proceedings before actual removal under order of Court And further provided That all bodies when so removed shall be placed in separate caskets and graves and the headstones monuments or other marks placed over the remains of said bodies shall be taken by the persons authorized to make such removal and placed as near as can be in the same relative position as before removal

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill which I think should have some consideration on the part of the members of this House. It refers to the burial grounds of our dead. You will notice in this bill that there can be a removal of those bodies for any cause by directions of the Court of Quarter Sessions. I do not like the idea of the desecration of our private burial grounds for any purpose. The purpose of this bill may be all right so far as oil wells are concerned, and mining operations are concerned, but there is a clause in there that appeals to me, that may reach any private burial grounds in this Commonwealth, and some person after we are dead and gone for some selfish purpose may bring up a case before the Court of Quarter Sessions, and have your body and my body removed to some place where we wouldn't want it at all. Now if the clause in the bill which says that were removed I might vote for the bill, but as it stands now I feel it is going to mean such desecration of our private burial grounds that I trust every member of this House will vote against it.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the gentleman from Huntingdon has such decided objections to the bill, and as I only stood sponsor for it out of courtesy to a friend of this House, I move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 486, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and eight) entitled "An Act regulating the closing of public highways and providing for the locating marking and maintenance of detours necessitated by such closing" and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and eight) "An Act regulating the closing of public highways and providing for the locating marking and maintenance of detours necessitated by such closing" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 When any public road or highway shall be so closed it shall be the duty of the authorities authorizing the closing to immediately designate or lay out a detour on which they shall erect or cause to be erected and maintained while such detour is in use legible signs at each public road intersection throughout its entire length indicating the direction to the main highway and during the period when such detour is in use it shall be the duty of the authorities closing the main highway to maintain such detour in safe and passable condition and they are hereby authorized to pay for the cost of such maintenance out of such funds as are available for the maintenance of the highways in their charge It shall also be the duty of such authorities to immediately remove all detour signs when the highway originally closed is again opened for traffic

Any person who shall willfully remove or deface or destroy any barricade danger sign detour sign or sign of any other character whatsoever erected or placed under the authority of this act shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall be imprisoned one day for each dollar of fine and costs unpaid

All fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the officer receiving the same to the treasurers of the respective cities boroughs towns or townships in which the offense was committed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1078, as follows:

An Act to amend section twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-nine) entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" providing for re-hearings in cases where licenses have been suspended or revoked and for the reinstatement of licensees in certain cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-nine) entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" which was amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and seventy-one) entitled "An Act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent therewith' as amended by an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled 'An Act to amend title and sections three and four and five and six and nine and eleven of an act entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith 'approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven' by providing for further instruction prior to examination for licensure by clarifying sections five (5) and twelve (12)" and the act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and fifty-eight) entitled "An act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred thirty-nine) the title of which as amended by an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred twenty) reads 'Relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith' by amending sections three (3) and four (4) and five (5) and six (6) and twelve (12) by providing certain equivalents for preliminary education by omitting certain required published notices by reconstituting a quorum by omitting second year examinations by recasting and extending terms on which reciprocity may be established and by clarifying the several sections" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 12 The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure shall refuse to grant a license to practice medicine and surgery to an applicant upon the presentation to said Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of a court record showing the conviction in due course of law of said persons for producing or aiding or abetting in producing a criminal abortion or miscarriage by any means whatsoever and further the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure upon such evidence and proof shall cause the name of any physician licensed to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be removed from the record in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction

The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure may refuse revoke or suspend for a definite or indefinite time the right to practice medicine and surgery in this State for any or all of the following reasons to wit The conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits or stimulants narcotics or any other substance or any condition which impairs intellect and judgment to such an extent as to incapacitate for the performance of professional duties

Any person who is licensed to practice medicine and surgery or any of its branches in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvan or who is an applicant for examination for licensure to practice medicine and surgery in this State against whom are preferred any of the foregoing charges for causing the revocation or suspension of license or for causing refusal of the right to be examined for licensure shall be furnished by the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure with a copy of the complaint and shall have a hearing before the Bureau or by attorney and witnesses may be examined by said Bureau respecting the guilt or innocence of said accused

Whenever a revocation or a suspension of a license has heretofore or may hereafter take place for any reason whatsoever the Bureau or a majority thereof in their discretion may grant a hearing in the nature of an appeal from any former action which may have been taken in such and upon such re-hearing a hearing shall be held de novo and hereafter the former action may be modified in part or in whole or rescinded in its entirety and the former licensee whose license was revoked or suspended may be reinstated upon such terms and conditions as may be determined

The revocation or suspension of license of any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery shall be removed when said narcotic or vicious habit hereinbefore specified shall have been adjudged by the said Bureau to be cured or overcome and said suspended licentiate deemed capable of practicing his or her profession In any case where after a suspension or revocation of a license for a period of five years any such former licensee shall show conclusively that he has discontinued the habits or practices which caused the suspension or revocation of his license such former licensee must be reinstated by the bureau Likewise the revocation or suspension of license of any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery shall be removed at such time as the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure is convinced from the nature of the case causing the revocation or suspension that the case did not in fact involve moral turpitude or that the licentiate whose license has been revoked or suspended has been sufficiently punished and is not likely again to engage in an illegal or improper course of practice Provided however That any action taken in regard to suspension or revocation of license or removal of any suspension or revocation and the reinstatement of any licentiate must be by unanimous vote by the members of the Bureau present at a meeting at which such action is taken except in cases where conclusive proof has been adduced as above provided in which case a majority vote of the whole number shall be sufficient reasonable safe condition as against such danger Whenever the fire marshal shall find any building or part thereof which for any cause or reason constitutes a fire menace which cannot be removed by repairs to said buildings in any other way than by the destruction thereof the said fire marshal shall order said building or any part thereof demolished specifying in said order the reason or reasons thereof and allowing a reasonable time within which the work of tearing down and removing said building shall be commenced and prosecuted to completion All such orders shall be in writing and shall be made and served upon the owner life tenant lessee or bailee of such building premises or property or upon the agent for any of same either (a) By handling a true copy thereof to such owner life tenant lessee or bailee or agent or (b) By posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the said building premises or property and mailing a copy thereof to the owner life tenant lessee bailee or agent whose address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained by said fire marshal making such order In case such address is not known or cannot be ascertained as aforesaid then in lieu of such mailing a copy of said order shall in addition to the above mentioned posting thereof be handed to the responsible occupant or person if any in charge of said building premises or property Any owner life tenant lessee bailee or agent upon whom any such order may be made or served by aforesaid fire marshal may within five days from the service of said initial order appeal to the fire marshal by petition in writing setting forth distinctly under oath or affirmation the facts and reasons upon which said appeal is based whereupon the fire marshal shall forthwith investigate the facts upon which such order was made and the grounds or reasons for such appeal and make his final order in writing affirming or revoking or modifying the original order which said final order of the fire marshal and any initial order made by him shall be filed in his office and shall be open to the inspection of the appellant or any person against whom the order may have been made If the said initial order be affirmed upon such appeal the same shall be and remain in full force against and in all respects be complied with by the owner life tenant lessee bailee or agent named therein within the time therein specified and in the event that such initial order be modified the same shall remain in full force and be in all respects complied with as modified Any owner life tenant lessee or bailee or agent aggrieved by any initial or final order of the fire marshal may appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of said county in which the real or personal property in question is situated within ten days after the making and filing of such order of the fire marshal Provided That such owner life tenant lessee bailee or agent shall as a condition precedent to such right of appeal first file notice in writing to said fire marshal of his intention to appeal to said court of common pleas Such notice of intention to appeal shall be given by mailing the same by registered letter to the office of the fire marshal Said appeal to said court of common pleas shall be taken by presenting to and filing in said court a petition in writing verified by the oath or affirmation of the appellant setting forth distinctly the facts and reasons upon which said appeal is based and there shall be filed with said appeal proof of service upon the fire marshal in the manner aforesaid of the said notice of intention to take such appeal a copy of such petition by registered letter to the fire marshal at his office in said county on the same day upon which said petition is presented and filed in said court of common pleas Upon the re-presentation of such petition the court shall proceed summarily to hear and determine at a date as early as possible the reasonableness and lawfulness of said order of the fire marshal On the date so fixed for the said hearing the appellant shall give notice by letter to the fire marshal at his office in said county Upon the representation of said petition the court may at its discretion enter an order superseding the order of the fire marshal appealed from pending the final hearing and judgment of the court upon said appeal upon the appellant filing bond with sureties approved by said court in such amount not less than one hundred ($100) dollars as said court shall direct and on such conditions as the court may dee mproper and direct under the circumstances of the case including however the condition that the appellant shall pay all the costs of such appeal in the event that same be dismissed The appellant at the time of the presentation of said petition shall have the right to demand by writing presented and filed with his appeal a trial by jury and if the order of the fire marshal appealed from shall in effect be of such a character that its enforcement would affect any rights of the petitioner concerning the determination of which trial by jury is secured by the Constitution of the Commonwealth the Court shall direct an issue to be framed to determine such matters as may within such rights of trial by jury and shall advance said case to the head of the next trial list of said court for final determination as speedily as possible Pending such trial by jury and the final judgment thereon the court may enter an order superseding the said order of the fire marshal appealed from in the same manner as is herein provided in cases where no trial by jury is demanded and in the event that trial by jury is not demanded at the time and in the manner aforesaid the court shall proceed summarily to hear and determine said appeal at a date as early as possible The judgment of said court of common pleas upon said appeal affirming modifying or revoking the order of the fire marshal appealed from shall be final and in the event that said judgment is against the appellant or in the event that said appeal be dismissed for any cause judgment for costs shall be entered against the appellant Any owner life tenant lessee or bailee against whom or upon who or against or upon whose agent any initial or final order of the fire marshal or any order of the officers shall have been made and served as aforesaid who shall neglect fail or refuse to comply with the terms of such order within thirty days after service thereof or in the event that an appeal be taken as herein provided then within thirty days after the final order of the fire marshal or the final judgment of the court of common pleas as the case may be shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten ($10) dollars nor more than fifty ($50) dollars for each day's neglect or to be imprisoned in the jail of said county for a period not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the court In case any initial or final order shall direct the repair of any building or part thereof or the removal of any building or part thereof and the owner or owners shall fail or refuse to comply with such orders then the fire marshal is authorized and empowered to cause such building to be repaired or demolished and the materials removed as the case may be at the expense of the owner or owners The initial expense of such repairs or removing shall be paid by the fire marshal out of funds appropriated for such purposes and if the owner or owners shall thereafter neglect or refuse to pay the costs and expenses thus incurred to the fire marshal within thirty days from the receipt of notice of the amount thereof said fire marshal shall through the attorney of his department enter suit in the proper county and recover the same as provided by law for the collection of debts including the attorney's commission of five per cent for collection which said five per cent shall be paid into the county treasury

Section 12 The fire marshal in addition to any investigation made may at any time investigate the origin or circumstances of any fire occurring in said county The fire marshal his deputy or assistants shall have the power to summon witnesses and compel them to attend before the fire marshal and to testify in relation to any matter which is by the provisions of this act subject of inquiry and investigation and may require the production of any books papers or documents deemed pertinent or necessary to the inquiry and shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to any person appearing as a witness before them such examination may be public or private as the officers conducting the investigation may determine No person shall be excused from attending before said fire marshal when summoned so to attend or producing any books papers or documents before such officer upon any investigation proceeding or inquiry instituted under the provisions of this act If after any such examination the fire marshal is of the opinion that the facts in relation to such fire indicate that a crime has been committed the testimony taken on such examination together with any other data in his or their possession shall be presented to the attorney of this department who shall institute such criminal proceedings as such testimony or data may warrant Each witness who shall appear at any investigation in compliance with a notice to attend shall be entitled to receive from the Commonwealth through the fire marshal such fees and mileage as are allowed by law to witness in courts of record of this Commonwealth If after any examination the fire marshal shall be of the opinion that the facts in relation to such fire indicate that the same has been of incendiary origin the fire marshal his deputy or assistants shall be and are hereby authorized and empowered to arrest without warrant any person or persons whose guilt of arson may be indicated by the evidence in the possession of the fire marshal or his deputy or assistants In event of such an arrest the person or persons so arrested shall be forthwith taken before the fire marshal or a justice of the peace alderman or magistrate of the county in which said crime is alleged to have been committed and any information there made against said person or persons which information shall be proceeded with according to law The fire marshal his deputy or assistants may at all reasonable hours enter any buildings or premises within his or their jurisdiction for the purpose of making any inspection he or they may deem necessary in order to carry into effect the provisions of this act and any owner life tenant or lessee of said premises or any agent or representative of any of the same in possession thereof who shall refuse permission for such inspection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten ($10) dollars or undergo an imprisonment not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the court

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, we are now well towards the middle of the month of April, and last evening at this week's session, the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means read to us a statement consisting of what he calls "twelve conclusions." I am sorry that there weren't two more, so that we would have had a political prestige of "fourteen points" for this Legislature. Mr. Speaker, the statement made by him was very interesting. It restates many things with which all of us are familiar and told us some things we didn't know about. I quickly counted up the membership of the Committee on Ways and Means as given to us in our revised booklet, and find a membership of forty-four, or approximately one in every five members of the House. Now, I don't happen to be one of the—I used to think fortunate, but I think we'd better regard them as the unfortunate—forty-four. Therefore, I am very much in the dark. There are four out of every five members of the House who are very much in the dark. We have come to the time in our session where, instead of, or shall I say, in addition to the statement which we received last night, we ought to have some statement from the Ways and Means Committee through its chairman or someone whom the committee may designate, telling us what the general plan of action is. If they don't know it, and we can't ask them to go faster than they are going, they are working hard, we understand they are at least—and this is the point I want to make—then, at least we should not be asked to vote on a bill such as was on last night's calendar, relating to a tax on fuel products.

The bill may be a commendable one, but it, instead of having a scant constitutional majority or quorum as last night, we would have had two-thirds of the membership of the House, had it been Tuesday night instead of Wednesday night, when that bill would have been up for consideration; and I submit, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, and particularly to members of the Ways and Means Committee, it is not fair to us who are not on the Ways and Means Committee to be asked to vote on a bill of this kind which is a partial tax raiser unless somebody takes us into their confidence in a manner other than through the daily newspapers, who in some respects don't know any more about it than the rest of us, and tell us what part this is in the whole scheme of new taxes which the Ways and Means Committee wishes us to consider. The thing I think we ought to have, whether it is next Tuesday or a week from next Tuesday or two weeks from next Tuesday or three weeks, as the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee said,—of course, we want it as soon as we can get it—the thing we ought to have is a report or an outline showing where, in the scheme of new taxes, each bill comes which from now on they are going to report out to us for action. I read for an example in this morning's papers that there was a meeting last night. The reporters weren't in that meeting, I am sure, and therefore, what we get is a second-hand version through some persons once or twice removed as to what took place; and there are charges that somebody who was politically inclined suggested that there should not be a manufacturers' tax.

Now, I want to state, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that I come here with an open mind on the question whether we should or should not have a manufacturers' tax. I am not bound by the precedent of some forty years, established some say, by public policy, and some say by a very well managed lobby. I am not controlled by that, but this fact I should like to know, whether the Ways and Means Committee has considered the question of sales tax. I should like to know whether they have considered some new scheme of taxation on natural resources, and are not passing the buck solely to anthracite coal. I should like to know whether they have considered the possibility of following the line of least resistance, which seems to be the only policy the State of Pennsylvania has adopted for the past twenty-five years in levying its taxes, and if you don't believe me, go back and read the various messages of the Governors who have signed bills imposing State taxes, where they have always done it reluctantly, because they realize the inherent and unsound reasoning upon which the bills were based and passed in this House and in the Senate. Now, I want you to get one thing mighty clearly. There are some men who come farther from Harrisburg than I do, and these men have come down here, Mr. Speaker,—and I have been up visiting in their regions and I know how long it takes them to get home,—and we are down here day after day, for two days, and we can hardly get a constitutional quorum on Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday evening. This morning you noticed that the minute anybody indicated opposition to a bill, it must go over, because the Constitution clearly provides for a real quorum, not one of one vote over 105 members. It is a shame when ten votes can kill a bill, and we have got to put it on the postponed calendar. Now, the reason that I mention this is that until we can meet day after day and solve these problems we are not going to go home, because we are here at this place: I am speaking for Ludlow from Montgomery County, and not anybody in or out of the Administration, or anybody in or out of the Ways and Means Committee,—I am told that there is not a tax measure that will come out that will pass this House, and that, therefore, we are going to adjourn and we shall have passed the burden a little more parliamentary expression than the one I used a few minutes ago, to the man who sits across the hall. Well now, if you are willing to do that, you are doing one of two things; either you are defeating the Edmonds' School Law by indirection, or you are second-story workers, going up the back of the House instead of coming in through the front door. You are trying to defeat what you haven't the nerve as a House to defeat and go back to our beautiful homes and say, "We would not vote for a tax;" and the answer is, the Governor can't come down and pass the burden back to my school district and your school district, and you don't dare go home, and I don't dare go home and tell them that we don't have the courage, in a big way, to face our problems of taxation. Now, we can't have this governor,—and in my mind and in the mind's eye I think you all like to think what we would do if we were Governor besides answering critics—if I were the Governor and this House and this Senate would adjourn without demanding ample taxes to finance the full school program I would call an extra session, with the expense it involves, and I would pass the responsibility directly to the gentlemen of the House and Senate who voted for going home without cleaning up, not the mess we read about politically, but the taxes necessary, and Mr. Speaker, my purpose in rising now is to say that I sincerely hope you will go further, I beg of the Ways and Means Committee to give us some statement, as to when they are ready,—we have no right to hurry them through their burdens, except to know that they are working continously and faithfully,—but I do ask that Committee to come to us, not with a statement of facts that we all know with few exceptions, but with a statement of a plan that under personal privilege or other constitutional parlimentary methods we may discuss here in each others presence and not have to pick up a newspaper of one kind or another and learn what is going on. I want to go home and think I have tried, at least, to vote intelligently. I want to know that we have considered these things and not have a bill slipped in on us and another six nights later and another two months later. I don't intend to discharge my duties that way, and I know that when I say this, I am speaking, not merely for myself, but I am speaking the sentiment of a majority of the members of the House. Let's have light; let's stop passing the burden back and forth. I know that members of the committee with whom I have talked would like to do that.

And I take this opportunity, in the only legitimate way open to me as a member of the House, and that is under the plea of personal privilege, to ask that it be done. Let us have a little light on something that we need a lot of light on.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of attention to my friend, and his discussion of Ways and Means Committee, but it seems to me that the discussion at this time of the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee is mean ways. Now the calendar was going along very nicely, we were accomplishing lots of work, and we were finishing our work. I hope the members will proceed with the work and accomplish something and let light alone Light may fall, light may hit complainants. Let us go ahead with our work.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I have listened likewise with pleasure and profit to the remarks made by the gentlemen who have preceded me on this subject. As I understand it, as a member of the Ways and Means Committee, we are now facing a deficit of about twenty millions of dollars which must be raised to give us a clean sheet financially at the expiration of the two years of our term. Various methods or means, as suggested by the chairman, Mr. Woner, are presented to the House. As chairman he has not endorsed any one or two of the twelve conclusions at which he says he has arrived. It would have been more to the purpose, it seems to me, had he taken the bit in his mouth and designated the two that in his opinion ought to be adopted. A leader would have stepped into the breach. We have been groping in the darkness, looking for light, for a rainbow somewhere. Now speaking for myself, gentlemen, this is a serious condition for an honest Commmonwealth to be confronted with; the payment of twenty millions of dollars; the richest body of people asking us to lead them on the way out, whereby they can look the world in the face and owe not any man, and can put their school system and their road system on a basis where there will be no one to point the finger at them for any dereliction in duty Now then for a long period of years Pennsylvania has protected for what has been for many years called their "infant industries". If the manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, between now and when we shall meet on next Monday night, will get themselves together and say to us, "We will come to the relief of the Commonwealth for a period of two years, and we will submit, if you place on us such a tax as will raise that money, and relieve the other burden bearers," then the gentlemen of this House who seem to be so reluctant to vote against their friends, political, personal and otherwise, who happen to be in the manufacturing business, will be given carte blanche, and we can in a single day send a measure before us that will be adopted to relieve everybody. I call upon the manufacturers of this State, as patriotic sons of the Commonwealth, to come to the rescue. Do not stand back longer and say to us, "Whip the the horse drawing the burden, that is bearing the load; put a tax of twelve and one-half per cent. on corporations that are now being taxed." I say it is cowardly and UnAmerican and unpatriotic, when they have the ability and means, to wilfully stand back and say, "We refuse to take our share of the public burden." I hope the suggestion that I make, that they take action between now and our meeting on Monday night, and pass a resolution that such a measure be adopted by this House which will clear the atmosphere and let us go back with our duties fully performed.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, I desire to answer to a certain extent those members who have already spoken on questions of personal privilege. I am a member of the Ways and Means Committee and am also on the sub-committee that is endeavoring to work out some plan that will be the least burden on the people of this Commonwealth to bear. I recognize the fact that we cannot do anything by rising in our seats on questions of personal privllege. I have not heard the gentleman from Montgomery County at any time come before the Committee and suggest anything to us or to our working committee or in any way endeavor to bring about some point of profit to the Commonwealth. I have not heard him even suggest to any member of the Committee or sub-committee any plan he might have. He speaks about us passing the buck. The trouble with us in this House at the present time, when he says we cannot put any tax bill through this House, the cause of that is known. The fact has been stated through the newspapers and by the reporters in public and otherwise, that the Governor is not asking for any extra revenue. The Governor said in his budget that he proposes to carry on this business without any extra revenue. Ah yes, but it is couched in certain language which can be used in two different ways, and has two different meanings, that if the legislature wants to raise extra taxes for education, why it is up to them. Pass the buck, may you please, sir! And here is the result, the result is that every letter you get from back home on the tax bill, every one of these letters say, "What do you want to raise taxes for, the Governor says he doesn't want them?" There is where the trouble is. If the Governor would come to the front now and say he is mistaken about not wanting more taxes, and say that he must have them, then the burden of this legislature would be much easier than it has been. When you go back home, and meet these people back home, and I get it more than some of the other members of the House because I offered in the House as a means toward helping conditions what is known as the luxury bill—of course for that reason I have had directed at me letter after letter, and every one of them has in it that same expression, "Why are you after taxes, you have always been for an economy plan,you fought last session in the House on the question of economy, the Governor was elected on an economy platform, and he says he wants no new taxes. Why are you asking for taxes?" As I say, he has not been fair with us, because he has placed this House in that very position. Every day, the newspapers, commenting on those members of the legislature who are opposed to the Governor, say that they are endeavoring to levy extra taxes for the purpose of taking care of their friends who have jobs in the legislature. That is what we get every day and that is the way the impression goes, and that is why we have heard it said, according to some of the members, that it is absolutely impossible to get any tax raiser through this House, and that is just the reason why the Governor will have to come out first and say to the public that he needs taxes, because the public has confidence in him at the present time, and when he says that he doesn't need extra taxes, they take him one hundred per cent at his word.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILLEGE.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am a member of the Ways and Means Committee. I am not speaking authoritatively for the committee, but am giving only my opinion. The other night when I spoke upon a bill that was under consideration in this House, it was charged that I was speaking with a partisan object. When I became a member of this House I laid partisanship aside, and I am just as much interested in the state's schools and highways as any other individual of the state. On January 16, when the Governor addressed the joint session of the House and Senate, he made the remark that he was not asking for additional taxes, and in the course of his address he said, "I repeat gentlemen, I am not asking for additional taxes."

I think that the Ways and Means Committee should not be charged with neglect of duty, because every time there is an estimate placed on the needs of the State it varies, and the Ways and Means Committee does not know where it is standing. I have been informed by members of the House, and by men in positions of responsibility whom I believe know the situation, that if this deficiency were spread over a period of four years, additional taxes would not be required. I am informed also that this deficiency accrued over a period of ten years, and why should the House attempt to pay this deficiency in two years, when it has been growing for over ten years. When a business concern gets into financial difficulty, it is often taken over by the creditors. They do not expect the business concern either by a miracle or by rubbing Aladdin's Lamp, to get millions to pay off this deficiency in a short time. They give that concern a period of years through which to rehabilitate themselves and to make up this deficiency. Information has been given, as the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, has said to the people everywhere, that the Governor does not need additional taxes, and why should the legislature pass additional taxes. It has also been informed, by some people in position to know, that as soon as the legislature adjourns the Governor will begin to clean house and clean up the mess on the Hill. As a member of this legislature, before I vote for additional taxes, I would like to see the mess, if there is any mess,—and we have the Governor's word for it,—cleaned up immediately. I would like to see the Governor show his authority and show his sincerity by cleaning up the mess before he asks for additional taxes. I repeat, that it is my purpose, since this deficiency can be met in four years without additional taxes, and because of the fact that the mess has not been cleaned up, I repeat, I am not in favor of additional taxes.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I shall be brief and will not tire you. I can not agree entirely with all that has been said by all of the gentlemen who preceded me, but on the subject of spreading the payment of the deficit over a period of four years, I do heartily agree. It has been said in a rather indefinite way, so far as figures are concerned, that it is a good scheme. Let us see how it figures out when we take the actual arithmetic of the matter. Assuming that this proposition is accepted; as I understand the figures, there are $178,000,000, required for the budget if the budget remains as it is for another biennium after this, or making a four year period. The deficit as it now stands, I understand, is $23,000,000. The school deficit, as it now stands, is $36,000,000. Assuming these figures to be correct all the monies would make a total of $237,000,000. Now what are our tax conditions? According to the best information I have been able to get, and I have been a month trying to get this information, the taxes at present would amount in the next four years to $112,000,000, with an approximate excess of $7,000,000, or $231,000,000 leaving a present deficit of $6,000,000, which divided by six will give us a yearly deficit of $1,500,000, but we have to add to that deficit two items, one of $279,000 which was taken away from the general fund and placed in the bureau of Animal Industry, and the other of $434,000 which on account of the operation of the enforcement law the state will be prevented from having that income on licenses. Now where is this deficit? This deficit is in one department, as I understand, it is in the department of Public Instruction. I think the department of Public Instruction should at least be loyal and patriotic enough to endeavor with economy to assist in defraying and paying that deficit. I am not prepared to say that that department is extravagant, but I do believe that economy might be practiced which would go a long ways toward covering this small deficit if the proposition were carried over a four year period. In one county alone in the last ten years the population increased eleven and one-half percent, and the scholars in that county increased only three and one-half percent, but in one department alone, which is the county superintendent's office, the expenses there have increased three hundred and fifty-three percent. It seems out of all proportion that that increase should be so high when there is only an increase of three and one-half in scholars. I believe as a member of the Ways and Means Committee that the Ways and Means Committee of this body should not pass over those conditions, and I believe that the Ways and Means Committee should investigate along those lines with the purpose in view of suggesting such economies as they might be able to put into effect in that particular department. It might be necessary to modify somewhat the Edmond's Act. The Governor of this Commonwealth has already suggested modification, so it would not be considered lese majeste if we as a committee suggested the same thing. The suggestion should properly come from a member of the Ways and Means Committee, and that is why I have made that suggestion. I cannot believe that the Edmond's Act should be worshipped as any fetish. If it is wrong let us correct it, but if it is right let us stand back of it.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILLEGE.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personel privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, it is not out of a spirit of antagonism to the administration that I rise to make these few remarks, but we have had the pre-election promise of the Governor that he could run this state government on $89,000,000. He has stated repeatedly that he does not need any more money. He said, "I am going to clean up this mess, and I am going to do it with the money I have got". I have reliable information that the revenues of this state will amount to $115,000,000 for the next two years. Now if that be a fact, and I have no reason to doubt that it is a fact, if the Governor spends $89,000,000, he still has $26,000,000 left. Now if there is a deficit here of $29,000,000, that deficit can be paid the first year all but $3,000,000, and the last two years of his administration he can pay the other $3,000,000 and show a balance in the State Treasury of $23,000,000. Those are facts and figures that no administration and no committee can get away from. Now what I would like to know is this, is there in point of fact a deficit? I have not been able to find any single man who can put his figure down on one single thing and say, there is a deficit. Where is it? If we want to clean up this mess we want to clean it up here. We do not want reorganization of the State government. The Democrats made no pledges, but what the Democrats in this House are going to do is to hold the men to their pre-election pledges.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no intention of rushing to the defense of the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who is absent, further than to say that if he were here he could adequately answer to criticisms which have been thrown against him. I personally, know that he has been giving his time to this question to the best of his ability, such as he does possess, but he has no Aladdin's Lamp. Personally, Mr. Speaker, I have a plan in mind, which I think would meet the financial situation without imposing additional state taxes, yet I doubt if I could secure the support of the gentleman from Montgomery, or the gentleman from Somerset, for that plan, and it seems to me that that sums up entirely the situation which confronts the Ways and Means Committee. They are confronted with opposition to almost any plan under the sun, and until there can be an amelioration of sentiment regarding such plans, we must be content with the decisions of the Ways and Means Committee.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman on his question of personal privilege will be noted on the Journal.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I call for the order of the day.

The SPEAKER. The order of the day is bills on third reading and the House will now proceed to the consideration of such bills.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1140, (Senate Bill No. 130), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and eight) entitled 'An Act prohibiting under certain conditions the commutation encumbrance or assignment of the proceeds of life insurance and annuity policies and the income arising therefrom by persons entitled thereto prohibiting the attachment of such proceeds and income and authorizing life insurance companies to hold such proceeds as part of the general corporate funds" by extending the name to the proceeds and income from policies issued by both domestic and foreign companies

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question, ...

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1357, as follows:

An Act providing for the redemption and cancellation of the bond issued under the act approved April third one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two (Pamphlet Laws thirty-nine) entitled "An act directing the sale of the bonds composing the Agricultural College land script fund and authorizing the issue of a new bond in lieu thereof and abolishing the board commissioners created by act of April first one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three" and for the investment of the moneys in the fund resulting from such redemption and the payment of the interest therefrom by the Sinking Fund Commission to Pennsylvania State College

Whereas an act of Congress of the United States approved the second day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two entitled "An act donating lands to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts" under which certain public lands or land script was apportioned to Pennsylvania the interest or income from the investment or sale of which land or land script to be inviolably appropriated to the endowment support and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be without excluding other scientific and classical studies and including military tactics to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts

And Whereas Said act of Congress was accepted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by act approved April first one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and thirteen) entitled "An act to accept the grant of public lands by the United States to the several states for the endowment of agricultural colleges"

And Whereas By an act approved April third one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two (Pamphlet Laws thirty-nine) entitled "An Act directing the sale of the bonds composing the Agricultural College land script fund and authorizing the issue of a new bond in lieu thereof and abolishing the board commissioners created by act of April first one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three" the surveyor general was directed to sell the bonds held in trust for "the Agricultural College land script fund" and pay the proceeds thereof into the State Treasury for the use of the Sinking Fund Commissioners and which act further directed that the Governor Auditor General and State Treasurer issue a registered bond of the Commonwealth for the sum of five hundred thousand dollars payable to the Agricultural College land script fund of Pennsylvania after fifty years from the first day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two with interest on the same at the rate of six per cent. per annum to be paid semi-annually on the first of February and August of each year and deliver the said bond to the State Treasurer for the uses and purposes declared by law which bond was issued as therein directed

And Whereas Said bond matured on the first day of February one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two now therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Sinking Fund Commissioners of the Commonwealth of Pensylvania are hereby authorized and directed to redeem from the moneys in the Sinking Fund said bond issued under the authority of the act aproved April third one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two (Pamphlet Laws thirty-nine) entitled "An act directing the sale of the bonds composing the Agricultural College land script fund and authorizing the issue of a new bond in lieu thereof and abolishing the board commissioners created by act of April first one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three" by depositing in the State Treasury in a fund known as the Agricultural College Land Script Fund said sum of five hundred thousand dollars which bond shall then be cancelled by said Commission

Section 2 The Sinking Fund Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to invest the said five hundred thousand dollars in said fund in such securities as the said Sinking Fund Commissioners are authorized to invest the funds of the Commonwealth and pay the interest or income therefrom semi-annually on the first day of February and August of each year to Pennsylvania State College said Pennsylvania State College being such a college as meets the requirements of the act of Congress of eighteen hundred and sixty-two under which this appropriation was made to the State of Pennsylvania by the United States Government Provided nevertheless that any difference between the amount of the interest or income realized by the said sinking fund commision on such investments and the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars the latter being five per cent. of the total amount of such fund which Pennsylvania guaranteed said fund shall yield annually shall be paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from appropriations made for this purpose from time to time

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. David J. Jones.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 678, entitled:

An Act to amend clause three section two article two of chapter seven of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled "An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DAVID J. JONES, Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title line 2 by strikng out the word "two" where it first occurs in the line, and insert in lieu thereof "ten"

Amend title line 3 by adding after the word "seven" the following: "and section seven, Article one of Chapter twelve"

Amend section 1, page 2, line 5 by inserting after the word "to" the following: "detention in"

Amend section 1, page 2, line 6 by inserting after the word "house" the words "as hereinafter provided"

Section 2 That section seven, Article one of Chapter twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7 Upon judgment against any person by summary conviction of by proceedings by summons on default of the payment of the fine or penalty imposed and the costs, the defendant may be sentenced and committed to the borough lockup for a period not exceeding five days, or to the county jail or workhouse for a period not exceeding thirty days.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 51.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Department, Harrisburg, April 11, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 51, entitled, "An Act providing for the construction of certain bridges on State Highways, and providing for the apportionment of the cost, damages and expenses of construction of such bridges, and the maintenance thereof between the State, the county, and any railroad company or companies whose tracks are crossed by such bridge."

This Bill is primarily, if not exclusively, aimed to provide for the rebuilding of the bridge across Turtle Creek on the Lincoln Highway at Turtle Creek Borough, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania. The need for the relocation and rebuilding of this bridge is great. The Highway Department and the Public Service Commission are both in favor of rebuilding it. I join heartily in this feeling. There are, however, two strong reasons against allowing the Bill to become a law:

First: Either it is a special law passed for the building of this special bridge, which would make it unconstitutional, or it applies to an unknown number of bridges, which makes the extent of its demands upon the funds of the Highway Department an unsolved and unsolvable problem at this time.

Second: There is in existence a regular and legal method of relocating and rebuilding this bridge, namely, a proceeding which has already been begun, by the Public Service Commission which will result in an order for such rebuilding and an apportionment of the cost among the five parties interested. I believe it undesirable to change a regular practice, applicable throughout the length and breadth of the Commonwealth, when the end desired can be fully attained without such change.

All the parties interested were represented at a hearing before me today. All expressed their willingness to abide by such orders as the Public Service Commission may make concerning this matter. All were agreed that the bill should be vetoed, and that the needs and interests of all parties concerned will be given full consideration and ample protection in the order to be issued by the Public Service Commission.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto, together with the Governor's message, be laid upon the table.

Mr. LITTLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now abjourn until Monday evening, April 16, 1923, at 9:00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:30 P. M.) the House adjourned until Monday evening, April 16, 1923, at 9:00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 — 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 16, 1923. No. 40.

SENATE

MONDAY, ARRIL 16, 1923.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. T. L. Eyre) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We are very glad that we may come to Thee in prayer. We are thankful that this is a Christian Nation and a Christian Commonwealth. We believe in an Almighty God, a divine Providence that rules and overrules and that brings all things to pass. We are glad that by the will of the people, the sessions of our Congress and of our State Legislatures are opened day by day with prayer. We have faith in Thee. Without Thy guidance we are helpless; with Thee on our side we can do all things. If a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without Thy notice, can a Nation continue without Thine aid? In all the business of life, strengthen our faith in Thee.

Bless the Senators during this new week of legislative work, and direct them in all they do. For Jesus sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 118.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 12, 1923.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 118, entitled "An act providing that the county controller shall be made a party defendant in all suits against any county".

The evident purpose of this Act is undoubtedly good, but in its present form it would not accomplish the purpose for which it is probably intended, but might lead to misunderstanding and friction between the controller and the county commissioners instead of encouraging them to work together in harmony for the protection and defense of the county. Under existing laws all suits are brought in the name of the county and process is served on the county commissioners and they are required to make defense thereto. It is difficult to understand why controllers should be made co-defendants with the county when no such requirements are made with regard to county commissioners. It would seem advisable to make provisions for the serving of process on county controllers and require them to make defense, if any they have, in suits against the county similar to the provisions in our law with reference to county commissioners, but this Bill does not so provide.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass the objection of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, APRIL 16, 1923.

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, it is with a mingled sense of gratitude and sadness that we come into Thy presence at this evening hour. We are grateful to Thee for the many blessings which we have received from Thy beneficient hand. We thank Thee for the measurable degree of health and strength which Thou hast bestowed upon the major portion of the members of this House. We thank Thee for the restoration to health and strength of those who have been sick, and yet our hearts are saddened at the thought of the departure of one of our fellow-members and co-laborer. We pray Thy richest blessing upon the broken family circle of his loved ones. May the assuaging power of Thy presence, the smile of Thy countenance, and the strength of Thy grace be theirs in this dark hour. Help us to remember, O, Lord, that each one of us will some day, too, have to take our departure, and may we thereto set our thoughts and motives in action to prepare us for that day.

We ask it in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, April 12, 1923.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 846, file folio 4347, be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. HETRICK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. GEORE W. WILLIAMS. I have read with interest the remarks of several of the gentlemen of the House on Thursday last on the question of additional revenues with which to meet the requirements of the Edmond's Teachers' Salary Bill of 1921.

I ask the indulgence of the House under a question of personal privilege, that I may place my thoughts on this important question before the members.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker. The very unbalanced vote by which the House passed the anthracite tax repealer and the vote by which the suggested constitutional amendment looking to a graded system of taxation with provisions for an income tax was defeated, gives me good grounds for expressing doubt as to the probability of the House passing any tax measure giving us $18,000,000 which we are advised will be necessary to meet the obligations of the State to the school districts under the Edmonds Act. If I am correct in my conclusions, then where are we at? There is no use in deceiving ourselves and misleading our constituents with false taxes. The time is near at hand when the school boards will be making contracts with the teachers and levying the 1923-24 school taxes, and before doing either, they should know to a certainty whether we are to divide among them the $21,000,000 provided for in the budget, or $39,999,999, the amount necessary to meet the provisions of the Edmonds Act. If we are unable to increase the revenues $18,999,999, then as I see the matter, there is but one thing to do, and that is to amend the Edmonds Act, wiping out the increment provisions and the minimum salaries, leaving the question of the salaries to be paid the teachers to the local school boards, dividing the $21,000,000 provided for in the budget among the school districts on a fair and equitable basis. While such action would not prevent any school district paying more than the minimum salary as set forth in the Edmonds Act, it would enable the districts to fit the salaries and school expenses to the financial condition of the various districts.

Much as I would regret the necessity of taking such action, if we are unable to raise the additional $18,999,999 needed for the common schools and if we are to save the fourth class districts from what will otherwise be the greatest financial problem they have ever been called upon to face, it is to my mind, the only remaining solution to a very troublesome question, and for one, I am prepared to work along the lines I have suggested.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to House Bill No. 1229, on page 4 of tonight's calendar, Inasmuch as that embodies, I think, the only important bill in the calendar this year relating to the public schools, some explanation of its contents, and some further statement of the school situation should seem to me to be in order. For my part I would rather discuss the school measures when they are reached in the calendar than under the plea of personal privilege. When reached on the calendar there is then an opportunity for all of us who have views on the subject to present those views at that time so the members may have a clear understanding of what is involved. Now this bill, No. 1229, is an amendment to the school code, and an amendment also to the amendments to the school code, carried at the last session of the Legislature. The older members will not need to be reminded that there was a large number of bills presented for consideration at that time, all of which hung together and made up the general program for the public schools. On of those bills has been referred to in popular speech by my name, while I had very little to do with the framing of the technical details they were framed with a great deal of care by one of the most intelligent committees which I ever met aided as they were by the Department of Public Instruction, yet I am very proud to claim the Edmonds Act of 1921 and to point out the particulars in which this bill amends it.

In the main, this bill proposes three amendments to the Edmonds Act, all three of them made necessary by certain conditions in certain parts of the State. The first has to do with the payment of the subsidies by the State Treasurer to the school districts under the old law those subsidies were to be paid as soon after the first of February, as possible and that meant when The Treasury was in funds, and that meant necessarily that there were irregularities in the payments, and a number of the school districts from long deferred payments on account of these subsidies. The wealthier school districts could stand the strain because of the greater ease of borrowing money, but the poorer school disricts were seriously inconvenienced by that situation, therefore, it is provided in this bill that the payments to the 4th class districts shall be made in February and August of each year; to the second and third class districts in March and September of each year; and to the first class districts in April and October. In other words, the period of payment covers three months which lessens the strain upon the State Treasurer and the 4th class districts get their payments first, recognizing that their financial conditions may be more urgent. With that amendment, I take it, every one would be in harmony, because it embodies a common sense principle in dealing with a practical question.

Now, the second amendment is this: Under the act of 1921 the apportionment to the school districts was based upon certain returns made by the school districts to the Superintendent on the first of November of each year. On the first of November the Secretary of each school district makes up this list of eachers and principals and certifies that to the Superintendent of the State, and then on the basis of those returns the apportionment to the school districts is made. Now, the effect of that is that each year it is an increasing amount that is necessary for these quotas, and beecause of the financial conditions of the state it seemed wise to fix the amount now that would be needed for the next two years. Therefore, the second amendment is that the reports shall be made on the first of November of the even years, and that shall furnish the basis for distribution during the next two years, rather than one. In other words, the reports that were furnished on November 1st 1922, will be the basis of our appropriation, and our appropriation will be for two years, the amount that will be distributed in 1924 being indentical with the amount distributed in 1923. That is in the interest of fixing the amount now so that it will not be subject to a varied increase, and hence giving rise to a deficiency appropriation two years hence. Of course, anyone who stops to think will notice at once that that will hurt the progressive, growing school districts in comparison with those whose conditions are fixed static. A school district that has 100 school teachers in 1922, 100 in 1923, and 100 in 1924, will not be harmed by this method, but the school district that has 100 in 1922, 110 in 1923 and 120 in 1924 will get no benefit for that increase of 10 or 20 teachers until the next session of the Legislature, when a new apportionment will be made. However, You will all notice that the desire is to get rid of deficiency, and to get rid of the deficiency it becomes necessary to know the exact amount that is necessary for the next two years, and so strong is the desire that that arrangement shall be made that it seeems to me that the suggestion outlined here is worthy of favorable consideration tonight.

Now, there is a third change, and the third change relates particularly, to what, for want of a better term, you will have to call the poor school districts, poor in the sense of having less taxable wealth than the others, and the change there is this: That those districts in which the average wealth per teacher is less than $50,000, will receive 75% of the basic salary from the state, rather than 50% if they were 4th class districts; 35% if they were second or third class districts or 25% if they were first class districts. In other words, the new basis of apportionment, as has been introduced, whereas the old basis was to make the districts to be classified according to population are now the assessed under the distinction introduced whereby the poorer districts will have this additonal allottment, and where the assessed wealth per teacher is between fifty and one hundred thousand dollars, they will receive 60% of the basic salary. Now, the idea back of that is this, and I think there is a pretty general feeling among those who have studied public schools that the only place where the legislation of 1921 worked a hardship was in the poorer school districts where the assessed valuation was low, where the school board might lay the maximum school tax, and yet could not raise enough to meet the school districts share of the expenses. Now, It is in obedience to that cry that this amendment has been introduced. It is the introduction of what was called in the Governor's Message, the ability and effort plan, and the idea is to increase the State donation, or the State grant to those districts, which on account of the low assessed valuation of property are themselves so poor that they are not able, with their maximum school tax, to meet the entire demands of the system.

Now, these three are the basic changes which this bill makes, but Mr. Speaker, I should count myself as false to my trust if I sat down with merely an explanation of this point. A good deal has been said about the Edmonds Act in the course of the past two months, some of it has been intelligent, and some has been unintelligent, but perhaps the time has come when there should be a clear statement with reference to the working out of the school act of 1921, insofar as the teachers and the teachers' salaries are concerned.

I want to ask this question: Has the Edmonds act cost more than was anticipated? I want to give the answer to the question. There are more than 100 sitting in this House tonight who were members in the House of 1921, when this bill was up for consideration. I call your attention to the Legislative Journal of the House of Representatives. April 18, 1921 report of proceedings on House Bill 1016, pages 2042 and 2043. It is there in print. Mr. Philips, representing Clearfield County, a most delightful and amiable gentleman, said:

"Mr. PHILIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether this bill carries an appropriation.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker it does not carry an appropriation. It establishes a system which, in order to work out satisfactorily, will eventually require an appropriation of $36,000,000 for the two years from the State."

That statement was made on the floor of this House two years ago, and at the same time on the desk of every member there was a mimeograph memorandum showing exactly how that money was made up. $36,000,000 was the estimate, and what is the fact? Taking the two years of 1922 and 1923, and taking the amount in 1923 to include next November's amount, the total of 1922 and 1923 The Edmonds Bill will cost the state less than $35,500,000. There has never been a case in educational finance in which the estimates were more close and more accurate than the estimates that were submitted to the members of this House, and upon which the members of this House, voted two years ago. Why then, is it that people talk about $24,000,000 $21,000,000 and other figures of that kind. The reason for that is a misconception based upon a misunderstanding of facts. This Edmonds Act was not the first bill to help the teachers. There are appropriation bills going back to help the teachers. There are appropriation bills going back to 1834 made by the State to the school districts. Away back, twenty years ago, when Charles A. Snyder was a member of the Senate, I remember he introduced the Snyder Teachers' Salary Bill., and in 1919, four years ago, there was passed what was called the Woodruff Act, a supplement to the salaries of the teachers in the district, and that Woodruff act carried with it an appropriation for all of 1920 and 1921. When, therefore, the Edmonds Act was here for consideration it was only only necessary to provide for 1922 and the first period of 1923, and when they talk about $24,000,000 spent for education two years ago, and now $36,000,000 or $38,000,000, they mean $24,000,000 for a three six months period as compared with a four six months period, which is needed for the next biennium. If that statement has been clearly made to this House at the very beginning of our financial discussion, there would not have been so much misunderstanding concerning what they call the cost of this Edmonds bill.

Now, secondly: Has the Edmonds Act of 1921 worked? I want to say, Mr. Speaker, with all of th candor in my heart, and I say it without personal pride, for I have already explained to you that I had little to do with framing the details of that bill, but I want to say that in my judgment there has been no piece of legislation enacted upon the statute books of Pennsylvania that has brought anything like the good to education as has been brought by the legislation of 1921. What was the condition two years ago? We had 45,000 school teachers, of whom the majority had no professional training whatever. They had simply been certified temporarily in the various districts. They had not prepared themselves for the job of teaching. The Edmonds Act did more than increase salaries. It increased standards and it provided for the teachers a goal toward which they could work, and it provided that as they fitted themselves for higher work they would receive better and higher pay. Now what was the result? The result is that 22,000 public school teachers in Pensylvania, one half of our teaching force, spent their entire vacation in study so as to fit themslves for better service in the public schools. My friends, that is the kind of an improvement that passes from the school teachers to the pupils, and passes from the pupils back to the home, it touches every corner of the land. In Pennsylvania 30,000 have taken extension courses of one kind or another to fit themselves for higher work. There men, is an impression which shows itself in the spirit and the character of each schoolroom's life.

Now, the trouble has been in Pennsylvania that in years past we did not give the proper attention to education and the result was in 1919, 1920 and 1921, that our school system sagged, and sagged tremendously. I venture to beleive there is not a member in this House but has not in mind some illustration of that fact. We of Philadelphia know that in 1921 we were paying a teacher $1,100.00 and over the river in Camden they were paying $1,200.00 with the result that graduates of our normal schools were going over to Camden and taking positions, and in every county and district, and in other city districts the tendency was the same. We were gradually driving the teachers out of teaching into other lines, and by doing that we were lowering the standard of the public schools, we were lowering the tone of the public school, we were lowering the character of education which our children received. The Russell Sage Foundation has for a number of years been making a study of education. Pennsylvania in 1890 held 10th place; in 1900, 15th place, in 1910, 16th place; in 1918 21st place. Now, it is back again in 11th place. What is that based on? It is based on the length of the school term, on the percentage of attendance, the qualifications and salaries of teachers, the development of high school facilities, the expenditures per pupil, and other tests of that kind. We have at last gotten back on the right track in education, and I submit emphatically, Mr. Speaker, it would be one of the saddest mistakes that could be made by any legislative body, if after having once started on this right track that we turn back, even temporarily.

The schools are not responsible for the financial condition of the State at the present time, it is a deficiency of $29,000,000, an appropriation liability which is responsible for the condition. If there was found that deficiency of $29,000,000 the taxes we have got at the present time mould support all the program of the state including the program for schools without a dollar of addition revenue, and when the time comes to vote on additional revenue, let us remember that it be only temporarily for the purpose of getting rid of this debt, and that the current taxes are sufficient to keep the current program going.

Why did the current program fall to one side, because for years in Pennsylvania we were neglecting public schools for other things. You take the appropriations that were made in the period from 1903 to 1919, and you will find that in that time the appropriations to private educational institutions grew ten fold, from $500,000 to $5,000,000; the appropriations to welfare institutions grew three fold but education, the primary interest of the state, and he only one of the three that has been written in the constitution since 1818 made it the paramount duty of the legislature. Education suffered during all that period, and the result was when we started to get back we had a tremendous additional arrears to make up, and we had to take a leap in the front and that leap to the front was made in 1921. It has resulted, as I say, in bringing about just what was anticipated, and I submit, my friends, that of all the legislation we have got to consider at this time there is noting more important than that he forward steps that we have taken with reference to public schools should not be retraced. I am glad to vote for this bill, because I recognize that it improves certain weaknesses in previous legislation; I am glad to vote for the whole program, because I beleive emphatically the whole program ought to be amended, and to my mind there is nothing more suicidal for the State than to allow the impression to go out that having once adopted a program for progress and advancement that we have not the courage to amend and to keep up when the test actually comes

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. I am interested as a member of the Educational Committee, and I heard you make the statement a few minutes ago that the appropriations were to be parcelled out on the ability and effort plan. Now, as I understand it, it included the ability plan, but the effort plan was cut out of it. Is that correct?

Mr. EDMONDS. I explained what the plan was. I said that the plan was called the ability and effort plan. Now, if it cuts out the effort, according to the gentleman from Berks, I merely gave you the title and told you what the plan is. The plan is this: That the apportionment in the district, as I said before, was made on the assessed wealth per teacher The idea being they then really got the money in proportion to their ability to help themselves, as shown by their efforts in levying their school tax upon the little property that they might have. That is the idea of the name, but I have no love for the name. Call it anything else that you want to, it does not change the law.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, in explanation of that matter I am not opposed to this bill, but I simply wish to add that this bill as I understand it, included the ability part but not the effort part. Now, the ability and effort plan means that so far as the ability part of it is concerned, it provides that school districts shall receive their subsidy in proportion to the wealth, the assessed valuation back of each teacher and that is what this bill does. But under the effort plan, or the effort part of the ability and effort plan, it would provide that where a district has say twenty mills school tax, and other district would have only ten mills of school tax, the district that has twenty mills would get twice as much money in proportion as the ten mills district. Now, as I understand it, when we went over it, the effort part was cut out of it, and the reason that I asked that question was because I heard the gentleman from Philadelphia say it was to be parcelled out on the ability and effort plan, and as I understand it includes only the ability plan and the effort plan is not considered in making the appropriations.

Mr. EDMONDS. I think his construction upon the title is well taken, but the plan itself I have tried to make clear. What we are voting for is the plan whereby the districts which have less than $50,000 per school teacher will receive 75% of the basic salary, between $50,000 and $100,000 per teacher, 60% of the basic salary. Now, that is a true valuation not the valuation returned by the assessor and the state council of education is made the corrective body to correct these assessments that may be under the true valuation. Now that is the nature of the plan itself, as presented to me. My friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, has asked how much it would cost. I cannot tell you exactly, but I think the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Horne could do so, but it is my understanding that the saving by having the appropriation for the two year period, and the fixed allotment in even years is just about equal to the amount of money taken which will be in extra subsidies to these poor districts, and that amounts, I should imagine, to $1,500,000.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, while I feel that my colleague, Mr. Edmonds, has explained this act much plainer than I could, because of the question that has been raised, I would like to add to it to a very small extent, as the bill is it is a very slight modification of the Edmonds Act, neither I, nor any other person on the committee, had much to do with this. It was the thought of a sub-committee from 4 committees, and represents the best thought of them that the poor districts having a valuation of less than $50,000 per teacher should receive 75 % instead of 50 %. Other poor districts, possibly not of the 4th class, but they may be either of the 3rd or 4th class, having a valuation of less than $100,000 and more than $51,000 per teacher would receive an appropriation of 60%, leaving the first and second class districts as they were, and all other districts except those. This makes only this increase as has been said. To my mind there is no opposition by the people to making a better school system in Pennsylvania. I have heard no such sentiment expressed here by anybody. I think the schools are now coming most likely forward to a system in keeping with other programs, and I would like to see almost unanimous vote, because it is a step in the right direction.

On the question recurring,

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1360, as follows:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-five) entitled "An Act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section six of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-five) entitled "An Act authorizing the release or probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 6 Whenever any person convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary shall be sentenced to imprisonment therefor in any penitentiary or other institution of (the) this State or in any county or municipal institution the court instead of pronouncing upon such convict a definite or fixed term of imprisonment shall pronounce upon such convict a sentence of imprisonment for an indefinite term stating in such sentence the minimum and maximum limits thereof and the maximum limit shall never exceed the maximum time now or hereafter prescribed as a penalty for such offense and the minimum limit shall never exceed one-fourth of the maximum sentence prescribed by any court

Provided That if it appear that any person so convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime other than murder has never before been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary no minimum limit shall be fixed and the maximum shall not exceed the longest period fixed by law as the maximum penalty for the offense of which such person has been convicted

And provided further That any convict in any penitentiary or other institution of this Commonwealth or in any county or municipal institution who is now serving under any sentence or sentences imposed after the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven may when he or she shall have served one-fourth of such maximum sentence or sentences or being a person convicted of any crime other than murder who has never before been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary at any time after his commitment be eligible for parole under the provisions and subject to the conditions of the act to which this is an amendment

Provided further That nothing herein contained shall be construed to derogate from the power of the judges of the courts of quarter sessions and of the courts of oyer and terminer or other court record having Jurisdiction of the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth after due inquiry to release on parole any convict confined in the county jail house of correction or workhouse of their respective districts as provided in section one of an act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand fifty-nine) entitled "An Act extending the powers of judges of courts of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer in relation to releasing prisoners in jails and workhouses on parole" its amendments and supplements and Provided further That no person sentenced for an indeterminate term shall be entitled to any benefits under the act entitled "An Act providing for the commutation of sentences for good behavior of convicts in prisons penitentiaries workhouses and county jails in this State and regulations governing the same" approved the eleventh day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know just what the purpose of this bill is. I understand the meaning of the bill but I just want to know what is its purpose.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the inquiry of the gentleman from Dauphin, this is an amendment to the present parole act, providing for what clearly was an omission, and is now being corrected or attempted to be corrected. This bill was introduced at the request of the Pennsylvania Prison Reform Association, and represents the best thought of those interested not merely in the administration of justice from the standpoint of the court, but from the administration of justice from the standpoint of the fellow who has been sent down, and the purpose of this is, to fix a minimum sentence instead of allowing it to be anything at all. The true intent of the original act was that the judge should fix a maximum sentence and a minimum sentence, but they got around that in a number of instances in different parts of the State where judges have fixed, for illustration, a maximum sentence of five years and a minimum sentence of four years and eleven months, obviously unfair and obviously defeating the true spirit and intent of the act as passed by this Legislature. After the bill was acted upon and ready to be reported out by the Committee of Judiciary General,—and some of the members of that committee are better able to speak about the criminal law practice than I am,—I was advised by the Municipal court of Philadelphia that there was an omission which would deprive their courts of the right to parole, and that right was inserted. I was advised by another group in Philadelphia represented by those interested in the act as introduced by the late Senator Tustin that the benefits of the act had not been protected, and to that end on Thursday of last week amendments were offered which put the act in the position as approved by the penal and prison reform association of this State, the Municipal and local courts of record and those interested in welfare under the parole doctrine. I am only explaining this at the instance of those interested in this kind of law to give a chance to one who is at present in jail or may hereafter be in jail. It is a law of general application which does not take away om the power of the local court. The parole must be anted as heretofore by the local court, but it does take vay a great deal from the Board of Pardons here in arrisburg, with many applications coming here, and their torneys, on cases which were brought contrary to the true eaning and the true intent and spirit of the act passed by is Legislature. If there are any further question, I would ggest that their inquiries be answered on the point of acticed by members of the Judiciary General Committee no have practiced before the courts as prosecuting attorys, such as some of us have practiced and who were dis-ict attorneys, or by a member here who frequently presents e interest of the prisoners. Any other question that I can iswer I should be delighted to answer but I would suggest at questions on technical points be directed to those ac-ainted with that practice.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the ntleman from Montgomery.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, r. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PERRY. In your experience as an attorney, if the isoner had a straight sentence, what would his straight ntence be?

Mr. LUDLOW. Before we started work with this, he uld be sentenced a maximum sentence, and then the power fix a minimum sentence came along, and then to defeat e intent of the Legislature they gave such a construction I have mentioned.

Mr. PERRY. If the judge of the court sentences a man om nineteen years and six months to twenty years as a raight sentence, doesn't the prisoner only serve twelve and half years?

Mr. LUDLOW. That is the true purpose of that amend-ent.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to in-rrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, r. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. On page 3 of the bill, starting with ne 6, would this not be a general jail delivery if this act ould pass?

Mr. LUDLOW. No, because it is still within the power the local judge, who has imposed a sentence, to grant the arole, and if this were intended to be general jail delivery, would have to pass the very judges who imposed the sen-nce in the first instance. If I am in error, I might ask the ntleman from Delaware County, Mr. Alexander, who is the committee and who is more familiar with that end of e practice than I, to answer, but I think that is the inter-etation which might fairly be placed upon the proviso on e folio No. 4581, on page 3 of the bill. It does not take vay from the judge in that county the power to grant the arole. It simply takes it away from the Board of Pardons re and puts it back to the very judge who imposed the ntence.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. If there was a particularly vicious se in which the jury brought in a second-degree verdict, e judge could not sentence him to any longer that five ars under this act, is that so?

Mr. LUDLOW. He couldn't sentence him under minimum e penalty provided by the law that appears on the top of ge 3.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. And the minimum would be five ars?

Mr. LUDLOW. I am not able to answer that.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Why, you say "one-fourth of the maximum."

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, that is correct.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. And then the man could get out after five years, after a terribly vicious murder?

Mr. LUDLOW. Provided the judge who imposed that sentence felt that conditions warranted it. In other words, we are transferring that condition back to the very judge in the county where the judge happens to be. The facts make the best answers.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in this bill, as you will notice, the principal purpose is to give powers to the court and extend the power of parole up until the present time, the courts have not had the power of parole in cases where they are sentenced to the penitentiary. Now, in all other cases, we have long ago taken down that sign from the jails that he who enters here leave all hope behind, and this is only adding it to the penitentiary hope behind, and this is only adding it to the penitentiary. In other words, it is giving the courts the power that where they believe that some man who has been sentenced by them to the Eastern Penitentiary—from reports of the penitentiary I have in my mind at the present time a certain case—from the reports from the penitentiary, he seems to have reformed, it is the purpose to give him another change.

That is what all of our penal reform laws are at the present time to give the poor man, who is placed where "it is human to err, to forgive, divine," another chance. It is only to carry out that end of justice and give him another chance, and that is the purpose of the bill. It seems to me there would be no injury come from it, because as suggested by my friend from Montgomery, it is entirely in the hands of the judge, it is within his power entirely to either permit the parole, grant the parole, or refuse it. He knows the case, and the facts and circumstances surrounding it, and is acquainted with everything that would give him the power and proper judgment to pass on a case of this kind.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, under the existing laws it would seem that when a court imposes a sentence he practically knows what he is doing. If you permit the present law to be changed so that the matter of parole is in the hands of the court, you are opening up a very dangerous situation, at least one that may be very embarrassing for the judges on the bench. As it now stands, as soon as the thirty-day period has passed, where an indeterminate sentence has been imposed, the matter is out of the hands of the judges, and they cannot cut down the length of the sentence. If this present act is enacted into law, it will put it up to the courts as to whether or not sufficient pressure can be brought upon them to permit the parole of the prisoner in question. Therefore, in my opinion, and I have been a district attorney for several years prior to coming to Harrisburg, I believe that the present act is better than this act and the statute books should not have this proposed act put upon it, but that the law should remain as it now is.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow.

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. On page 2, line 26, is it correctly stated where it says, "That if it appear that any person so convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime other than murder has never before been convicted of a crime," does the word, "never", belong there?

Mr. LUDLOW. It does, because if it were not stated there, then the conclusion on page 3 would be just the opposite to what is intended.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Then a man who has never been convicted does not get the benefit of the minimum, and a man that has been convicted gets the benefit of the minimum?

MR. LUDLOW. No, they still have the right without a minimum in such cases to grant the parole.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Then you would leave it up to the judge to let a man out in six months if he saw fit.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, answering inquiries of my friend, Mr. Whitehouse, as to whether there is any distinction, and this answers the suggestion made by Mr. Rhodes, as to whether there is any distinction or very much distinction between bringing pressure to bear upon the local judge who knows the conditions and who has a right to be firm, he is the same man who with firm and unerring justice has imposed a sentence, to reconsider and to grant mercy if mercy could be granted or should be granted. How much better it is to do that than to bring them here to Harrisburg before a board of different members, which would be the case if they must come up here for pardon instead of going before the board of parole. I am afraid that is argumentative, but I am trying to answer the inquiry of my friend.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Where, in this act does it give the power to a local judge to parole?

Mr. LUDLOW. This is only—if I am in error, Mr. Alexander can answer— but this is only an amendment to the act which confers the power of parole under an indeterminate sentence. It is simply one section being changed, but a reading of the whole act will show that that power exists.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Don't the power now exist in the Board of Pardons?

Mr. LUDLOW. No.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I think that this is a bill that tends to give the prisoners a chance for their livelihood. By saying that, I mean that it is an act of charity. Not being a lawyer myself, I don't know what the law is on that subject, but I will say this, that at the time the parole act was inaugurated, in 1911, that it was intended to give the prisoner a chance. In other words, that after serving one-fourth of the maximum sentence he may be paroled, and I think Mr. Ludlow's bill, here to-night, is just an amendment of the same law that was enacted in 1911. In other words, it will give a prisoner a chance, and I hope that this bill will pass.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the present parole act, a man, sentenced to the penitentiary or to a reformatory, the present parole law does not apply to it. Now, I am for this act for this reason, that if a man is sentenced to the penitentiary and he comes before the Board of Pardons, and he is pardoned, his life starts over. In other words, if he has committed any crime whatsoever prior to his being pardoned, he can never be punished for that crime. He is just like a new-born child. Under this act, if the court would see fit, after he has served one-fourth of his time in the penitentiary and parole him for the maximum limit, he is out on his good behavior, and if he doesn't behave himself, the court will bring him back. Now, isn't that better than giving him a pardon? I say it is. Many a time a boy is put into a reformatory and in the course of time circumstances arise that the court would like to parole him. Under the act that is before us now, the court has no jurisdiction to parole him, and in this act, it gives the court that authority. Now, Mr. Rhodes, from Monroe County, says that th court has no jurisdiction over a sentence after thirty days After the term expires the court cannot modify or chang that sentence. Any time during the term the court ha absolutely power to modify that sentence to where it belongs but after the term expires, the court has authority in th jail or in the workhouse to parole a man, but they have n power in the penitentiary or in the reformatory. Therefore I am going to vote "aye", and I will ask the members o the House to do so also.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentle men of the House, in my mind the provisions of this ac can be summarized by stating that there are two change being made in this amendment to the parole act. Th first change is that the parole act shall apply not only t county prisons, but also to State penitentiaries and reforma tories. As was pointed out originally the intention of th parole act was to apply to all prisoners within the State but in the formation of that act, in the actual wording, i was so worded that when the judges began to exercis their rights under the parole act they found they were lim ited merely to their own county prisoners. This amendmen corrects that defect. It permits the local judges to gran a parole where the offender has been sentenced, not only t the county prisons, but to the State Penitentiary or t a reformatory. Now, the second important change tha this amendment made is that, as pointed out by the gentle man from Montgomery, when the indeterminate sentenc act was passed, it provided for a minimum and a maximu sentence, the idea of a minimum sentence being that, afte a prisoner had served a certain portion of his sentence the judge should have the right to parole him on goo behavior. Now, judges, in exercising that function, tha right, has sentenced a man to from nine years and te months to ten years, obviously avoiding the intent of th act. Now, this amendment provides that in no case sha the minimum sentence exceed one-fourth of the maximu sentence provided for by law. It still retains, in the right of the judge, the power to parole or not to parole. I other words, that act merely says that after a man ha served one-fourth of the maximum sentence, he shall b entitled to the privilege of the parole act. The petition o parole must be presented in the regular manner and hear in a regular manner. The district attorneys of the Stat would have the right to oppose the petitions, and after public hearing, as now provided for in the county of Phila delphia, the judges could exercise or could refuse to exer cise the prerogative they have under the parole act. T my mind therefore, this amendment is a distinctly beneficia one, and ought to pass.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in answering the argu ment of my friend from Monroe, when he says that he ha been district attorney for a number of years explain exactly his position. I suppose if I had been district at torney for a number of years, I would take the same position It seems hat after a man is elected o he office of distric attorney, he becomes imbued with the fact that every ma that comes into his office in the first instance, withou hearing any evidence, is absolutely guilty; and then, afte he is convicted, the district attorney is never satisfied un less the court gives him the maximum that is coming to him and then he is never satisfied if that poor fellow ever ha a chance to get out. Now, of course, this is unconsciou on the part of the district attorney, but as I say, that alway seems to be the trend of the district attorney's mind. The never educate themselves on the question of the huma side. They never think of helping the poor fellow to liv a better life. Their only object is to convict him and see that he gets the maximum and see that he stays in jail, or see that he lives long enough hat he may serve out his term. Therefore, that accounts for any man who has ever acted as district attorney to speak as they do speak.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SOWERS. Would you be willing to amend this bill so as to provide that notice be given to the district attorney of the time fixed and the place fixed for hearing of the parole?

Mr. LUDLOW. I don't know whether all the members heard that, but I am asked whether I am willing to have the bill amended so as to provide for notice to the prosecuting attorney, I know of no reason why that should be done under existing rules in the several counties, but I suggest, as my friend, Mr. Whitehouse did about the county bill when it came up for a vote here, that if it should be deemed necessary to amend it, I doubt,—I doubt whether it is—but if it is, I defer to my friend's long practice in this sort of work, that it should be amended on the other side and let us clear up our postponed calendar. As sponsor of the bill, I will be delighted to join with Mr. Sowers, but I think, after this debate and the through examination of the merits of the bill, it should be voted upon. If it is voted upon favorably, I will call, with him, upon his senator and my senator.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to answer further the gentleman from Philadelphia. There is a bill at the present time, I think on third reading, tonight in the Senate, presented by Senator MacDade, which amends the parole act, in all cases giving notice to the district attorney, so I think that will cover the proposition.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1003, entitled:

An act establishing the office of fire marshal in all counties of the second class defining his powers and duties providing for his compensation and the maintenance of his office giving courts the power to punish witnesses for contempt of his authority and to review his order and making it the duty of officers of public instruction and persons in charge of public or private schools to instruct children as to the dangers of fire and the prevention of fire waste.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of a public hearing.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. O'Boyle,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1086, entitled:

An Act providing for the public health, safety and welfare, requiring owners and operators of coal mines and operations to furnish and sell fuel coal at current or market prices to and for the use of hospitals, poor houses or other charitable institutions, schools, churches and buildings of municipal or quasi municipal character; and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. O'Boyle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the sponsor of this bill whether he will not explain something as to the reasons for the bill or its necessity. It seems to me that if a private concern has a commodity to sell it ought to be permitted to sell it at a fair market price, and unless there is some unusual for it, this bill does not enter into the field of ordinary legislation?

Mr. O'BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, the reason that this bill was introduced in the Legislature is that last winter in my district not have sufficient coal for the hospitals and schools and public buildings, and the company refused to sell any coal to these buildings. One borough in Lackawanna County had to close down the schools for four weeks because we could not get any coal. Interest in Delaware County own all the coal mines town and there are no individual companies in this town. They refuse absolutely to sell any coal to council or the school board to supply the schools, and the hospitals had no coal for several weeks. They had to send out of town for coal. They found it was impossible to compel a company to sell to individuals but that they could be compelled to sell to the hospitals and schools and asylums. The bill does not ask for anything except fairness to the public. It calls for no decreases in price. All we want is something reasonable, and I would like every one here to vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finolly?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to make a few remarks in regard to this bill. I am unalterably opposed to its passage. Before considering its provisions I want to state my position in regard to Pensions in general, so that in the event that I should ever be a candidate for office again that any one who cares may know exactly where I stand.

I am unalterably opposed to any form of Pensions except to those who in their service of their country in time of war suffered injury or impaired health making it impossible to gain a livlihood through honest toil, for all such a grateful people shall see that adequate provision is made. I also favor a plan providing for adjusted compensation to those who served in the World War, this compensation in no way be regarded as a bonus or a Pension, but simply to in a small way compensate those who were compelled to give up their jobs at good wages to serve their country at $30.00 per month, while aliens and native born beyond the draft age were permitted to plunder the government without mercy. Without in many cases giving proper services in return.

I strongly favor the Mother's Assistance Fund, and hope that the welfare department will not be compelled to beg for the necessary funds to enable mothers to rear their children in their own homes, and to properly educate them in order to afford them an oppurtunity for a proper start in life. I do not in any way regard the Mother's Assistance Fund as a pension as the help extended in only temporary and under wise management should yield big dividends in the way of mothers being relieved from worry and to have happy and contented children, besides making for good citizens.

I also favor assistance to the aged and infirm, and while it pains me to be compelled to remark that many who in old age are in destitute circumstances as the result of improvidence in early and middle life, yet it is also true that a great many are dependent in their old age through no fault of their own. In many families sickness, death and periodical unemployment and a wage insufficient under the most favorable conditions to lay anything aside for the inevitable rainy day has brought many aged couples to the evening of life without even a place to lay down their heads. It is for these that I want provision made, so that they may spend the balance of their days in peace and comfort, in their own homes and not be compelled to go to the poor house.

Now let us examine the provisions of this bill. It provides that after service of twenty-five years, and that service need not necessarily be continuous, that such employe shall be pensioned. It provides that they shall pay one per cent, of their salaries per month, and the county pays the balance. Now suppose an employe receives a salary of $125 a month, he pays twenty dollars and fifty cents per year, and after he has served twenty years he may retire at an age of fifty, provided of ccurse that twenty years have been served within that time. In that time the employee will pay in about $650 and will receive in return $12,250 provided that he survives twenty years, after pension has gone into effect If he lives thirty years then he will receive $18,750. Now I submit to you, what more right has an employe of a county or a municipality or a state to be pensioned, at the expense of the taxpayers of the State. It is just as reasonable for any one working in the mines or mills or the factory or in the offices to ask with perfect justice to be pensioned after they arrive at a certain period in life, and yet if a bill like that were presented here in the House it would be laughed to scorn. We have in this State between nineteen and twenty thousand people eligible under what is known as the Retirement Act, which is nothing more or less than a pension, and a great number of these employees are today enjoying the benefits of this act, and I find from the Auditor General's report that there was between a million and a half and two million dollars appropriated for that purpose last year. We have on the statute books of the State an act which provides for the pensioning of judges, a more outrageous act I have never known to have placed on the statute books. When I heard of it I was reminded of the mother goose Rhyme, "Hark, hark, the dogs do bark, the beggars have come to town; some in rags and some in tags and some in silken gowns." Mother Hubbard certainly had some humor when she composed that last line. Isn't it time we called halt on this pension business, isn't it time we are retrenching instead of burdening the people more and more? Does any one believe that if the people of the State had been awake when the retirement bills were placed on the statute books that they would not have arisen in their might and demanded that such bills should not pass? I have talked over these retirement bills with various members of the Legislature and in committees, and the answer I got was that if the people of Beaver County or Philadelphia wanted these pension bills if they wanted to pay these pensions, why don't you assist in passing the bills, it is nothing to us. I was always under the impression that we came here together at the capital city of the State to make laws for the whole State and that the concern of the people of Philadelphia is the concern of the people of Allegheny County as well. If we come here to make laws which will only relate to our own districts, why not remain at home and let the councils and schoolboards pass the laws. It has been said here this evening that we represent our people. I do not know whether we always do or not. Many bills are passed here on the principle of you tickle me and I will tickle you. If I want to get it through I must make a bargain with some body else to get his bill through, and the bills do not often find their way on the statute books on account of the real merits of the bill. I think it is time, my friends, that we call a halt. If the people of the fourth-class counties want their employes pensioned, let us pass a bill enabling them, not compelling them. Instead of that they have nothing to say but are saddled with the bill. Here is a bill that absolutely cannot lose for the employee, no matter when he ceases his employment with the county he can withdraw the amount paid in. Surely a sure thing job. He need not be with the county continuously for twenty years, and if he does withdraw he can be reinstated by paying back to the counties the amount which he drew, plus the assessments he would have been compelled to pay had he remained in his position. I believe the pension system is all wrong unless you pension everybody, the mill worker, the miner and those poor girls who work from early morning to late at night in the factories, and in the textile mills. Some years ago I was up in Massachusetts and I asked one of the foremen the age of the youngest employee, and he said, eleven. I said, "How old is the oldest?" He said seventy-eight years, and it was an old woman. Now they are the ones that ought to be pensioned and not the employees of the counties, boroughs and cities, because it is encumbent upon them unless they want to spend their days in the poorhouse, to provide for the proverbial rainy day. They have just as much right to do that as you and I, and if they think they think they don't receive wages or salary that will enable them to do that, they can resign their position and permit somebody who is more provident to take their places. At the age of fifty, if this bill becomes a law, a man might be in the prime of life, and may take another position, and in time of unemployment, will take the place of someone else who has no pension to fall back on. I hope, my friends, that we will tonight take a definite step upon this infernal pension business and turn our faces in the other direction and say to these people, as was said of old, as it was with our parents and to those of us who are getting along in life,—it was a case, although it might be considered a homely phrase and it may be called vulgar, "Root hog or die," and that is what it ought to be.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, this bill affects third and fourth class counties. My county belongs to the fourth class and therefore it affects us. This bill may look all right in theory, but we all know that the old spoils system still prevails in the great majority of the counties of this State. Now the pension system may work out all right where you have civil service or where you have fixed tenure, but as conditions are now, I think this bill is unfair. In my county, for instance, less than twenty-five per cent. of the employess would never get the benefit of this pension condition. The other seventy-five or eighty per cent. are there perhaps four years or eight years or in some cases twelve years. They retain their jobs or lose their jobs according to their political face or political fortunes. Now it does not seem right to me that we should pass a bill here that makes it mandatory on the counties to provide a pension system under which a very small percentage of the employes of these counties are taken care of. I think this bill in its operation would discriminate against perhaps seventy-five or eighty per cent. of the employees while a very small percentage of them would get the benefit of it. If we had a civil service system or a tenure system such as we have along some other lines, this system might work all right. But as I said, as long as we have this old spoils system, as long as men and women can retain their jobs only according to their political faiths and fortunes, I feel that this system is not practical and that it will work an injury to one part of the employees and will only benefit a certain class. I have talked with a number of people in my district and they are of the same opinion. As a member from one of the fourth-class counties, I ask you to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS POSTPONED.

Mr. McDANIELS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1923 — 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1923. No. 41.

SENATE

TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. T. T. Eyre) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer.

O Lord: We bring to Thee our morning tribute of gratitude for all the good things Thou art giving us in life; our health and strength, our food and raiment, our happy homes; all the comforts we enjoy day by day. Continue to watch over us. Bless our families and all who are near and dear unto us. Graciously forgive our shortcomings. We have done may things we ought not to have done, and we have left undone so many things that were needful. Help us to be better men, and worthier of Thy love and goodness. Bless the Senate during this day's session, and in all things may Thy will be done.

We ask it in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BALDWIN the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Section 24 No person receiving assistance under this act shall at the same time receive any other relief from the Commonwealth or from any political sub-division thereof except for medical and surgical assistance

Section 25 If the person receiving assistance is on the testimony of reputable witnesses found incapable of taking care of himself or his money the board may direct the payment of the instalments of the assistance to any responsible person or corporation for his benefit It shall be within the power of the commission to suspend payment for such period as the board shall recommend

Section 26 All rights to old age assistance shall be absolutely inalienable by any assignment sale execution or otherwise and in case of bankruptcy the assistance shall not pass to or through any trustees or other persons acting on behalf of creditors

Section 27 If at any time the commission has reason to believe that an assistance certificate has been improperly obtained it shall cause special inquiry to be made by the board and may suspend payment of any instalment pending the inquiry It shall also notify the board of such suspension If on inquiry it appears that the certificate was improperly obtained it shall be cancelled by the commission but if it appears that the certificate was properly obtained the suspended instalments shall be payable in due course

Section 28 Any person who by means of a wilfully false statement or representation or by impersonation or other fraudulent device obtains or attempts to obtain or aids or abets any person to obtain (a) an assistance certificate to which he is not entitled (b) a larger amount of assistance than that to which he is justly entitled (c) Payment of any forfeited instalment and any person who buys or aids or abets in buying or in any way disposing of the property of a person receiving assistance without the consent of the commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or to undergo imprisonment not exceed- one year or both

Section 29 Any person who violates any provisions of this act for which no penalty is specifically provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dolars or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both Where a person receiving assistance is convicted of an offense under this section the commission shall cancel the certificate

Section 30 If any person receiving assistance is convicted of any crime or offense and punished by imprisonment for one month or longer the board shall direct the payments shall not be made during the period of imprisonment

Section 31 All payments for assistance allowed under the provisions of this act and all expenses incurred by the commission and the salaries of the superintendent and his assistants shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of moneys specifically appropriated for that purpose upon orders of the superintendent and warrant of the Auditor General

Section 32 All expenses incurred by the county boards in administration investigation and salaries shall be paid by the county treasurer from the moneys of the county in the same way as other expenses of the county

Section 33 Within ninety days after the close of each calendar year the commission shall make a report for the preceding year stating

(a) The total number of recipients
(b) The amount paid in cash
(c) The total number of applications
(d) The number granted
(e) The number denied
(f) The number cancelled during that year and
(g) Such other information as the commission may deem advisable

Section 34 All methods of procedure in hearings investigations recording registration and accounting pertaining to the old age assistance under this act shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations as laid down from time to time by the commission

Section 35 Every assistance granted under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be granted and shall be held subject to the provisions of any amending or repealing act that may hereafter be passed and no recipient under this act shall have any claim for compensation or otherwise by reason of his assistance being affected in any way by such amending or repealing act

Section 36 The sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Old Age Assistance Commission hereby created for the two fiscal years commencing June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 37 Whenever used in this act the singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine

Section 38 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President I would like to say that Senate Bill No. 153 has caused a great deal of comment in my district, and my attention has been called to the following facts in regard to the bill: First, the head of the entire Committee is to get one hundred and fifty dollars a month. No business concern would hand over two million dollars for a State wide purpose of this kind to a person worth to his employer only one hundred and fifty dollars a month. Again the Committees in the counties are supposed to work for nothing and the investigators are to get seventy five dollars a month. The question has been raised, is this going to be a real efficiency bill? The man who particularly called my attention to this has been a student along the lines of sociological work practically all of his life. He is familiar, not only with the pension systems that are now in existence but those that have been proposed in England and France and the working of the system in Germany. In his opinion,—and I base my views of the matter largely on what I have learned of the situation from him,—is that you cannot get a competent person to do this work for seventy five dollars a month and I think there could be nothing more wasteful than to hand over the distribution of two million dollars to a lot of inefficient people. Germany was for a long time an example of the system proposed and investigation shows that it has been inefficient and inadequate, and what has happened in Germany is likely to happen anywhere else where it is adopted. The distribution of these funds becomes more a matter of political friendship than a matter of apportionment to the deserving. Two million dollars distributed by persons familiar with social service work would give vastly better results if handed out some other agency than as provided for by this bill, and further the giving of a dollar a day would seem to be almost worse than nothing at all. It is like building a bridge that does not quite reach across the stream. It may be considered that it supplements private organizations, but a dollar a day to a really destitute man does not lift the burden from the community, which would still have to supplement his support.

I direct your attention to a second criticism of the bill. It seems to me that the amount given to an aged person is entirely inadequate with prevailing conditions and would only act as a small help in respect to the real need. The bill does not provide enough money in order that the fund could be efficiently administered.

Third, Past history reveals that Government Pension systems are generally most unsatisfactory.

Fourth, All our appropriations to meet such a system would add millions of dollars to an already overcrowded state budget. Any efficiency student of social service work would prefer to see a living wage paid so as to enable a saving and plan for old age, and there are some, because of sickness or other misfortune, who are unable to do this, but it does not seem that such a bill as No. 153 would be a proper one because of its inadequacy. It is always a question in my mind whether government funds being doled out as such is for the benefit of the citizens living under that Government. There have been so called pensions systems, however, which have functioned, but only when an amount was paid monthly or yearly to help make it function, such as the School Teacher's Pension Fund, which is a type of insurance primarily arranged through the savings of the teachers themselves and later paid to them in the form of an old age pension.

Now, in conclusion, I would direct your attention to "England and the English" by Price Collier, April 10, 1923:

"We in America are only just recovering from an epigram which held that labor should not be crucified. The only labor that counts for anything in the world has always been, and always will be, born of pain. That is its glory. The nearer labor comes to being a sacrifice of self, the nearer the laborer comes to being a hero and saint. Labor is dignified only when it ceases to watch the clock, and when duty calls i swilling to bear a cross. Wherever and whenever the individual, or any class in the community, whether rich or poor, balks at labor, at pain, at sacrifice, at the cross in short, you have in that individual and in that class a menace to the community and to the State. And it is this very individual, and this same class, that the professional philanthropist, the political and economic sentimentialist, is doing his best to encourage. There is no surer, no shorter way to murder the State than to keep such as these alive. This new doctrine that at all hazards men must live, is a pagan doctrine, and bad morality and bad economics as well.

"The fundamental philosophy underlying all forms of socialism, disguise it as you will, is the worship of man. The pandering of this new doctrine in the name of Christian socialism is simply loose-mindedness. The pith of Christianity and the pith of socialism are as the poles apart. This diluted Chirstianity, which accepts the doctrines whilst waiving the obligations, is nowadays dubbed manly. Manly merely because it sides with man against God, but could anything be less so. It sugars the penalties, softens the warnings, emasculates the commandments, and all to please the mob; not to harden them, not to inspire them, not to lift them, but to throw their thoughts back upon themselves. Christianity is at least virile enough to crucify its God, and to announce that pain points the way to salvation. This new god is to be fed and educated for nothing as a child; is to work only eight hours a day as an adult; is to be pensioned at seventy, and never to bear a cross, much less to be nailed to one, if by any means it can be avoided.

Mr. President, for these reasons, after studying the situation, I am compelled, much to my regret, on account of my fellow-Senator from Philadelphia introducing the bill, to vote "no".

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Allegheny if he has any objection to being interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have not.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Allegheny what he was quoting from in his remarks?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that was taken from "England and the English" by Price Collier.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, and the other was by whom?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, they were two men of my district whom I consulted, who have had long years of experience, sir, in the distribution of money to the poor.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, the reason I asked the question is this: I notice the remark was made it would be far better to have left this with some social worker. Now I was wondering whether it was not the certain social worker himself or herself who had written that letter in the form we have here, along the lines that they would want to be the people that would have that control.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I can answer the Senator from Philadelphia by stating that the letter was written to me at my request and I had hard work to get anything in writing of what they said to me verbally.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I regret exceedingly that my distinguished colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, has seen fit to raise objections to this bill on the floor of the Senate and it seems to me that he might have better informed himself of the points of the bill before making an attack upon it. In other words he talks of two million dollars about a bill which contains the small sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. It is true that this bill is intended to be the foundation of a great humanitarian project. We are living in the United States of America, not in the foreign countries he refers to. This bill contains an appropriation item of $25,000.00 There has been an omission from one of the Sections which is to be put in allowing the appointment of these local officials to be made by the County Commissioners of each county. As at present worded as the result of the omission of the amendment which was offered by the distinguished Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. I hope that the bill will pass the Senate as it is, with the understanding that the amendment which was adopted here and which was not printed will be inserted in the House. I hope the Senate will pass this bill. It is in line with humanity, it is in line with progress. At present we are spending large sums of money, we are making appropriations to State institutions where these old people are maintained and this bill simply provides that instead of that, those vasts sums of money being appropriated to institutions, where these old people will be permitted to spend their latter days in their helpless condition in the presence of their own families. I am surprised to see the Senator from Allegheny take the position he does to-day, more particularly when he stands behind the statement about the foreign countries. We are living in America. Surely the result of this great war ought to be a final lesson that we are the leading country of the world. We ought not to take our lesson in that respect from foreign countries. I am hoping the Senate will pass the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he has any idea what it would cost the state to efficiently carry out the objects of this bill?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, himself has served as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee and I am quite sure he would have knowledge of the amount of money which is appropriated to institutions for this purpose and I assume that would simply be a transfer from the institutions over to the individuals who will in the future remain in their homes.

Mr. BUCKMAN. My opposition to this bill has not been caused entirely by the fact that I was Chairman of the Appropriation Committee for two sessions, but partly by reason of that fact. I do not believe that the Senator from Philadelphia, or any other Senator, or any other man, woman or child in the State of Pennsylvania can tell us what it would cost this state to put this bill into effect. A few years ago we passed the Teachers Pension Bill, which is upon an entirely different basis from what this bill is on and even to-day we do not know where we are drifting to in that bill. While it is true there is only an appropriation in this bill of $25,000, I notice it originally called for two million dollars, and I want to serve notice on the floor of this Senate that this is simply the beginning of something we do not know where it will take us to. It is simply the first placing of the head of the camel under the tent and once they get this bill on the statute books then they will come in here and ask for millions and millions of dollars and the creation of new jobs which will necessitate the levying of new taxes to carry this bill properly into effect. I, for one, think it is a mistake for us to put the stamp of approval upon this bill, even though it does call for only twenty-five thousand dollars appropriation.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether he knows the amount of money that is required for the Mothers Assistance Fund?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it required, if I am properly informed by the people at the head of it, if they had money enough to-day to take care of the mothers who have made application in the counties where the Mothers Assistance Pension Fund is functioning, it would cost $3,600,000. The $1,750,000 that has been put in the budget by the Governor is less than one-half of the amount that is necessary, and when I made the statement about $2,000,000, it was based on the Mothers Assistance Pension money, and I think that is a small amount.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if there are any high paid salaries in connection with the functioning of the Mothers Assistance Pension Fund?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, there are no high paid salaries, but the Mothers Assistance Pension Fund up to date has been run very efficietnly by the women who have given all of their time necessary to make it function, but they are paying, as I understand the head of the Mothers Assistance Pension Fund more than $1800 a year and the Secretary of Allegheny County, I think now is drawing down $2400, if I am correctly informed.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I am in favor of an old age pension. We have statistics to prove, beyond a doubt, that the saving will pay more than the extra money it takes to provide for those people. It costs as much money to keep those paupers in the poor houses as it will under their own roofs, and I am sure that the State of Pennsylvania has always responded to humanitarian legislation. This, to my mind, is the greatest piece of legislation ever presented to this body and I am sure to-day that a majority of the Senate will vote for this bill. I used this argument in my campaign and I owe it to my people. I belong to an organization is for the benefit of the majority and not the few, and I hope for the benefit of the majority and not the few, and I hope to-day that the Senate will vote unanimously for this bill. There is small opposition here to-day and I feel satisfied if they would take up this matter and study it thoroughly they would all vote for it.

I recall an incident which occurred in Berks County. The Chairman of the Commission investigating the Old Age Pension made a visit to the Berks County Almshouse and walking up the lane he met two old people, husband and wife. They approached the gate of the poor house at the same time. The superintendent asked "What do you desire?". They answered: "We have a permit to enter the poor farm". That is very consoling to every man in the Senate. The superintendent asked "What is your name"? "My name is John". "And your name?" "My name is Mary". The superintendent said "John, you go to the building over there, and Mary you go to that building over there." John said "What! after living under the same roof for fifty years, we are now going to be separated?" "Yes, those are the rules, males on the one side, and the females on the other." And what happened? A tragedy. Three days after John entered that door he passed away with a broken heart and only a few days later his wife passed away with a broken heart.

Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, it is time we take those things into consideration. The amount of money that it takes to keep these people will not be a cent more than it takes to keep them in the poor house. It takes time to work it out. The burden is placed upon the state and county and I hope to-day that the Senate will vote to pass this bill.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I hope this bill will be a lesson to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, from which he will learn not to judge bills when they come out of the Committee on Appropriations by the way they went in. This administration stands for economy. We are not now passing any law creating new positions, or fixing a fancy salaries. This is to be a work of charity for the assistance of the old and the needy and those in distress and it is not a bill to create any new salaries, and new offices with high salaries, but is to be a work of charity and I am surprised that anybody should attack a bill on account of too small salaries.

I want also to challenge the statement of my predecessor as Chairman of the Counties on Appropriation some years ago, not my immediate predecessor, but who was Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations when he said that he did not think any member of the Senate was able estimate what the bill would cost. If the Senate desires the information, I do not want to make the statement to harm the bill, I hope the bill will pass, but I am able to tell the Senator from Bucks what the bill would approximately cost to be carried out in its full measure but that is no reason why this bill should be defeated. Mr. President, we started the old age pension proposition on a small scale and we are not nearly up to the top yet, we are not nearly able to-day to comply with the full requirements of the Mother's Assistance Funds but we started at the bottom and we are climbing up. We had it about six hundred thousand, had the appropriations up to a million and now the recommendation is one million seven hundred and fifty thousand, We do know exactly yet at what figure it will be passed by the legislature but if every person eligible to-day in the State of Pennsylvania were to be provided for in this bill it would cost the State of Pennsylvania approximately seven million of dollars per annum.

I am saying this to remove the insinuation that nobody in the Senate would be able to estimate what it would cost but that should not be a reason for defeating the bill. We are considering this bill with the idea of getting the movement on. It is a hand maid to the Mother's Assistance Pension Fund. That would take approximately nearly four million dollars to handle the bill fully and this being an old age pension bill would almost double that, but the saving, on the other hand, would be so enormous that is is a question whether the savings would not far outweigh the expenses. It would remove almshouses, it would mean that many counties could combine three or four or half dozen counties, and jointly have one almshouse and the saving at the other end would be sufficient to overcome the expense to the State. I trust that the Senate will pass this bill as it stands. Report it out in harmony with the aims of economy of this administration with the small appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars, modest salaries for the officials and I trust the Senate will pass the bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire first to answer the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis. The money required for the Mother's Assistance Fund is, State Supervisor of Mother's Assistance Fund, three thousand dollars, Assistant State Supervisor of Mother's Assistance Fund, twenty-two hundred dollars, clerk to the State Supervisor of Mother's Assistance Fund, eighteen hundred dollars.

I admit that the Senator from Lehigh is a master mind, but regardless of that fact I still challenge his judgment because I do not think that he has the knowledge necessary, regardless of the fact that he is a wonderful lawyer, to state to the Senate as an actuary in insurance, whether it will cost this state three million or seventy million dollars, and that was the statement made to me by an actuary in the County of Allegheny, that the two million that I used was enough to take care of the Mother's Assistance Pension Fund, and I still challenge the judgment of the Senator from Lehigh on the disposition of any money of the State under this act.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President, this Pension Fund is not a proposition of dollars and cents. Twenty years ago when I became a victim of an industrial accident I was enabled to take advantage of a blind school of Pennsylvania because I had been injured after I had reached the age of sixteen. I think that there was not on the Statute books of this State any provision that gave me the right to claim damages. My accident was an accident that happened, it was not one of those things that I could trace to anybody and consequently there was no compensation for me. It happened, however, that there were people in Pennsylvania that were broad-minded enough and who believed my chances in life should be looked to and those gentlemen saw to it that I was given the advantage of preparing myself to follow a livelihood that I would be able to qualify to stand before the people and say, "I can do this," or, "I can do that." When you go and tell the people of Pensylvania that it is going to cost them this and that for old age pension you are saying that you will not pay it for the old carcass that you wore out in your shop. You are putting your men's lives and all of his works against dollars and cents. Mr. President, I want to say here to-day that we all cannot be clerks, some of us have got to go down into the ditch and some of us are going to be misfits. We go through life until we are sixty or sixty-five years old, we have been scavengers and there must be somebody to do that. Perhaps as a scavenger you have prevented pestilence by working in the ditch for the water way or sewage system. Some one had to do that. Early in life perhaps they lost their parents and were not educated and they could not go to a professor so that they became the lowest stratum of humanity and went on and on, they assumed the responsibilities as best they understood it. They raised, perhaps, a small family on a very small income and now when they are sixty, sixty-five or seventy years of age and because they were unfortunate enough to be ignorant in young days and not skilled mechanics, because they are not able to be members of any profession, that was their experience, and the proper thing for us was to put them in the almshouse.

Mr. President, I am going to tell you something, it is my personal belief that the recipients of charity as a rule are the efficient and not those people that are in those institutions. Many a poor fellow can say that if he had been given half an opportunity in life he might have been able to be self sustaining. The thought of human nature, the thought of creation, is to make everything self sustaining and the central thought is that everything must work for its living and every man that is able is willing to do that. What does it matter to the State of Pennsylvania whether it leaves this man in his own home or marks him charity and puts him in a public institution. That is the whole proposition and now to intervene graft, extravagance and mismanagement in the proposition of twenty-five thousand dollars for an investigation, Mr. President, I submit is absolutely unfair and if it is going to cost millions of dollars in the future I say it can be arranged to be charged to the several counties and surely any county is willing to spend seventy-five thousand dollars or one hundred thousand dollars and not have an almshouse and would be willing to give something to this pension fund. Let us see how we progress in this matter.

Where do we get the idea of the almshouse? We get it from the Elizabethean age. It showed us the policy of taking care of the poor. There we followed England. We followed Europe in its compensation act. We followed them in the child labor. Europe tried this old age pension and I am not prepared to believe that they think it is a failure, I am not prepared to believe that the German people believe it is a failure. As a matter of fact I get reports from Germany, and England, and we are only beginning to investigate and the investigations have shown this, that as a matter of economy, this is a good system and so far as saying it will take away the incentive for men to do something, that they will say some may look forward and say "Oh well, it doesn't matter what I do sixty or seventy-five years from now I will be eligible for a pension," I do not believe that will be the case. Mr. President, that is foolish. I say to you there is enough of Americanism in every American which will make him refuse pension. I will tell you I have been among people who have been injured, I have been through their institutions and penal institutions and I am going to say to you we can well afford, as Pensylvanians to put into practice some of that wonderful service we are always talking about. I tell you when we do not do that we are going to tell you we are not Pennsylvanians at all, because the history of this nation, the history of this world, is written in service and humanity and kindness, it is not written in oppression, Mr. President, or dollars and cents. Pennsylvania is big enough, Pennsylvania is honest enough and Pennsylvania is just enough to invest $25,000 to investigate this matter for a period of two years.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I have great sympathy for the man or woman who has grown old in this country of opportunity and who has not gotten a competency for his or her old age, and I am in sympathy with a bill of this kind, but it seems to me that this is not the time to start a matter which means an expenditure of large sums of money in Pennsylvania. We are in a financial morass here at the present time. We do not seem to be able to get sufficient money to carry on the activities that the state has already started. We do not seem to be able to get sufficient money to carry on our public schools as they should be carried on, we do not seem to be able to get sufficient money to carry out the Mothers Assistance Fund and I believe, Mr. President, that that branch of work, that part of the government, is more important perhaps than this matter of old age pension. It seems to me that the mothers and the children who are being reared in Pennsylvania to become the future citizens of the Commonwealth ought to be first provided for and I do not believe that we ought to consider anything at this time that would add to our financial difficulties. If we can arrange and the members of the Senate and House are willing to levy such taxes as are necessary to carry out the work of the public schools and to provide for the Mothers Assistance Fund of those orphans, then I think it would be time sufficient to take up a proposition of this kind. There is no use of us trying to deceive ourselves as to the result. It means the expenditure of very large sums of money and it does not take a man of very far vision to see and realize that fact. Therefore, I will vote against this bill at this time.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—3.

Lanius,	McClintock,	Stineman,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 389, as follows:

An Act creating a Department of Real Estate and Assessement in cities of the second class providing for the appointment qualifications compensation and dismissal of a commissioner and deputy commissioners where a county tax assessors' examining board exists and where no such board exists prescribing the powers and duties of such department with regard to valuing real property for any purpose and in valuing and assessing property for the purpose of taxation providing for annual assessments the classification of real property for purposes of taxation into buildings on land and land exclusive of buildings and the assessment of a tax upon the buildings than upon the land exclusive of buildings and abolishing the Department of Assessors

Section \1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That there is hereby created in cities of the second class a department of real estate and assessment under the supervision of a real estate and tax commissioner who shall be appointed by the mayor with the consent of council

At the date of his taking office the commissioner shall be a citizen of the United States and shall have been a resident of said city for at least five years and shall have had at least three years active experience in real estate business either in negotiating sales or purchases of real estate for others in appraising or assessing real estate He shall hold office for a term of four years the first term commencing on the first Monday of Januray One Thousand Nine Hundred and twenty-six The annual salary of the commissioner shall be fixed by the council and shall not be less than Thirty-five hundred dollars ($3500) for the first two hundred thousand inhabitants of said City with an additional Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for each additional seventy-five thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States decennial census

He shall appoint not less than four deputies and an additional deputy for each seventy-five thousand inhabitants over two hundred thousand inhabitants as shown by the last preceding United States decennial census all of whom shall be residents of the said City for at least five years and shall not all be of the same political party and the majority of whom shall have had at least three years active experience in real estate business either in negotiating sales or purchases of real estate for others or in appraising or assessing real estate The salary of each such deputy commissioner shall be fixed by council and shall not be less than Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1500.00) per annum for the first two hundred thousand inhabitants of said City with an additional Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) per annum for each additional seventy-five thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States decennial census They shall hold office for a term of four years except that of the members first appointed at least one-half shall be appointed for two years only No commissioner or deputy shall be dismissed during the term for which he is appointed except for the cause shown after an opportunity to be heard before the mayor and council on charges made in writing against him The commissioner may with the consent and approval of the mayor and council employ such clerks and stenographers as may be necessary

Section 3 The department of real estate and assessment shall make such appraisals of real property as may be required by the mayor council or any of the departments of the government of such city and shall furnish any of the departments of the government of such city with such information as to real estate values as may be necessary or serviceable in the acquisition of any property by the city for any purpose by the right of eminent domain or otherwise

Section 4 The department of real estate and assessment shall annually make a valuation of real estate for all purposes of municipal taxation and shall have the power to administer oaths Any property owners shall have the right to be heard by the commissioner and deputy commissioners sitting as a board of revision on appeal from any valuation The assessment as aforesaid shall remain the lawful assessment for purposes of city taxation until the next assessment

Section 5. The Department of real estate and assessment shall classify all real estate in the city in such manner and upon such testimony as may be adduced before them so as to distinguish between the buildings on land and the land exclusive of the buildings and to certify to the councils of said cities the aggregate valuation of city property subject to taxation

Councils in determining the tax rate for each year shall assess a tax upon the buildings equal to five-tenths of the highest rate of tax required to be assessed for the year so that upon the said classes of real estate of said city there shall in any year be two rates of taxation

Section 6 The councils shall by ordinance make all further needful rules and regulations for the government of this department

Such ordinance may require the said Department to give notice by mail of any change in assessment stating the date when an appeal therefrom may be heard and sent to the address as registered of any property owner if non-resident or to the property in question if of a resident

Section 7 This act shall take effect on the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six at which time the department of assessors of cities of the second class is hereby abolished

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal the act approved July nine one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and nineteen) entitled "An Act providing for the classification of real estate and other property for purposes of taxation and for the election of assessors and prescribing the duties thereof in cities of the second class" except so far as the same may be inconsistent herewith

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 390, on third reading, entitled:

An Act creating the "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" appropriating a portion of the State Tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission and imposing duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General

Senate Bill No. 391, on third reading entitled:

An Act creating the "Anthracite Municipalities Fund" appropriating pro rata according to population a portion of the tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Cities Boroughs and Townships from which the anthracite coal taxed was removed in course of mining and imposing duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I am not opposed to this motion, I am willing to grant the courtesy to the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. However, I wish to make the statement that neither one of these bills prohibit or regulate the mining of coal, that we are only asking a portion of the money paid in by the anthracite coal companies to return to the counties six per cent on the amount, so that there will be an understanding in the Senate. The minute that any member of this Senate sees anthracite on the calendar they get excited and I do not want them to get excited about these bills, because we are entitled to a share of the anthracite tax. If the anthracite people are going to be taxed to death, then we want to tax all the mineral in the State of Pennsylvania, including bituminous coal. However, I want to make this statement in order that the members of the Senate know that there is nothing in either one of these bills that prohibits or regulates the mining of coal.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 464, entitled:

An Act providing a means whereby real estate devised upon a trust to divide it among other persons and the trustee has died without performing the trust may be divided amicably by the interested persons with the approval of the Orphans' Court and the legal title be vested in them by judicial decree

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 506, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and twenty-one) entitled "An Act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death nad of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" as amended go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 528, (House Bill No. 412), entitled:

An Act authorizing any county separately or counties interested jointly to lease for a term of years from a bridge company or corporation any toll bridge spanning a river or stream when such bridge is used solely for highway purposes or jointly for highway railroad or street railway purposes discontinuing tolls on any such bridge during such lease and authorizing counties to appropriate money levy taxes and incur indebtedness for such purposes

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I am repeating my request of last night, at the instance of Senator Patton, I ask that Senate Bill No. 355, (House Bill No. 206) on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the nineteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws eighty-eight) entitled "An Act relating to replevin and regulating the practice in cases where the writ of replevin is issued" as amended providing for the impounding of property where an affidavit is filed before issuing of the writ go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 395, (House Bill No. 283), entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-six) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as amended providing a pension for employes who have not reached the age of sixty years but who have become permanently disabled after eighteen years of service

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section four of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-six) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" which was amended by section two of the act approved the fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighty-nine) entitled "An act to amend sections three four five six and eleven of an act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled 'An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions'" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive a pension from the fund set aside for the purpose of fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average rate of pay at which he or she was employed during the last five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension shall be paid in monthly payments Provided That if any pension be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the pension fund as herein provided during a period of twenty years such person shall be required to pay into the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to two per centum of his or her pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to a pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years Should any employe however become totally and permanently disabled while in the service after eighteen years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employe is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office Provided That in cases where the nature of such disability is such as to disable the employe from performing any work whatsoever either within or without the scope of his regular duties or within or without the service of such city or county the board may upon a recommendation of the three practicing physicians herein provided for retire upon pension such applicant after a service of eighteen years Provided further That the benefits of this amendment shall apply to members of the pension fund who have been contributors to the said fund for five years or more The pension paid to any one employe shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McCaig, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. McCAIG. Yes, Mr. Speaker

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. I should like to ask the sponsor of the bill if the last paragraph of the bill is not somewhat indefinite in the way it is worded. It says: "All fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be for the use of and shall be paid to the treasurer of the respective city or county in which the offense was committed." How are we to determine which shall receive the fine?

Mr. McCAIG. This is a department bill. If a man is sued in a local community, the fine goes to that particular community. For instance, if a man is sued in the City of Pittsburgh, the fine would go to the city, but when he is sued by the county, then the fine goes to the county.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Then in any county having a city of the first, second, third or fourth class the fines would go the City Treasurer, and if any other district of the county, they would go to the County Treasurer.

It is just a matter of interrogation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Stark,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 134, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section sixteen

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, so that there may be no misunderstanding as to my position on this bill, I want to state to you that I am in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owning the waste lands for forestry purposes, but I am not in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania borrowing $25,000,000 to accomplish this purpose, when I believe that it can be accomplished without the borrowing of a single dollar. If this bill should become a law, and the Commonwealth is going with an open pocket to borrow this money, it could not be borrowed for less than a rate of 4% per year, and probably it would be nearer 5%, that in itself would provide a fund for interest alone of $1,000,000 per year. I take the position that if we have an appropriation of $1,000,000 per year that all the waste lands of Pennsylvania could be purchased out of that fund without the incurring of a single bit of indebtedness for the purpose. I am told by Major Stewart that the average costs of forest lands that have been purchased by this Department up to the present time is $2.28 per acre. It may be from now on we will have to pay a little more, and possibly take the valuation of $2.50 an acre, for which you can buy a good deal of this land, and what land we want. With $1,000,000 per year you could acquire 400,000 acres of this stripped or waste land for forestry purposes, but Major Stewart has also told the committee that the overhead cost of surveying, the cost of title searching, and so forth, has averaged about 25% of the cost of the land. Deducting that amount, it would still give us a fund which would purchase for the state of Pennsylvania 300,000 acres of land each year for forestry purposes. I say to you, gentlemen, that if the Department of Forestry can buy 300,000 acres of land per year, that all that they could reasonably expect to have surveyed, or have the title searched, in any one year. Another feature of this bill, that it seems to me would be objectionable, is that it would increase or advance the price that the land owners would ask for their stripped land, if this bill should pass. In other words, the lumber companies of the state have thousands and thousands of acres of stripped land to get rid of. I say to you that in my county, in the past, until the State of Pennsylvania began acquiring lands for forestry purposes, thousands of acres were sold at tax sales because the lumber companies had no use for them, but since the Forestry Department has been acquiring these lands, of course, they take care of them because they now have a purchaser, but if we have a fund of $25,000,000 the timber companies having these stripped lands will naturally say, "Why, there is a large fund for us, and we will ask more for these lands because the money is available to buy it". But if a million dollars only were available, you would find one lumber company bidding against the other to get a portion of that million dollars, because I say to you that they have no use for it, and that they would not go on and reforest this land if they didn't consider it to be a good proposition. Now, gentlemen, I am making these remarks not with any idea of trying to defeat the bill but for the purpose of registering my protest against what I deem to be an unnecessary and extravagant method of procuring these lands, and to voice my reasons for voting against this measure.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree with my friend, Mr. Wells, on everything he says with the exception that I am going to give my reasons why I am going to vote for this bill at this time. This is the first time that this resolution has been submitted to this House, and to the Legislature. Of course, we all know that it has to be submitted two years hence, and then referred to the people for their vote. It is a question in my mind whether it is a proper thing to do, and I have grave doubts about it, however, I feel that the people of Pennsylvania on a question as important as this is, and as new as it is at the present time to us, this forestry program, that I think it will not hurt at this time that we should pass this resolution, and for that reason I am going to vote for it. If two years hence the thought crystallizes on the subject, the next Legislature can either defeat it or pass it on to the people. That is the reason I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. MINEHART. Mr. Speaker, I would like to give my reason for voting for this bill. I feel that I have helped to destroy as many acres of forest land, probably, as any man in the House. I look upon this bill as a very worthy one. In 1909 I sold to the state a tract of land of 2400 acres for $2.00 an acre. They have taken care of that land, in the way of protecting it from fires and today I would be glad to buy it back at a price of $15.00 an acre. I claim that the state can do no better than to re-forest lands. It is going to be one of the great assets in the future for the state.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, This, as we all understand, is simply to put this proposition squarely before the people. Now, I cannot see why we should dally on this proposition at this time, for it will have to go through two sessions of the Legislature before it can be submitted to the people. Now, I feel that we should not simply look ahead, say one, two, three, or half a dozen years, but I believe the time is ripe now when we should take action on this measure and pass it so that it can be through two sessions of the Legislature and be put to the people of Pennsylvania. Why not let the people themselves say whether they want this conservation measure or not? I think that at the rate at which we have been going our timber supply will be pretty well exhausted in a few years, and unless we now get on the job and do something, unless we look ahead and provide for the future, and our children will face a Commonwealth that has been devastated to a large extent of its natural wealth. We all know that we are depleting it at a very rapid rate, and here is one point where we can come back and try to restore the damage to that we have been doing in years past. I feel that we owe it to our children and to posterity to see to it that all of this large acreage of waste land which we now have, which is not producing anything, should be made to produce something, and I cannot see why any of us should be afraid to submit this proposition to the people of Pennsylvania and let them pass judgment on it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Ludlow,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 632, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, (P. L. 991), entitled "An Act restricting the appointment of corporate fiduciaries by testators or by any court or register of wills to corporations fully subject to supervision and examination by the Banking Department," by exempting certain corporations from the provisions thereof.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 632, passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 21 by adding after the word "void" the following: "Provided, however, That a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of any State of the United States of America, other than Pennsylvania, duly authorized by its charter or by law so to act may be appointed by any last Will or Testament or Codicil, or other testamentary writing as executor, guardian, trustee or other fiduciary when and to the extent that the laws of such other State confer like powers upon corporations organized and doing business under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

Amend section 2, page 3, line 12 by inserting after the word "void" the following: "Provided, however, that a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of any State of the United States of America, other than Pennsylvania, duly authorized by its charter or by law so to act, may be appointed as administrator, trustee, guardian, receiver, committee, or other fiduciary by any court or register of Wills of this Commonwealth when and to the extent that the laws of such other State confer like powers upon corporations organized and doing business under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 820, entitled:

An Act authorizing the sale of real estate held by entireties by husband and wife when an order of support has been secured against the husband who has neglected to comply with the same or whose whereabouts is unknown or who has absented himself from this Commonwealth prescribing the procedure to be followed permitting husband and wife to testify providing for the disposition of the proceeds of such sale and granting a divorced woman the same rights under this act as a wife

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Marshall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM F. MARSHALL. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. WILLIAM F. MARSHALL. The object and purpose of this bill was to cover a particular case in Clarion county. There was a husband and wife, who owned property jointly in Westmoreland county, and they moved to Clarion county, and after moving there he left his wife and in due course of time, she brought action for support. The Court granted the order, but in the meantime he had departed out of the state to parts unknown. Therefore, the object and purpose of this bill is to cover that case particularly so that the property can be sold and his share of it used to cover the order granted by the Court. The wife in the case was left without any support whatever, having some seven or eight small children. I am not the author of the bill, it was proposed by an attorney in Clarion after a conference with Mr. Fertig, and he agreed with him that there was nothing on the records to cover a case of that kind.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Is the gentleman aware of the fact that there was an act of Assembly providing now that where the wife has brought suit for the support of a wife that the Courts may collect that from any real estate which the husband may have, notwithstanding the fact that he had fled the jurisdiction.

Mr. WILLIAM F. MARSHALL. I cannot answer that question, and I am not an attorney, but the gentleman who suggested this bill Mr. Geary, had a conference with Mr. Fertig and Mr. Fertig told him there was no existing act to cover this particular case.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—2.

Whitehouse,	Wood, N.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 46, as follows:

An Act to amend section two hundred and seventy-one of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two hundred and seventy-one of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 271 The township treasurer shall receive for his duties as treasurer and tax collector for the township a sum equal to three five per centum of all township taxes received or collected by him and in addition thereto a sum equal to one per centum on all other moneys received or collected by him for the township unless a different rate be fixed by ordinance of the township commissioners passed thirty days prior to his election

The compensation herein provided shall not be construed to change or decrease the compensation of any township treasurer in office at the date of the approval of this act

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I call to the attention of the sponsor of this bill on page 2, line 16, what is obviously a misprint, where it says the sum set aside for taxation is three five per cent. That might be thirty-five per cent., which is obviously not the intention of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 12, by striking out the underscoring under the word "five" and enclose the word "five" in ( )

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 849, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and ninety-two) entitled "An Act to provide Revenue by Taxation"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like at this time to register my protest against this bill. I think it is a pernicious measure. I think that it has no foundation in fact, and instead of doing the things it purports to do, it is an instrument that will give folks license to destroy the faith that was once permitted to the saints. I have no desire to clutter the calendar, or to fill the Journal, but I believe I am within my right, and I stand here tonight and enter a most solemn protest against this bill. It is not my fault, neither will I regard it as my misfortune, that I have been returned to this House at this session because of the fact that I am a minister of the gospel. We have lawyers in this House to whom we are glad to look for elucidation on a point affecting us in our deliberations. We are glad to listen to the men of science, and the representatives of the many professions. We are glad to take the advice of a practical road builder when we come to consider the question of road building, and I believe that the hour has struck when it behooves us, as intelligent men and women, to know what we are doing and to know whereon we are acting. We have during this very session of the legislature, enacted laws which compel people to put a label marked "Poison" on a bottle containing a deadly drug, and we would not stand it for a moment in any of our road building projects to have a bed of sand and loose stones. Neither am I willing to submit my right and that something should be put over on us on an occasion such as this, and we are using the argument of no one but the friends and the proponents of this bill to refute their very argument and give men something upon which they may base their hope of eternal life. We have, as we look to yonder ceiling, a motto there, inspired and glowing with letters of light, in which we are given to understand that , "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free."

It is my purpose tonight to explain some of the things that have been given to us by the friends of this measure, and to use God's word, that word which we all reverence, it matters not what our creed, it matters not what our profession, we have this word upon which the vast majority of the members of this House swore their allegiance not only to this Commonwealth, but also to the God who made it possible for them to stand forth in the courage of their convictions, and it is from that word that I would answer the arguments that have been advanced.

I hold in my hand here a small slip of paper. I have no reason to doubt but that everyone of you members received the same thing. It came in a communication from the friends of this bill, and I stand here before you tonight as a man who understands one thing, and I care not how much knowledge of the world I may possess, I know enough of those things to enable me to get through the world and successfully subdue any evil influence which may confront me, and I need not tell of the mediumistic methods of those who would traduce the faith and those who would trample it under their feet have they got the element of righteousness, morality and strict veracity. On this list which I hold before me at this time I have carefully analyzed every quotation. I have gone further than that and I have written them out, and I will tell you my friends if it were not so serious a matter, it would be perfectly laughable the arguments that seemingly intelligent people would try to foist on a credulous people.

There is not one scriptural quotation given on this list that holds any substantiation for this, or would foster such a measure as this. I have that list completely made out and for those of you who think it not too much bother to look over this list, it is yours for the reading. However, we turn to that same book and we find something different; we find something that is more real; we find something more direct, and as the Apostle Paul, he who is the friend of everyone of us no matter what our creed, a man who stood forth as he stood forth is entitled to the earnest consideration of the best minds in this and every other Commonwealth under the sun today, and that man who tells us in regard to the way that he defended the faith as we have it in the epistle to the Phillipians, the first chapter and the 17th verse, "I am set for the defense of the gospel". I have no reason for renouncing many of the things in this life, but I do know what it means to count the things which tend for the excellency of the knowledge of God, that makes me a better man and enables me to stand in this cavelling world and to defend this same faith that the apostle Paul undertook to defend, and I could give you this list which was given to us in God's word, the things not in ambigious terms, the things that we need not hide our face and blush at the mention of, and you can find here from this same word, it is told just as it is taken from the twentieth chapter of Leviticus, the twenty-seventh verse, "A man also or woman that hath a familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death," that is the exact wording. We will say that that is too far in the past. I tell you to my mind there is not a Hebrew among you, there is not a Roman catholic among you, there is not a so-called Protestant among you, that does not base his hope of eternal life on the law that is found in the book of Leviticus. It stands forth as the basis and foundation of all the jurisprudence that this world has ever known; and another thing it tells us here that even King Saul, that man who was given the privilege, the paramount privilege, even the first king, the man who had been selected by your God and mine, to bring a democracy, if you please, out of a chaotic population of the world at that time, no better than slaves, of no higher social type than the serf, as they had been in Egypt, the first time that God responded to their cry for a king and ruler he picked out a man, that walked in His way. Now, that you have become a man, that you have become so big that you have even followed the teachings of the Devil himself, as did our parents in Eden, when the devil said they shall not surely die, in the face of what God has told you, Saul followed that advice and he goes to the Endorian witch, one that had been privileged from the beginning of the world by God and God alone to bring up that man of all others, Samuel, the first one of whom we read in, God's word that had dealings with the ethereal world, the psychic, as men are pleased to call it this day, and we know that the three times that the spirit entered into the life of that man, every one of them had a definite purpose. Even his mother, when she was told that she was to bear that child and to bring him into the world, even then the purpose of God was manifest, and I tell you it is nothing short of blasphemy, nothing short of sacrilege to combine the name of Samuel with the nefarious teachings of this cult before us tonight. What do we find here? We find just this, that that man because of the fact that he went to that Endorian witch, God told him through the witch of that resurrected Samuel, that vision of the Samuel who was always speaking the word of God, as God gave him to do, He said, "Because you have done this your kingdom will be taken from you and given to a man that will walk in my ways," and such must be the end of any people or any nation, or any thickly populated country on the face of the earth which goes in the way of the people who are following after these things here. Who are these folks here? Who are these folks who are asking us for so much protection? If we want to class ourselves among them, let us go with them. In Berlin there are probably 10,000 spiritualists, many of them exalted and great personages. This was before the war, and there are lots more since the war, 400 mediums and from 15 to 20 societies. In North America there are said to be 16,000,000. While in the whole world it is computed that in 1894, there were 60 million modern spiritualists with two hundred journals exclusively devoted to the propaganda of this evil system. The number has grown considerably since. Add to this the humanized races of the heathen world, China, Japan and India, the ignorant tribes of Africa, the savage hordes of the Sedan, the cannibals of the South Sea islands and there we have it.

They have before us at this time a protest that is given by the Pennsylvania Spiritualist Association, and it is rot, the most contemptible rot that was ever put in the mails and sent to an intelligent constituency, and there is not one thing in it that would stand the test of sound resaoning. There is no one thing in it that we would like to teach our children, there is not one thing in it that we would like to have our children turn to and deny their faith in the kind and loving God who has promised to take care of us when we pass out of this world of sense, this world of sin, and as we read the testimony of the Apostle Paul, as you can read it in the 8th chapter of his epistle to the Romans, you can find out that there is absolutely no connection between the things that these, our friends, are advocating, and the things that make for eternal glory. These are the things that we must regard as the facts. I woud ask you to consider this for a moment. In this protest it says, "Whereas the founders of the Roman Catholic Church endorsed spirit communication," I would like to ask the friends, any of the friends of this measure, if they can stand up before an intelligent body of people such as we are and tell us who the founders of the Roman Catholic Church were, then we will tell them whether they were spiritualists or not. They tell us about John Wesley, founder of the great Methodist Church, that had conference with the invisible intelligence. I tell you, my dear friends, the Methodist Church would not be what it is today all over the world, if John Wesley had permitted himself to be carried away with this belief that is not founded on fact. This thing they would prove to you. Then with such an illustrious list of the distinguished scientists, philosophers, and statesmen, among whom were Swedenborg, Victor Hugo, and as you go down the list as you have access to here, I tell you men it is nothing more or less than a travesty on the integrity, and the intellectual development and the mental efficiency of those men to place them with those of this sect. I read here "that we do not want to be classified as fortune tellers." If they don't want to be classified with the fortune tellers, let them get out of the circle, for they tell us here, even in the amended bill as it is before us, they tell us that they are mediums and the word of God expressly tells us that we are to have absolutely nothing to do with mediums, and they have no standing in the sight of God, and they ought to have no standing where intelligence enters into consideration of the things of eternal life. I thank you.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker and members of this House. "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free". I hope that whatever I may say to you will have no malice, for when I felt once that my life was ebbing away, on one side of me was a Jew holding my right hand, and on the either side of me a Catholic was holding my left hand and God knows I loved them both then and I love them now, and never will I have in my heart either contempt or malice against someone who feels differently from what I do toward his Maker and his God. I hope I shall never again see any trace of it in any human heart, or hear any trace of it from any human voice.

This bill now before you is House Bill No. 756. It is intended to amend an act dated April 8, 1861. The amendment in this bill is asked for because, under the Act of 1861, the ministers and members of a religious body, known as the "Spiritualist Association", are arrested, fined, imprisoned and persecuted, while engaged in their religious worship, by over-zealous, irresponsible officers of the law and others, without reason or moral justice. This bill is not an effort to enact special legislation, but is intended to insure to a religious body and to all just inalienable rights under the Constitution of the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; the rights that you and I enjoy. The Universities dictionary of 1922 defines "Religion" as "Any system of faith or Worship." The very first amendment to the Constitution of the United States provides that "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The Constitution of Pennsylvania, Art. 1, Sect. 3, provides that "All men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own conscience," and further provides "No human authority can, in any case, whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience."

The Spiritualist Association is a religious body, and the "rights of conscience" of its members cannot be abridged. It is recognized as a religious body by the national and state governments in that it and its churches are exempt from income tax; ticket receipts for its entertainments are not taxed; its Church property is not subject to state or county tax.

During 1854, President Pierce was handed a memorial signed by 15,000 persons, asking that spiritualists be investigated by the national government. This was referred to the national House of Representatives, wherein there functioned a latent humorist, who offered a resolution to refer the memorial to the Committee on Foreign Relations. But, be it remembered, that this huromist later became an ardent spiritualist. He "went to scoff but remained to pray". It is an unfortunate habit to scoff and laugh at persons and principles with whom and which we do not agree. This habit is often born of prejudice and should be discouraged.

Spiritualists are loyal, patriotic citizens; their religion teaches the purest of morals; the highest ideals; is of so broad and beneficent a character that it may include any good man or woman of any faith; its object is to promote religion and morality, and it solemnly affirmes that the door of reformation is never closed to any human soul. It numbers thousands of adherents, among whom are all stations and occupations, and whom you and I might trust and call by the sacred name of friend.

This bill was referred back to the committee for amendment at the suggestion of the Spiritualist Association's representatives who desire that, when this bill becomes a law, it will protect the public against the fortune teller, fakir, and the rogue, as well as protect the Spiritualist Association, and all people in their constitutional religious rights.

This, I believe has been done to the satisfaction of all persons interested, and the amended, corrected bill is before you in satisfactory form.

I am not a spiritualist, but, no matter what I am, nor what you are, we are all jealous of our constitutional right to be what we are, and we have no right to deny these spiritualists the same religious freedom, under the law, that we enjoy.

We have not the constitutional right, and before high Heaven, we have not the moral right to deny these people the blessings provided by the Constitution. In our hearts there should be no prejudice. In our minds should glow the light of reason; the love of religious liberty for all.

We should pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 921, entitled:

An Act requiring persons and agencies engaged in child caring, child placing and child protection work to secure a certificate of approval from the Commissioner of Public Welfare; and regulating the placing out and care of children.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mrs. deYOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 12,—After the word "Welfare" insert the following: "Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to interfere in any way with the placement of any child or children by any court of record sitting as a Juvenile Court or otherwise"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

NAYS—1.

Post,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. EDMONDS.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 112, entitled:

An Act to amend section five of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities co-extensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorder in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" providing for the assessment of property and the collection of taxes interest and penalties in cases of the refusal or failure of taxables to make return and in the case of false or incomplete returns

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say just a few words in explanation of House Bill No. 112. While it is a tax bill, it does not create any tax, nor does it raise any tax rate. It proposes merely to put some men in the personal property tax law. As it is well known to the members of the House at the present time taxables are called upon to make a return of their personal property, subject to taxation. If they don't make the return, then the assessor makes a return for them, in which he guesses the amount. Now, this bill provides that when the assessor makes such a return it shall not stop the city or the local government in afterwards assessing the new tax against the taxable, with a penalty of fifty per cent and the interest; and, also, that this real tax shall be assessed, notwithstanding the fact that a year or so may have elapsed. In other words, this is one of the bills that intends to make the collection of this tax efficient. As it is now, the honest man makes this return and the man who wants to dodge the tax doesn't make his return; and after the assessor has once assessed the return against him, that ends the matter so far as he is concerned. If this bill should become a law, it would certainly make the people more careful to make a complete return and a true return to the tax assessors. For that reason the bill is introduced.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—166.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The lady will state her question of personal privilege.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker, a number of the members of the House, as well as the women members, have asked me to tell something of the trip we took to Washington last night upon a leave of absence granted by this House. We were invited to Washington by Hon. Clyde Kelly, Congressman from Allegheny County and president of the Pennsylvania Society, to be the guest of the Pennsylvania Society on Pennsylania Night at the annual meeting in connection with the Pennsylvania Night of the D. A. R. We arrived in Washington about 5:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon and went to the Shoreham Hotel, where the Hon. Mr. Kelly had arranged for a suite for us, and we proceeded to doll ourselves for the occasion. We used everything from real lace to rouge to make ourselves presentable, and believe me, when we started from the Shoreham Hotel, Solomon in all his glory and the queen of Sheba had nothing on us. We arrived at the Williard Hotel and Westmoreland County got into the game. We were beautifully entertained at dinner by Mrs. Wyant and Congressman Wyant of Westmoreland County at a beautiful dinner of fourteen covers, and we were the honor guests. After that we went to the ballroom, where we stood in the receiving line and shook hands with hundreds of people, Pennsylvanians, visiting in Washington, who were all very much honored and pleased to meet the Representatives from Pennsylvania. After that, we were marched across the hall to the assembly room. We thought we were going to sit in the boxes and watch the performance, but we found that we were not going to be allowed to sit in the boxes, in fact, we were the performers. When some of the women were told by Mr. Kelly that they were to make a five-minute speech, and they all said that they were not able to make a speech. I said, "Alright, but don't tell Mr. Kelly: I know he likes to make a speech himself, and he will take up all the time: Just look pleasant and don't say anything about it." Mr. Kelly said, when we told him that, "Nothing doing, you are on my program, and you just have to make the speeches." He said, "I will throw you into the breach because I know you like to talk," that is I, and the rest of you ladies will have to follow." I began the program and I thought of a very wonderful subject, and you will never guess what it was, so I will tell you. I talked about you, you wonderful men of the Pennsylvania Legislature. I told them that in spite of the things that were published in the papers about corrupt politics and gangs and machines and ignorance, the Pennsylvania Legislature on the contrary, that the men were on the job, they were reading the bills, they were enthusiastic about their own bills and interested in every other bill, and were interested in making good laws for the State of Pennsylvania, and I told them that the most delightful experience I ever had in my life was being a member of this House and that the men of this Assembly were the finest body of men I had ever met in my life. So after this, the other women followed along with similar speeches. Miss Bentley made a splendid speech, and Miss Gallaher and Mrs. De Young and Mrs. Speiser, and Miss Pitts, after having implored Mr. Kelly with tears in her eyes, not to call on her and after Mr. Kelly had with tears in his eyes insisted that she do so, until she almost made you think that she was deaf and dumb, didn't she get up and make a perfectly speech. After that, we danced a little bit and then we went home in the car of my own congressman, the Hon. Guy Campbell, and when we got back to the hotel, it surely was the end of a perfect day. Mr. Speaker, we seriously wish to express our appreciation of the privilege granted by this House. We tried to honorably represent this honorable body, and although I do say it myself, I think we made a hit.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the lady from Allegheny under her question of personal privilege, will be spread upon the Journal.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. BURD P. EVANS,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 139, entitled:

An Act to amend section ten of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 468) entitled, "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendent of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith, and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before this House on a previous occasion, and is simply an amendment to the present highway law. The amendment is to the effect that upon written request by the borough or town council, the Highway Department shall improve or reconstruct unimproved sections of the State highway which extend through the borough. My object in having this bill placed on the postponed calendar was in order that if any objections did occur, and I understood there were some objections in the State Highway Department, that those objections could be removed. The Commissioner of Highways sent his messenger to my desk and requested that I should come and see him. I did so, and all objections have been removed, so far as I know, with the State Highway Department. The Commissioner stated to me that he would be glad if this bill should pass and become a law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to .

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr Speaker, the bill we have before us, No. 170, is one of a series of bills that have been on the calendar for some weeks. I do not desire at this time to take up your time in explaining this bill, because it is so simple that everybody understands it fully. There are three or four bills following this that may come up at this time, and I want to say a word in connection with all of these bills. This bill is a constitutional amendment for the purpose of allowing us to use voting machines in Pennsylvania. This bill, if it becomes a law, will not compel any district to use voting machines unless they desire to have them. It simply makes it optional. It simply provides an amendment to the Constitution, making it possible for the use of voting machines in Pennsylvania. This bill has been brought forward at the request of a great many people in Pennsylvania who believe our Commonwealth will be served very materially by the use of these machines. I, likewise, as the lady said when she represented us in Washington, have nothing but the best to say of the men here. I make no charges against anybody, but I believe you will agree that we want to be in the forefront in everything worthwhile in our Commonwealth, and therefore, there is a strong desire by the people of Pennsylvania to have the apportunity if they see fit, to use the voting machine. This bill makes it possible for them to do that, but it does not compel them to have them. It is a local option matter with reference to these voting machines, therefore I do not see any reason why anybody should oppose this amendment. It is an amendment to the Constitution that will have to come before another Assembly in two years and then go before the people for their expression. I believe that the people of Pennsylvania are entirely able to decide for themselves whether their districts should have these voting machines or not. I, therefore, ask you to vote for the amendment.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I fully appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny county that he has the interest at heart of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I believe that every woman, and every member of this House has the same views as the gentleman from Allegheny. The voting machine, whether it has been successful in the past, is a very much mooted question, and with my little knowledge upon the subject, and whatever little efforts I have made to determine whether voting machines were successful, yet the fact remains that in the states of Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, Utah and Colorado they have been very unsuccessful. I do know from the reading of this bill whether it dispenses with election boards or not, but whether it does dispense with election boards or not, I believe that the laws already on the statute books are sufficient, adequate, and fully capable of supplying the rightful protection to the citizens who desire to exercise their right to vote.

This House has many bills on its calendar of an experimental character, and I believe it is the wish of those I know, and with whom I come into contact, that there is no occasion for legislation of this kind. Now even if they are successful, where is the money to come from to pay for them, where is the money to come from to experiment with them. Therefore I believe that under circumstances of this kind, this bill is still in its infancy and we have time to determine whether we want voting machines or not. I believe it would be for the best interest of those who have the interests of the Commonwealth at heart to vote this bill down.

Miss THOMAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, many women in Pennsylvania, and I think many men, and I am speaking now for the association of six groups of organized women, are interested in this bill. The Women's Legislative Council, which compose these State wide organizations put this subject on their program, and while I am not speaking in their behalf, I do want to call your attention to the fact that these six groups of women are interested in this bill and would like to see it become a law. These six groups include the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the State League of Women Voters, the Democratic women and the Republican women of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have so much respect for the judgment of the lady from Chester that it is with some hesitation that I rise at this time to speak against the bill which she favors. It has been my experience in coming in contact with ladies who are members of certain organizations that when I tell them of the many bills which those organizations favor, they marvel themselves; they never heard of them. I believe that much good can be accomplished by women's organizations, the same as men's organizations. From my own experience I find, however, that so many of these so-called up-lift organizations and women's political organizations, take unto themselves to support measures which they have not analyzed and have not considered. So far as the particular bill which we now have under discussion is concerned, and the bills which follow, mentioned by my colleague, Mr. Vickerman, as constitutional amendments, it seems that very often the excuse that is put forth for constitutional amendments when it lacks real merits, when it lacks fundamental support, is that this bill must again come before the next Legislature, and must again come before the people at large before it can become a law. In voting upon legislation, I believe that now is always the appointed time. We must consider whether voting machines meet with our approval or do not meet with our approval, for ultimately that is the final question on this bill. If we favor voting machines, then I say we should vote aye on this bill, but if we are opposed to voting machines then we should vote this bill down, and not bring it before another session of the Legislature and not expend the money required to put it before the people.

Now there are several reasons why voting machines are not to be countenanced, and some of these reasons are plain to view if you walk into the corridor of the building here, and if you walk into the corridor opposite the Senate. If any one of you men or women has gone into one of these machines and has attempted to manipulate it and you feel that such machines in your own election districts, in the cosmopolitan election districts in Pennsylvania are practical, if you feel that you can put these machines in your own election district and send men and women in to vote and they can operate these things and vote intelligently, then I say that your judgment on these machines entirely differs from mine. I stood before one of these machines for fifteen minutes and the machine was explained to me by a man whom I have learned to like,—he has been in the corridors here for some time and I do not want to interfere with his business,—he explained the things to me, and I believe it is not practical as I also believe that I have the ordinary amount of intelligence. I saw the ballow machine on the other side, and that was difficult to operate. Every time you take a machine of the kind and as complacated as this machine is and put it into the hands of people who have never before operated it, one of two things is going to happen, either the judge of election, who might possibly know the operation of the machine will be called upon to go in and vote for every person who wishes to vote, or someone will go in and cast the first ballot, and not knowing how to operate, will put the machine out of order, and in fact your election is out of order. The serious proposition is whether we are going to spend the millions of dollars required to put the machines into operation, but before that time you are going to spend the time and money to bring to another session of the Legislature this same bill and then submit it to the people. I say that isn't a sufficient excuse to pass a bill, without merit otherwise, to say that it must come before another session of the Legislature and after that must come before the people. As I said before, now is the appointed time. I do not think the voting machine is a practical proposition. I do not think it is a good thing, but I do think in the interests of time and better election and in the interests of more speedy elections, we should vote down this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, and members of this House when we vote on this bill, we are not voting at the present time whether the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall have voting machines, that is not the purpose of this. This is the first time the Legislature has acted upon this bill, two years from now it will be obliged to come before this Legislature again, and then it will come before the people of the Commonwealth to say whether or not they want the Constitution amended, not for the voting machine perhaps, but in some time in the distance, two, four or years after that if they have found out that the voting machine is the proper thing to have they can then come before the Legislature and ask the Legislature to pass a law that will give us a voting machine but that is away off in the distance; that is not clearing the deck and taking away the obstruction whereby the Legislature in the future may act. Now I have no doubt that the legislature in the next two, or four, or six, or eight years will be just as sensible as this Legislature is; will have just as good judgment as this Legislature, and if they do not think at that time that it is right to have a voting machine, as I do not think it is right at this time, I see no reason for taking away the objection. Let the people decide whether they want to remove this objection from the Constitution so that members of the Legislature may in the future sometime vote for them to have a voting machine. Now this is all that it is, and it seems to me we are doing a wrong thing when we say on a matter of this kind, when the people of Pennsylvania are just as equal, and just as intelligent and can vote just as intelligently as we can. Why on this question—why should we turn around and say to our constituents, "Now, we are going to act for you, and we are not going to give you the right to say by your ballot whether or not you want the constitution amended"?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. You speak of a voting machine in the hall of the Senate on the other side, have you reference to the one in the Senate?

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, that is a ballot machine.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. A voting machine you called it?

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, it is a voting machine, that is the machine that is being used to mark the ballot; it is in the reception room on the outside of the Senate chamber.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. You cannot term it a voting machine.

Mr. GOLDER. I would, yes, Mr. Armstrong. That is the machine that would be used in the polls in connection with the general voting. It is the machine, in which the ballot is placed and by the manipulation of handles you punch a hole through the small block next to the name of the candidate for whom you vote. It is to be used only in voting, voting in the general elections or any elections.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. That is correct, the manipulation as you say stated is correct, but that is not a voting machine. It is known as Sealpress, simply to mark the ballot so that that ballot and none other can be used for counting except the seal of the district is upon it, and also upon the punch that you punch the name out with, making it absolutely a valid ballot. It is not to be known as a voting machine under any circumstances.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Armstrong, call it whatever you will. It is a machine which is to be used in the marking of ballots in elections. Am I correct in that?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Yes, you are correct in that, but you are not correct in calling it a voting machine.

Mr. GOLDER. Is it not such a machine as is contemplated in this constitutional amendment?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. No sir, not necessarily.

Mr. GOLDER. Whether necessarily or not, is it not such a machine as is within the contemplation of this constitutional amendment?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. It is a machine for the purpose of protecting the ballot.

Mr. GOLDER. In elections?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. In elections.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, has stated precisely the question that is before us. The question is not shall we use voting machines in Pennsylvania; the question is, shall we clear the deck so that in case in the future some community or group of communities want voting machines, the way is clear so that the legislature may authorize it. Now, it seems to me that it is a perfectly clear cut proposition. The argument against it is that is complicated, that the average citizen will not be able to vote intelligently on that sort of machine. I can remember when those arguments were used in the establishment and substitution of the Australian ballot. There were a great many people that said the average voter is so unintelligent that you must give him a vest pocket ballot that he can put in his pocket when he goes to the polls to vote, at least if you didn't do that he would not know how to vote. Under the more complicated method which was adopted at the time Australian ballot went into use, or the blanket ballot went into use. My feeling is that the time will come that there will be such a mechanical device as will commend itself to the common sense of the people as a very quick and accurate method of recording votes. Now, when that time comes why should we put ourselves in the position of preventing a group of communities from experimenting with it? When that time comes some communities will want to first experiment with it and if they want to do it, why should not they be given the chance? As I understand the amendment, it merely clears the way to allow communities to use the voting machine when a voting machine comes along that they want.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 476.

An Act creating, regulating and defining the powers of a county Planning Commission and authorizing the creation of a county plan in counties of the second class requiring the county commissioners to furnish to the commission before passage; resolutions relating to county improvements to roads, lands, buildings or means of communications; authorizing the commission to report suggestions to the county commissioners concerning improvements and to appear in court with reference thereto; authorizing the making of a county map and plan, including territory extending three miles beyond the county limits, showing proposed improvements in roads, lands, buildings and means of communication.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title pages 1 and 2, by striking out in line 12, after the word "communication" the following: "making it unlawful to record plans of land with streets or highways intended for dedication to public use except in boroughs or cities without first securing approval from the commission and making disapproval of a plan by the commission a refusal of proposed dedication."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 8, by inserting after the word "county" the following: "four of whom shall be residents of the city or cities therein and five of whom shall be residents of the boroughs and townships therein"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?
